A THOUSAND SPORTS STAYED UP LATE TO SEE THE FIGHT

After Much Tribulation the Bout Came Off at 2:23 O'Clock This Morning, Lutz Winning in the Third Round.

"You're easy, if that is as hard as you can hit."

It was Ed. Bunting, of Wellsville, who spoke. His remark brought forth the applause of the Wellsville sports who were backing him against Lawrence Lutz, the Beaver Falls boxer, who is making his headquarters in this city.

It was a bad break and only made the Wellsville man's finish the more apparent. The remark was called forth in the latter part of the second round when Lutz tapped Bunting a light one. The remark was probably true. Lutz would have been easy, if that had been his hardest. But it wasn't, as was shown when he jumped to the center in the third round and planted a right jag at a point where Bunting wears his collar.

The Wellsville youth went over like a ten pin. He rose to his feet just in time to receive another of the same kind. Before he could fall, however, Lutz landed another which sent the pride of Wellsville reeling clear across the ring. He dropped at the ring side and was counted out by Referee Jack Foley, of Youngstown, amid the wild cheers of the backers of Lutz.

Diamond alley was a busy place from 9 o'clock last evening. The managers of the Lutz-Bunting bout were having trouble in securing suitable fighting grounds. An effort had been mode to secure Rock Springs park, but the management would not agree to this. Finally a point was selected on the east of the park, in the vicinity of the reservoir.

Arrangements were made to take the crowd to a point on the Southside street cars and shortly after 11 o'clock cars were drawn up in the Diamond bringing the dancers from the park and then in the neighborhood of 1,000 sports took passage for the scene of the battle.

That was only the beginning of the trouble for the spectators. No tools were on the ground for the leveling off of a suitable ring and after numerous delays the rope was finally streched in a depression which gave a view from the rising ground on each side. This satisfied the crowd, but it was very poor ground for the combatants.

Lutz was slow in putting in an appearance and Bunting's backers made a pretense of claiming the forfeitmoney when the midnight hour was passed, on the grounds that the fight was to take place on the 21st. This matter was dropped and then Lutz attempted to claim the forfeit for the reason that Bunting was over weight. Lutz weighed 135 1-4 pounds and Bunting was about 10 pounds heavier.

After the patience of the crowd had been taxed considerably the men consented to go on. Jack Foley was selected as referee and while this matter was being settled a large number of side bets were made. George Webb officiated as time keeper. The Wellsville people were backing their man, and were finding takers for all they could put up. It is estimated that $500 changed hands at the ring side.

Bunting won the toss and chose the northeast corner, which gave him the advantage on the uneven ground. At the call of time, 2:23 a. m., both men jumped eagerly to the center of the ring and sparred for an opening. Lutz finally led for the face with his left, and Bunting countered with his right to the ribs. This exchange was repeated several times during the first round, which ended with honors even.

Bunting seemed to be more confident in the second, and led several times for the body. Lutz, in attempting to escape one of these blows, slipped and fell to his knee and the Bunting crowd yelled. The Wellsville man then received a light tap on the neck, and he smiled and made the remark quoted at the opening of this report.

Lutz told the men in his corner that he would finish Bunting in the third, and he was not long in going about it. Bunting attempted to rush matters and received a jolt from Lutz's right in the neck. He went down in his own corner, but was up again in an instant. He appeared dazed from the blow, and was quickly floored by another in the neck. This blow sent him reeling across the ring, and he fell at the feet of the spectators and was counted out.

The defeated man recovered shortly after the decision had been given and was assisted to his corner by his backers. Neither of the boys showed much punishment. The crowd arrived in this city on six street cars which had been held for them, at 3 o'clock this morning.

MAKES COMPLAINT

WIFE OF EX-MAIL CARRIER SMITH TELLS SORRY TALE.

A Warrant Is Sworn Out for the Arrest of the Husband.

Mrs. Mae Smith, the wife of Charles Smith, formerly a mail carrier of the city, appeared at the office of Mayor Davidson this morning and related a story of grievances which were enough to set any ordinary woman on the verge of hysterics.

Mrs. Smith stated that her husband refused to support her and that he did everything in his power to prevent her earning her own living. She stated that last evening her husband appeared at her home, located between Sixth and Seventh streets, in a drunken condition.

According to the story told the mayor by the wife, Smith was not choice in the language he used both to her and the few boarders which she has. She finally swore out a warrant, charging Smith with drunkenness and disorderly conduct and the use of abusive language.

The warrant was issued and Smith will probably be arrested today. This is not the first time the husband has been accused of mistreating his family and, it is said it was his intemperate habits that caused his dismissal from the local mail carrier force. The neighbors in the vicinity of the home of the wife state that they will testify to his disorderly conduct.

BOARD ORGANIZED

Deputy Supervisors of Election Held Business Meeting at a Picnic.

At the Township Line picnic, which was held at McIntosh's grove yesterday, a meeting of the deputy state supervisors of election was held and every member was present with the exception of James N. Hanley, of this city, who had been clerk of the board for a number of years. He was absent on business. All the members of the old board were present, and in the place of Mr. Hanley, Mr. Beacom acted as clerk.

There was not much business for the members to transact, other than to reorganize, and this was done by the election of George S. Walton, of Salem, Democrat, as permanent clerk. To the office of chief deputy, J. A. Martin, Republican, of Lisbon, was elected.

The next meeting of the board will be held at Lisbon September 6.

MARSHALL-KNOWLES

Wedding of Much Local Interest to Be Quietly Celebrated Next Week.

Invitations have been issued announcing the marriage of Homer Knowles and Miss Alma Marshall, which is to take place Wednesday, August 27, at high noon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Marshall, of the Southside.

Owing to a recent death in the Knowles family the affair will be robbed of much of its intended splendor, and only the families and intimate friends of the young people will be present.

HUCKLE'S BAD FIX

Man Well Known Here Collides With Jersey Laws and Is a Fugitive.

William Huckle, well known in East Liverpool through his attempt to lead a crusade on behalf of good government in this city some seven years ago, has got into bad repute in New Jersey. Just now he is reported busily engaged in dodging the officers of that state in an endeavor to keep himself out of prison for blackmail. A special from Newark, N. J., tells the story, sating that Huckle and a woman named Gaddis have been at work in various sections of that state. The evangelist is reported to have had a difficulty with a German woman and as a result to have received a beating while the woman who was with him lost some of her jewelry.

For several weeks the dispatch says Huckle was on very friendly terms with Newark liquor dealers. It is charged that he agreed not to molest them for Sunday selling if they assisted him financially. He had one man arrested but withdrew the charge before the payment of fine and costs, $5.40.

It is claimed he wanted to raise $40 a short time ago, after having been disappointed in the proceeds of a lecture he delivered in Newark, and made demands on officers of the liquor dealers' association. He was paid $20 in the saloon of Secretary Hayes of the association, in marked bills, and his arrest followed. He was locked up, but released after five hours, it being discovered that no warrant had been issued or formal complaint made.

Next a complaint charging black mail and false pretense was drawn up and a warrant issued for Huckle's arrest.

The special says that complaints which were entered by Huckle against two saloon men were withdrawn after $5.40 had been paid to the justice and to Huckle. The liquor dealers' association passed a resolution warmly denouncing Huckle.

Huckle left Newark and failed to appear when 14 complaints brought by him as agent of the anti-saloon league, charging Sunday selling, were to be tried. This, it is said, is the first time he has failed to appear on such an occasion. There are a number of other complaints for a hearing on the 24th, but Huckle is not expected to appear. He is the complainant in 15 cases in New Brunswick, N. J., which are now likely never to be heard.

WOMEN ARE OUT UPON A STRIKE

THEIR LOCAL TAKES ACTION

Claim That They Are Entitled to Extra Pay for Certain Class of Work. Matters Brought to an Issue Last Night.

The women employed in the glost warehouse at the Goodwin Pottery company plant are out on a strike. The girls were ordered out at the regular meeting of the Warehousewomen's local last evening. The trouble has been brewing for some time.

The women claim that they have the dressing of the kilns by the piece, and that they are entitled to extra days the same as the glost kilnmen when extra pin ware is placed in the kiln.

The matter was reported to the Brotherhood officials and they were unable to reach an agreement with the members of the Goodwin firm. At a special meeting last Saturday evening a committee was appointed from the warehousewomen's local to meet with the members of the firm, but they could not secure an audience, they say.

The action of the women last evening will have the effect of bringing matters to an issue. It is the custom at other plants to give the girls additional pay for additional pin ware in the kilns.

The members of the firm stated positively that there was no trouble at their plant.

BOYS FOUND BEGGING

East Liverpool Youths Who Ran Away Stranded at Irondale.

The police authorities receivede notice this morning of the appearance at Irondale of four youths who hail from East Liverpool. The boys were of tender years and they were begging their breakfast.

It was thought they had left home without the consent of their parents and notice was sent here of their whereabouts. The boys said they were on their way to Salineville.

Hospital Lots Sold.

Two of the hospital lots were sold this morning, and the indications are that all will be disposed of in a short time by some one of the real estate men interested. The prices have been fixed at a figure that will enable anyone desiring an investment to make something. The lots are well located and the prices are reasonable.

THE NASH CODE AGAIN CHANGED

Under It Towns of 5,000 Population Will Become Cities.

RICHARDS FOR GOVERNOR

It Is Said the Solicitor General Will Resign to Run for That Office—Sunday Scholl Association Officers' Tour of Ohio.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 22.—Governor Nash made several amendments to his code bill yesterday, one of them being the changing of the dividing line between cities from 10,000 to 5,000. Five thousand seems to be the popular mark. It is also reported the governor has stricken out from the code all that part relating to registration, boards of equalization, assessment of property and the election laws. In line with the suggestion of Justice Shauck, it is said the governor will recommend in his message to the legislature that three bi-partisan commissions be appointed to draft school and election laws and to formulate a salary bill for county officers. Representative Pollock, of Stark county, was in the city yesterday and stated that he favored the passage of a school code and all other matters which need attention at the special session. He is a candidate to succeed Senator George H. Wilhelm. He was the labor representative on the floor of the house both in the recent session and the preceding one.

Hon. Clement L. Brumbaugh, of Darke county, leader of the minority in the house, today issued a signed statement in which he expressed approval of the Nash code. He believes it to be drawn in the interest of the whole state, says it should and will pass and promises to do all in his power to bring this about. He declares politics should not enter into its consideration.

Statistics prepared in the office of the secretary of state for the year ending June 30 show that 13,504 prisoners were confined in the county jails, a decrease of 273 compared with the preceding year. Of these 8,638 were born in Ohio; 3,143 in other states; 443 in Germany; 365 in Ireland; the total foreign born being 1,725. The prisoners under age numbered 1,926. It cost $115,361.87 to keep them, about $15,000 less than for the year before.

The Ohio Sunday School association this week began in inspiritional tour which will include visits to all the county Sunday school associations in the state. The officials hope to attend all the county gatherings and will make tours in the fall and spring. This is the initial trip. The adoption of the plan was largely through the efforts of Rev. J. A. Platts, now pastor of a Presbyterian church in Allegheny, who was formerly secretary of the East Liverpool Y. M. C. A. Rev. F. F. Fitch, of Tontogany, has succeeded him on the state association. The date for visiting Columbiana county has not yet been announced.

The cause assigned for the prospective resignation of Hon. J. K. Richards, solicitor general general of the United States, is that he intends to return to Ohio and be a candidate for governor. This statement is made on the authority of Richards' father-in-law, of Ironton. It is denied that he intends to form a law parnership with Abner McKinley.

Captain A. W. Stiles, superintendent of the Girls' Industrial Home, who was charged with treating the inmates inhumanely, has tendered his resignation, to take effect October 1.

A traveling library of 27 volumes has been sent from the state library to the Thursday Reading club, of Leetonia, of which Mabel B. Harper is librarian.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

President Nice Will Try to Get It Together And Down to Business.

President Nice, of the finance committee, has called a meeting of that body for Monday afternoon at 2:30.

There are a number of matters which the committee should have considered some time ago, but it has been impossible to get the body together.

A member of the finance committee stated this morning that, while the city had very little money to look after at present, there were other duties requiring its attention almost constantly. "We might just as well have no finance committee," said he, "if we don't get down to business and do something. The committee has done nothing aside from fixing the tax levy, and we had a hard time interesting a sufficient number of members to do that. There is not a more important department in the entire city government, and it should be looked after more promptly."

PROGRESS OF CADIZ

Harry B. McConnell, editor of the Cadiz Republican, was in the city yesterday. Mr. McConnell is about to become the owner of the Republican, which is one of the most prominent of the weekly publications of the state. He is a young man and has been engaged in the newspaper business for a number of years in Harrison county. Mr. McConnell said in speaking of Cadiz:

"We have four banks and two of them have over $1,000,000 on deposit in each. There are two gas companies supplying the town, and the population is about 2,000. For its size, Cadiz is certainly more advanced than East Liverpool.

VIOLENTLY INSANE

A Wellsville Man Who Is to Have a Hearing Before Judge Boone.

Lisbon, August 22. — (Special) — Amos Russell, of Wellsville, who is violently insane, will be brought before Judge Boone this afternoon for examination.

Local Reorganized.

President A. S. Hughes, of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, went to Tiltonville yesterday afternoon, where he last evening reorganized local No. 14. This local has been dead for some time, but now that the shop has been started under new management and is running full the old local was reorganized. The local starts off with a good membership.

Pittsburgers Wedded Here.

John J. Lutz and Miss Olive C. Frommeyer, both of Pittsburg, came to this city this week and for several days have been visiting at the home of friends. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon they appeared at 'Squire Rose's and were made man and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Lutz will leave for their home in Pittsburg this evening. He is proprietor of a billiard room in that city.

WILL CONTEST IS INSTITUTED

Case at Trenton In Which an East Liverpool Man Is Interested.

GROUNDS OF COMPLAINT

Charging that their sister, Mrs. Eliza Ella Rees, of Trenton, had exerted undue influence upon her father, George H. Slack, in securing a conveyance of his property in Trenton, George W. Slack, of Trenton, N. J., and Robert M. Slack, superintendent of the decorating department of the D. E. McNicol pottery of this city, at Trenton Wednesday began suit in the court of chancery to have the conveyance set aside.

The suit brought by the two brothers against their sister, according to the facts alleged in the bill of complaint, was the outcome of a continued effort on the part of Mrs. Rees to have herself made the sole heir of her parents, with whom she formerly lived on Bayard street, Trenton.

The father, George H. Slack, died last week, surviving his wife, Mrs. Sarah C. Slack, but six days. For more than four years prior to his death, according to the bill, Mr. Slack was in ill health, being easily excitable, exceedingly nervous and rendered mentally irresponsible by reason of his health.

For several months prior to his death, Mr. Slack, who was 68 years old, was unable to care for himself, and it is alleged that for several weeks before the end came his daughter, Mrs. Rees, sought to influence him to dispose of the property so that she would be the sole beneficiary, instead of sharing the estate with her brothers, as the heirs at law, should her father die intestate.

It is narrated in the bill that a few months before her father died Mrs. Rees visited his home on Bayard street when her mother was ill. Upon Mr. Slack learning that his daughter had procured a will from her mother by which she would be sole beneficiary in the event of his dying before his wife, it is alleged that he ordered his daughter from the house.

It is further charged that in the month of June Mrs. Rees, without the knowledge of her brother, George W. Slack, caused her father and mother to be removed from their home on Bayard street to her home at 278 Bellevue avenue. One week later, it is alleged, Mrs. Rees sought to have her mother committed to the state hospital above Trenton as a county or pauper patient, despite the fact that Mr. Slack, Sr., was well able to provide for his wife. This, it is charged, was in furtherance of her scheme to possess herself of all the estate of her parents.

George W. Slack, learning from his father of the attempt to have his mother so committed, protested, but consented to her confinement as a paid patient.

A week ago last Sunday, the day before Mrs. Slack was buried, Mr. Slack called his son to him and, referring to the death of their mother and the near approach of his own death, said:

"Robert, whatever happens to me, now that your mother is dead, I want to tell you that I intend that you three children shall get an equal share when I am gone."

The next day the senior Mr. Slack was taken violently ill at the home of his daughter, and it is alleged that his daughter procured the services of Henry D. Phillips, a lawyer, directing him to draw a deed conveying to her all the real estate owned by her father. The deed, it is set forth, was executed late that night, the expressed consideration being "one dollar and affection." It is charged that Mr. Slack was not of sound mind when he signed the conveyance and that his signature was procured by fraud and misrepresentation on the part of his daughter.

It is declared in the bill that in her efforts to influence her dying father, Mrs. Rees told him that his sons had defrauded him; that his son George had taken advantage of him in his business, and that they had refused

It cost $115,361.87 to keep them, about $15,000 less than for the year before.

The Ohio Sunday School association this week began in inspiritional tour which will include visits to all the county Sunday school associations in the state. The officials hope to attend all the county gatherings and will make tours in the fall and spring. This is the initial trip. The adoption of the plan was largely through the efforts of Rev. J. A. Platts, now pastor of a Presbyterian church in Allegheny, who was formerly secretary of the East Liverpool Y. M. C. A. Rev. F. F. Fitch, of Tontogany, has succeeded him on the state association. The date for visiting Columbiana county has not yet been announced.

The cause assigned for the prospective resignation of Hon. J. K. Richards, solicitor general general of the United States, is that he intends to return to Ohio and be a candidate for governor. This statement is made on the authority of Richards' father-in-law, of Ironton. It is denied that he intends to form a law parnership with Abner McKinley.

Captain A. W. Stiles, superintendent of the Girls' Industrial Home, who was charged with treating the inmates inhumanely, has tendered his resignation, to take effect October 1.

A traveling library of 27 volumes has been sent from the state library to the Thursday Reading club, of Leetonia, of which Mabel B. Harper is librarian.

President Nice Will Try to Get It Together And Down to Business.

President Nice, of the finance committee, has called a meeting of that body for Monday afternoon at 2:30.

There are a number of matters which the committee should have considered some time ago, but it has been impossible to get the body together.

A member of the finance committee stated this morning that, while the city had very little money to look after at present, there were other duties requiring its attention almost constantly. "We might just as well have no finance committee," said he, "if we don't get down to business and do something. The committee has done nothing aside from fixing the tax levy, and we had a hard time interesting a sufficient number of members to do that. There is not a more important department in the entire city government, and it should be looked after more promptly."

Harry B. McConnell, editor of the Cadiz Republican, was in the city yesterday. Mr. McConnell is about to become the owner of the Republican, which is one of the most prominent of the weekly publications of the state. He is a young man and has been engaged in the newspaper business for a number of years in Harrison county. Mr. McConnell said in speaking of Cadiz:

"We have four banks and two of them have over $1,000,000 on deposit in each. There are two gas companies supplying the town, and the population is about 2,000. For its size, Cadiz is certainly more advanced than East Liverpool.

VIOLENTLY INSANE

A Wellsville Man Who Is to Have a Hearing Before Judge Boone.

Lisbon, August 22. — (Special) — Amos Russell, of Wellsville, who is violently insane, will be brought before Judge Boone this afternoon for examination.

Local Reorganized.

President A. S. Hughes, of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, went to Tiltonville yesterday afternoon, where he last evening reorganized local No. 14. This local has been dead for some time, but now that the shop has been started under new management and is running full the old local was reorganized. The local starts off with a good membership.

Pittsburgers Wedded Here.

John J. Lutz and Miss Olive C. Frommeyer, both of Pittsburg, came to this city this week and for several days have been visiting at the home of friends. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon they appeared at 'Squire Rose's and were made man and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Lutz will leave for their home in Pittsburg this evening. He is proprietor of a billiard room in that city.

WILL CONTEST IS INSTITUTED

GROUNDS OF COMPLAINT

Charging that their sister, Mrs. Eliza Ella Rees, of Trenton, had exerted undue influence upon her father, George H. Slack, in securing a conveyance of his property in Trenton, George W. Slack, of Trenton, N. J., and Robert M. Slack, superintendent of the decorating department of the D. E. McNicol pottery of this city, af Trenton Wednesday began suit in the court of chancery to have the conveyance set aside.

The suit brought by the two brothers against their sister, according to the facts alleged in the bill of complaint, was the outcome of a continued effort on the part of Mrs. Rees to have herself made the sole heir of her parents, with whom she formerly lived on Bayard street, Trenton.

The father, George H. Slack, died last week, surviving his wife, Mrs. Sarah C. Slack, but six days. For more than four years prior to his death, according to the bill, Mr. Slack was in ill health, being easily excitable, exceedingly nervous and rendered mentally irresponsible by reason of his health.

For several months prior to his death, Mr. Slack, who was 68 years old, was unable to care for himself, and it is alleged that for several weeks before the end came his daughter, Mrs. Rees, sought to influence him to dispose of the property so that she would be the sole beneficiary, instead of sharing the estate with her brothers, as the heirs at law, should her father die intestate.

It is narrated in the bill that a few months before her father died Mrs. Rees visited his home on Bayard street when her mother was ill. Upon Mr. Slack learning that his daughter had procured a will from her mother by which she would be sole beneficiary in the event of his dying before his wife, it is alleged that he ordered his daughter from the house.

It is further charged that in the month of June Mrs. Rees, without the knowledge of her brother, George W. Slack, caused her father and mother to be removed from their home on Bayard street to her home at 278 Bellevue avenue. One week later, it is alleged, Mrs. Rees sought to have her mother committed to the state hospital above Trenton as a county or pauper patient, despite the fact that Mr. Slack, Sr., was well able to provide for his wife. This, it is charged, was in furtherance of her scheme to possess herself of all the estate of her parents.

George W. Slack, learning from his father of the attempt to have his mother so committed, protested, but consented to her confinement as a paid patient.

A week ago last Sunday, the day before Mrs. Slack was buried, Mr. Slack called his son to him and, referring to the death of their mother and the near approach of his own death, said:

"Robert, whatever happens to me, now that your mother is dead, I want to tell you that I intend that you three children shall get an equal share when I am gone."

The next day the senior Mr. Slack was taken violently ill at the home of his daughter, and it is alleged that his daughter procured the services of Henry D. Phillips, a lawyer, directing him to draw a deed conveying to her all the real estate owned by her father. The deed, it is set forth, was executed late that night, the expressed consideration being "one dollar and affection." It is charged that Mr. Slack was not of sound mind when he signed the conveyance and that his signature was procured by fraud and misrepresentation on the part of his daughter.

It is declared in the bill that in her efforts to influence her dying father, Mrs. Rees told him that his sons had defrauded him; that his son George had taken advantage of him in his business, and that they had refused

EAST LIVERPOOL'S WHIRLWIND START

SOMETHING WAS WRONG

Bauman, the Crack Pitcher for the Visitors, Failed to Fool the Locals. Maley Pitched a Fine Game—Score, 9 to 1.

His name is Bauman, or he may spell it Bowman under certain conditions. It is safe to say that he would like to have it used in the manner he is not so well known by. When he isn't doing anything else he occupies the rubber for the crack—this is used on the authority of almost any of the Pittsburg papers—Homestead base ball team. Something must have been radically wrong yesterday afternoon. The young man who gave the appearance at the beginning of the game of being too valuable to even lose any of his energy in stooping to pick up a ball was unable to tell just exactly which state he was in after the locals came to bat in the first inning.

It was some time before the pitcher, who is claimed to be the best in western Pennsylvania—according to the papers above referred to—was able to find the plate. As soon as he was able to do this the members of the local team had fathomed his curves and found the ball about as often as he found the plate.

Seven runs and five hits were all that were rapped out and brought in before there was even a single out, and the crowd was in its glory. And there was a good crowd in attendance and not slow to tell the visitors what they thought of their playing. Even after Bauman settled down his support was very bad and he could not have been blamed if he had gone up in the air; but he didn't, and after the first inning it was a good game with the exception of several punky plays on the part of the visitors.

and let Homestead down with four hits. The only score made by the visitors was in the third inning. Davis erred on McCloskey's grounder and the latter stole second and scored on a two-base hit by Nagle. Before and after that it was almost one, two, three order, as Maley was given the best of support throughout the game.

The slaughter of the innocents began with Maag, the first man up for the locals. He rapped out a pretty single. Maag then beat out the ball in an attempt to force him at second when Godwin hit to the pitcher. Brown was hit by a pitched ball and the bases were filled. Davis also managed to get in front of the ball and the first run was forced in. "Foxy Grandpa" then made good with a long single and Godwin and Brown scored.

Reark was not to be outdone and landed for two bases and two more runs were added. Reark then scored on Webb's single and the latter stole second and third just to get Bauman in a good humor. Webb scored on a two-bagger by Emmerling and the run getting was over for that inning. Maley and Maag struck out and Godwin was thrown out at first.

Bauman then settled down and the locals did not score again until the seventh inning, when with two out Reark went to first on an error by the shortstop. Webb then hit a high fly which all the Homestead players seemed to want, with the usual result that no one got it and Reark scored.

Let's see. It now stands, Homestead 2, East Liverpool 2. That's not so bad when the visitors took two straight from Atlantic City.

Newspaper base ball and the kind that is played on the diamond are not the same.

Fred Brown, of Beaver Falls, who has done good work on the Rochester team, was in left for the locals and gave a good account of himself. He picked off a nice long fly that would have been good for at least two bases.

Maag was in the game again and put up his usual first-class playing. He prevented Emmerling from scoring in the third inning, however, when he cut first and was called out after making a clean single.

Marshall appeared to be the especial kick of the kidders, but he was able to take it good naturedly.

Bauman would be more thought of if he would forget that the grand stand was on the field. The locals almost made him wish it was, in the first inning.

Finch umpired a good game and it was very few times that his decision was questioned by the fans.

Maley was in the best of condition

Maag's error was made on a throw to first after making a difficult stop.

Winters will be in the box this afternoon and he is expected to follow Maley's example.

The Sum of $5,000 Is Demanded of a Hotel Proprietor's Wife.

Steubenville, August 22.—Mrs. Tennie C. Kibbler is plaintiff in a suit for $5,000 damages against Mrs. Mollie Kelly, wife of Landlord Kelly, of the Anderson hotel. Mrs. Kibbler worked at the hotel. Last Saturday she wanted to take her trunk away, when there was objection and a fight followed. Mrs. Kibbler was struck over the arm with a club and terribly beaten. With her bruises undressed she went to the mayor's office and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Kelly. Later the hotel proprietress was taken before the mayor and bound over to court in the sum of $200.

Two hours later Mrs. Kelly had Mrs. Kibbler arrested in 'Squire Love's court for various charges, including disorderly conduct. She was kept in jail until Sunday morning, when she was released.

Mrs. Kibbler, through Attorney Medill, filed a claim for damages against Mrs. Kelly.

FOR A BEATING

Steubenville, August 22.—Mrs. Tennie C. Kibbler is plaintiff in a suit for $5,000 damages against Mrs. Mollie Kelly, wife of Landlord Kelly, of the Anderson hotel. Mrs. Kibbler worked at the hotel. Last Saturday she wanted to take her trunk away, when there was objection and a fight followed. Mrs. Kibbler was struck over the arm with a club and terribly beaten. With her bruises undressed she went to the mayor's office and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Kelly. Later the hotel proprietress was taken before the mayor and bound over to court in the sum of $200.

Two hours later Mrs. Kelly had Mrs. Kibbler arrested in 'Squire Love's court for various charges, including disorderly conduct. She was kept in jail until Sunday morning, when she was released.

Mrs. Kibbler, through Attorney Medill, filed a claim for damages against Mrs. Kelly.

East End Horses Conspicuous In the Races Run Near East Palestine.

Much interest is manifested in the East End over the races which are being run at the Petersburg track, near East Palestine, and in which several horses from the Columbian park track have been entered. In the 2:20 race at this track yesterday afternoon, Robert L., owned by William Larkins, of this city, won the event, his time being quoted at 2:22. In another race the horse, Dr. Morris was entered, and reports received in the East End last evening give that event to him, making two races won by horses from the East End.

Robert L. was driven by William Humble of this city. The races will close this afternoon, and the three horses from the East End who are now at the Petersburg track, are expected to arrive in the East End tomorrow.

To Build Temporary Stalls.

The contract for the erection of a large number of stalls at the Columbian park race track to be used during the Tri-State fair which will be held there in October was let yesterday, but the work of building them will not commence for several weeks yet. On one side of the track there will be 38 stalls, while in another part of the park about 77 will be built. The stalls will have a canvas top cover, and will be more of the skeleton order, unlike those now at the park. They will be used for a week only.

Widening the Road.

The work of filling in the river bank at the power house, for the purpose of widening the road, will be finished within a week. It will take about this time to complete the excavating for the new plant to be erected by the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company, and all the filling-in is the earth taken from the excavating. When this task is completed, the street railway company may straighten its tracks at this point and enlarge its switching capacity at the car barn.

No Word From Steubenville.

Members of street railway employes division No. 52 are wondering why they have received no work from the officers of the new local at Steubenville relative to the settlement of the recent dispute between the company and the men, if the disqute has been adjusted. The local street railway men claim they did so much for the new local, assisting in organization, it was as little as they could do to send some word as to how they were progressing.

O. U. A. M. Meeting.

Those candidates who were to be initiated by Ohio Valley council No. 25, O. U. A. M., last evening, failed to appear to go through the work. Several applications for membership were presented and the meeting was a very interesting one. The committee revising the by-laws made a report, but its work is not yet completed.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Fetty, of Dixonville, yesterday.

Ned Mowen left yesterday for Deerfield to visit old friends.

The next meeting of the session of the Second U. P. church will be held early next month.

Harold, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Lot Haney, of First avenue, is quite ill, and it is feared he has pneumonia.

The Misses Lizzie and Julia Brown, of Beaver, are spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hays, of Erie street.

LAMB CAVE TESTIMONY.

Bourke Cockran, He Alleged, Was One Plaintiff In Merger Suit.

New York, Aug. 22.—Lawyer George Alfred Lamb, attorney for Peter Power, went on the stand yesterday and told all he knew about the Northern Pacific merger suit. He named the men who, with Power as plaintiff and Captain Henry Stern as go-between, he said, had hoped to conceal their connection with the litigation and keep their identity hidden. Those he named were: W. Bourke Cockran, Camille Weidenfeld, H. Tonent & Co. and Edwin R. Thomas, of the firm of Thomas & Post, Wall street bankers and brokers.

The story of Power's wandering came out and a plan to send him to Europe was revealed, as was his quasi connection with the suit at issue. Lamb said that he was practically forced by the people back of him to send Power away and that they paid the expenses of his trip to West Hurley and to Montreal.

W. Bourke Cockran, in an interview last night, characterized all the testimony relating to him as false in every detail.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Michigan City, Ind., Aug. 21.—The thirty-sixth biennial convention of the Evangelical Lutheran joint synod of Ohio and other states, an organization that embraces all the states of the union, began in this city yesterday and will end Aug. 27. Three hundred delegates are in attendance. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. C. H. Schutte, D. D., of Columbus, O., president of the synod. The convention considered the affairs of the eleemosnary institutions and the board of aid, the latter for the support of needy pastors and teachers.

The synod owns and supports the Capital University and Seminary, of Columbus, O.; the Lutheran seminary at St. Paul, Minn.; Teachers' seminary at Woodville, O.; the Preparatory school at Hickory, N. C.; the Wernie Orphans' home at Richmond, Ind., and is at present erecting an Old Folks' home at Mars, Pa. The synod passed a resolution providing that pastors and teachers shall contribute 1 per cent of their salaries to the board of aid, and that the congregations shall be asked for annual offerings for the use of the board.

Robert G. Green, formerly of Lisbon, and for several years a member of the Alliance police force, has received notice to report at once at Baltimore to accept a position on the detective force of the B. & O.

Rev. Alfred Walls, formerly of Steubenville, who is now assistant pastor of Epworth Memorial M. E. church in Cleveland, is creating quite a stir in that city by a series of discourses on the problems of capital and labor.

The trustees of the Western Reserve seminary of West Farmington are considering the advisability of discontinuing the school. It is one of the oldest institutions in northern Ohio, but of late years has been a losing venture.

Joseph Neagle, aged 21, engineer of a "dinkey" engine on the Wabash construction line, across the river from Mingo Junction, was so badly injured that he lived but a few minutes. His engine went over the bank and he with it.

Over 300 men are daily employed at work on the several Wooster university buildings, where the very best of structures of brick, stone and iron are building in fine architectural designs at a cost of $400,000 for material and labor.

SPECULATIVE LIQUIDATION.

Active In Yesterday's Stock Market. Selling Movement Urgent at Close.

New York, Aug. 22.—Active speculative liquidation became manifest in yesterday's stock market and at the close the selling movement was urgent and somewhat precipitated. During the earlier part of the day some stand was made against the tendency to depression, and a few stocks were pushed up at different times as sustaining influence on the market, but the selling to realize elsewhere in the market was steadily going on all the time. With the exception of Texas and Pacific and Ontario and Western the other demonstrations of strength were in minor railroad and industrial stocks. The acute weakness of Colorado Fuel, which carried it down in the slate dealings 8 points, was also an unsettling influence upon the whole market. The failure of the speculative operator who has led the advance in the stock to obtain control of the property has resulted in heavy speculative liquidation.

Extravagant as were the expectations as to the promptitude and extent of the measures which Mr. Morgan would take to improve the situation, there was some disappointment yesterday morning over the delay. The hope seemed to be that Mr. Morgan's hurried visit to his office immediately upon landing from the steamer would result in the settlement offhand of all the various problems which have accumulated during his absence of several months.

Wednesday's professed confidence in the abundance of funds for speculative purposes was changed yesterday. The engagement Wednesday night of $100,000 by telegraphic transfer through the sub-treasury to Cincinnati came too late for effect upon the stock market. That shipment was supplemented yesterday by another one of $100,000 to New Orleans, and the fear was awakened that the interior movement of currency has fairly set in.

SPECULATIVE LIQUIDATION.

Active In Yesterday's Stock Market. Selling Movement Urgent at Close.

New York, Aug. 22.—Active speculative liquidation became manifest in yesterday's stock market and at the close the selling movement was urgent and somewhat precipitated. During the earlier part of the day some stand was made against the tendency to depression, and a few stocks were pushed up at different times as sustaining influence on the market, but the selling to realize elsewhere in the market was steadily going on all the time. With the exception of Texas and Pacific and Ontario and Western the other demonstrations of strength were in minor railroad and industrial stocks. The acute weakness of Colorado Fuel, which carried it down in the slate dealings 8 points, was also an unsettling influence upon the whole market. The failure of the speculative operator who has led the advance in the stock to obtain control of the property has resulted in heavy speculative liquidation.

Extravagant as were the expectations as to the promptitude and extent of the measures which Mr. Morgan would take to improve the situation, there was some disappointment yesterday morning over the delay. The hope seemed to be that Mr. Morgan's hurried visit to his office immediately upon landing from the steamer would result in the settlement offhand of all the various problems which have accumulated during his absence of several months.

Wednesday's professed confidence in the abundance of funds for speculative purposes was changed yesterday. The engagement Wednesday night of $100,000 by telegraphic transfer through the sub-treasury to Cincinnati came too late for effect upon the stock market. That shipment was supplemented yesterday by another one of $100,000 to New Orleans, and the fear was awakened that the interior movement of currency has fairly set in.

The effort which is being made in certain quarters to enable the Democrats to pool issues of the labor unions of the Eighteenth district and secure the support of the latter for a Democratic candidate for congress has not received the approval of the Trades and Labor council of this city and it is altogether unlikely that it will do so. The labor unions of East Liverpool are largely made up of Republicans. They recognize the fact that the workingmen of this district owe none of their prosperity to the Democrats and a great deal to the Republicans. They are intelligent men and will not support a party that is hostile to the protective tariff and the workingmen's interests. The Democratic scheme is foredoomed to failure. Commenting on it the Youngstown Telegram has the following, which represents the labor sentiment of East Liverpool as well as it does that of Youngstown: "The Democratic party of the Eighteenth district, being too cowardly to make a fight in the open on issues of the day, is trying to persuade union labor to draw Democratic chestnuts from the fire. It is well that the scheme is known at this early date, for publicity is certain to destroy the schemes of these cheap politicians. The workingmen of Youngstown and the Eighteenth district will not be fooled by this Democratic dodge. The Republican party has been true to them."

The legislature is almost ready to meet to discuss code legislation. So far East Liverpool has made no formal declaration of what she considers desirable in the way of laws under which the city is to be governed. Most people appear to be satisfied that the legislature, with the Nash bill as a guide, will enact a wise and proper measure. Senator Connell's offer to meet and confer with citizens, learn their wishes and try to carry them out, has not been accepted, and it is now so late that it is unlikely any concerted movement of the sort will be made. Still it is not too late for citizens who have ideas on the subject to formulate them and present them in writing to the senator. Mr. Connell, although a young and new member of the senate, has already won his way to prominence among the Ohio lawmakers and is an influential figure in the general assembly. Governor Nash has already enlisted his aid in drafting the proposed code, and it is conceded that Mr. Connell will take a prominent and active part in the legislation to be enacted. East Liverpool people, therefore, can feel assured that their ideas and wishes regarding the code will receive due consideration, if presented to the senator.

The death of General Franz Sigel removes another of the conspicuous figures of the civil war. He was a strong and able man and one of the most popular of the union commanders.

An engaged girl in Connecticut is prosecuting her fiance for kissing her. What sort of girls do they raise down in Connecticut, anyway?

When the Republicans of Delaware declared for Roosevelt in 1904 they voiced the sentiment of millions of people in other states.

The price of anthracite coal is still soaring skyward. Towns in the natural gas belt have a good deal to be thankful for.

Schwab has started for Europe again. Perhaps the bank at Monte Carlo will put up its shutters.

Robert W. Billingsley.

Lisbon, August 22. — (Special) — Robert W. Billingsley, eldest son of Judge N. G. Billingsley, died this morning at Riverside hospital here. He had been ill since Monday night, but had been regarded as seriously ill since yesterday noon, when he was found to have appendicitis. He was removed from the Hostetter house, where the family lives, to the hospital, and Dr. Allen, a noted surgeon of Cleveland, and a an assistant were summoned. An operation was performed last evening and the patient was found suffering also from peritonitis. He did not rally after the operation. He was about 22 years old and a most popular young man. His is the first death in the Young Men's lyceum, organized six years ago. On Wednesday last he was appointed superintendent of the local office of the Pittsburg, Lisbon & Western railroad, to take effect September 1.

George Havelock.

George Havelock, aged 60, who has been a night watchman in the Wellsville rolling mill for some time past, died at noon Wednesday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Alexander. Mr. Havelock resided on Hill street in Wellsville and about two weeks ago went to Knoxville, a suburb of Pittsburg, to visit. He was taken suddenly ill and died after being sick only a few days. He leaves a wife and five children, three of which are boys. Funeral services were held in Knoxville today.

George C. Baxter.

The funeral of George C. Baxter took place this morning from his late home in Middle Run. Interment was made at the Flats cemetery, a Wellsville minister officiating. Mrs. Elson, of Magnolia, a sister of the dead man, came to Chester last evening to attend the funeral. Mr. Baxter was a pioneer resident of Hancock county, and was one of the best known and most prosperous farmers of Grant district.

SAGE CONDEMNS TRUSTS.

Financier Declared They Are a Menace to True Government.

New York, Aug. 22.—Russell Sage, in an interview yesterday, referred to a published statement quoting J. Pierpont Morgan as saying that the era of the great trusts had just begun and that more gigantic corporations are stored in the near future, some of which may overshadow the steel trust. Mr. Sage said in part:

"Whether Mr. Morgan said that or not, combinations of all industries are a menace to true government. Not only so, but they are the oppressors of the people."

"What will be the result of such an era?" asked the reporter.

"In such an event the American people will revolt against them, and there will be financial ruin the like of which this country has never seen—or any other."

to care for him and would not come to see him in his last hours.

The truth, on the other hand, is charged in the bill to be that Mrs. Rees concealed from her brothers the critical condition of their father until she had procured the conveyance, it also being set forth that George W. Slack conducted his father's business for many years at mechanic's wages. The sons, it is said, were deprived of the privilege of caring for their father by the surreptitious act of Mrs. Rees in conveying their parents to her home without their knowledge or consent.

On these grounds it is asked that Mrs. Rees and her husband, Albert Rees, be required to make answer to the bill of complaint and that the deed be set aside as having been obtained through fraud.

SAGE CONDEMNS TRUSTS.

Financier Declared They Are a Menace to True Government.

New York, Aug. 22.—Russell Sage, in an interview yesterday, referred to a published statement quoting J. Pierpont Morgan as saying that the era of the great trusts had just begun and that more gigantic corporations are stored in the near future, some of which may overshadow the steel trust. Mr. Sage said in part:

"Whether Mr. Morgan said that or not, combinations of all industries are a menace to true government. Not only so, but they are the oppressors of the people."

"What will be the result of such an era?" asked the reporter.

"In such an event the American people will revolt against them, and there will be financial ruin the like of which this country has never seen—or any other."

to care for him and would not come to see him in his last hours.

The truth, on the other hand, is charged in the bill to be that Mrs. Rees concealed from her brothers the critical condition of their father until she had procured the conveyance, it also being set forth that George W. Slack conducted his father's business for many years at mechanic's wages. The sons, it is said, were deprived of the privilege of caring for their father by the surreptitious act of Mrs. Rees in conveying their parents to her home without their knowledge or consent.

On these grounds it is asked that Mrs. Rees and her husband, Albert Rees, be required to make answer to the bill of complaint and that the deed be set aside as having been obtained through fraud.

PICKED UP A DOG

In Return Jack Parker Was Picked Up And Landed in Jail.

John Parker, who resides just east of this city, was arrested last evening by Chief Thorn and lodged in jail charged with attempting to steal a valuable dog.

It seems that John had become a little enthusiastic over the prize fight and had partaken of an overdose of whisky. He espied a very pretty fox terrier which he thought he would like to possess. Gathering it up in his arms he started towards the depot.

Chief Thorn noticing the man's actions at once placed him under arrest and freed the dog. Upon investigation it was found that the dog belonged to Bert Askins, who is at present visiting at the home of William Davidson on Main street. The dog was secured by its owner a few hours after the incident. Parker will be given a hearing some time today.

COUNCIL MEETING

It is also stated that the question of whether Wellsville will have clean streets in the future or not will be brought up and some definite action taken in this important matter.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS

Soon to Form an Organization in Wellsville—Officer Davis Promoting It.

The Spanish-American war veterans of this city and also those who were engaged in the war with Filipinos are about to start a camp here. According to the rules of the state organization it will require 15 men to organize a camp, and in order to get that many together, both the Spanish-American and the Philippine war soldiers will have to join hands.

Officer Davis, of the local police force, is the prime mover of the project and will have the organization perfected within a week or two.

LABOR DAY PLANS

Trades Council Further Considers Arrangements For the Big Celebration.

Trades and labor council last evening made additional arrangements for Labor Day. On the regular program, to be given out by the special committee after their meeting next Monday evening, there will be foot races, ladies' potato races, bicycle races, three-legged races and fat men's races. There will also be two baseball games, one between the clerks' union and the painters' union, and one between two outside professional teams. The temporary dancing pavilion to be built on the grounds will be covered in case of rain. Two bands have also been secured.

At the meeting last night the old unfair list of merchants, which, it will remembered, existed during the rolling mill strike, was declared abolished and all were placed on the fair list.

The matter of uniforms was left in the hands of each individual order. Refreshments will be plentiful. All merchants were requested to take part in the parade.

SCHWAB EN ROUTE TO EUROPE.

Sailed Yesterday—Said Departure Was Due to Need of Vacation, Not Ill Health.

New York, Aug. 22.—Charles M Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, sailed for Europe yesterday on the steamship La Lorraine. He appeared to be in good health except for the fact that he leaned heavily on a cane which he held in his right hand.

"My arrangements for my trip abroad," he said, "were made so hurriedly that until I arrive I don't know where I shall go or what I shall do You can say, however, that I have not resigned and also that I am not in bad health. The reason for my hurried departure is not because of ill health, but because I want and need a vacation like everyone else I must go away now if I want to go at all, because if I should wait much longer winter would be here and it would be too late. Business will not enter into my trip at all."

While he was talking a photographer took pictures of the young ironmaster, who did not know that he was being taken until Mr. Perkins, of J. P. Morgan & Co., who had come to bid Mr. Schwab bon voyage, began to laugh. When Mr. Schwab discovered the photographer, he laughed also, and said: "Well, you are a good one. I'll pose for you anyway." He then stepped out into the light and the camera man snapped picture after picture.

Enjoyable Hay Ride.

A hay ride was given last evening under the direction of the National club, and was a most enjoyable affair. The party was composed of 32 couples, and four wagons were used. One wagon conveyed the refreshments to the country. The party went near Fredricktown, leaving their club rooms on Washington street about 8 o'clock, and returned to the city after midnight.

LOTS OF DISCUSSION

At Chester Council Meeting — Town Sergeant to Collect Road Tax.

A meeting of the Chester council which was noticeable for its lack of business was held last evening. All the members of the body with the exception of Messrs. Wells and Hough were present. Mayor Shrader presided and Solicitor O. S. Marshall was also in attendance.

When the reports of standing committees were called for another lengthy discussion in regard to the mayor's report ensued. The discussion was in regard as to whether or not the mayor's docket should be used to account for fines received by the town sergeant.

Solicitor Marshall was appealed to in the matter, and it was his opinion that it was not necessary for the mayor's docket to account for moneys not received by the mayor.

Councilman Riley brought up the question of road tax and advocated that council appoint some one to collect this tax, as nearly all the citizens refused to work them out on the roads as they were only paid $1.25 per day for their labor.

It was decided that it was not necessary for the appointment of another collector to collect this tax and the town sergeant was authorized to perform the work.

The session then adjourned.

IT WAS A FARCE

The Ball Game Between West End and Cadiz a Very One-Sided Affair.

There was to have been a baseball game at Rock Springs yesterday afternoon between the West End Athletic club of this city and the Cadiz team, it turned out to be a farce. The score resulted in a victory for the West End team by a score of 17 to 5. Vasbinder, of Salineville, Cadiz and Cleveland, went in the box to pitch for his old home team, Cadiz, and in one inning he was batted out of the box. The game was a walkover as far as the West End players were concerned.

After the third inning Vasbinder was relieved by his brother, who also has a reputation as a pitcher. He seemed to be a better man, for only five runs were made from him. In the third inning six hits, three bases on balls and a total of nine runs were made off the local "Vasey." Score by innings:

Cadiz	0	0	0	2	0	1	2	0	0— 5

STRICKEN SPEECHLESS

Dick Johnson Seized With a Singular Affliction While at Work.

Dick Johnston, a plate jiggerman employed at the C. C. Thompson pottery, is ill at his home on Carolina avenue, Chester, suffering with a very peculiar ailment. He worked several hours yesterday when he was suddenly stricken speechless. He was taken to his home in Chester and medical aid summoned. He was still bereft of speech today, but his medical advisers say he will recover it.

Mr. Johnston was coon hunting on Wednesday night, and it is thought perhaps he contracted a cold which settled in his throat.

Opposed to Prize Fights.

Frank Rambo, on whose premises in Lawrenceville the prize fight was pulled off last night, is indignant because the Chester authorities did not stop the battle. A number of other Chester residents expressed themselves in no uncertain terms, saying they were law-abiding and would not longer tolerate such affairs.

Attended by Crowds.

Ralph Marsh, the aged resident of Middle Run, who fell from a berth on a lake steamer last week, is much improved and will be out within a few days. Mr. Marsh is a member of the East Liverpool G. A. R. and several of the members have been looking after him since the accident.

CHESTER NOTES.

E. S. Good is in New Cumberland today.

Carl Bernard, the scarlet fever patient, continues to improve.

County Clerk Armour Cooper was in Chester yesterday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Weaver and family, of Sixth street, are guests of friends in Steubenville.

Noted Soldier Passed Away, After Few Days' Illness.

New York, Aug. 22.—General Franz Sigel died at his home, No. 563 Mott avenue, this city, at 11:45 o'clock yesterday. He had been ailing for two years, the result of old age and general breakdown, but it was only on Sunday last that he finally took to his bed.

Gen. Sigel was born in Baden, Nov. 18, 1824, and was graduated from the military school in Carlsruhe in 1843.

He served in the German army for a time, was a distinguished officer in the Baden revolution, retreated with his army to Switzerland, later went to England and to the United States where he had a distinguished career in the Union army, served in the regular army and had a notable career in the arts of peace, after his resignation from the army.

While he was talking a photographer took pictures of the young ironmaster, who did not know that he was being taken until Mr. Perkins, of J. P. Morgan & Co., who had come to bid Mr. Schwab bon voyage, began to laugh. When Mr. Schwab discovered the photographer, he laughed also, and said: "Well, you are a good one. I'll pose for you anyway." He then stepped out into the light and the camera man snapped picture after picture.

Enjoyable Hay Ride.

A hay ride was given last evening under the direction of the National club, and was a most enjoyable affair. The party was composed of 32 couples, and four wagons were used. One wagon conveyed the refreshments to the country. The party went near Fredricktown, leaving their club rooms on Washington street about 8 o'clock, and returned to the city after midnight.

LOTS OF DISCUSSION

At Chester Council Meeting — Town Sergeant to Collect Road Tax.

A meeting of the Chester council which was noticeable for its lack of business was held last evening. All the members of the body with the exception of Messrs. Wells and Hough were present. Mayor Shrader presided and Solicitor O. S. Marshall was also in attendance.

When the reports of standing committees were called for another lengthy discussion in regard to the mayor's report ensued. The discussion was in regard as to whether or not the mayor's docket should be used to account for fines received by the town sergeant.

Solicitor Marshall was appealed to in the matter, and it was his opinion that it was not necessary for the mayor's docket to account for moneys not received by the mayor.

Councilman Riley brought up the question of road tax and advocated that council appoint some one to collect this tax, as nearly all the citizens refused to work them out on the roads as they were only paid $1.25 per day for their labor.

It was decided that it was not necessary for the appointment of another collector to collect this tax and the town sergeant was authorized to perform the work.

The session then adjourned.

The Ball Game Between West End and Cadiz a Very One-Sided Affair.

There was to have been a baseball game at Rock Springs yesterday afternoon between the West End Athletic club of this city and the Cadiz team, it turned out to be a farce. The score resulted in a victory for the West End team by a score of 17 to 5. Vasbinder, of Salineville, Cadiz and Cleveland, went in the box to pitch for his old home team, Cadiz, and in one inning he was batted out of the box. The game was a walkover as far as the West End players were concerned.

After the third inning Vasbinder was relieved by his brother, who also has a reputation as a pitcher. He seemed to be a better man, for only five runs were made from him. In the third inning six hits, three bases on balls and a total of nine runs were made off the local "Vasey." Score by innings:

Cadiz.....0 0 0 2 0 1 2 0 0— 5

Dick Johnson Seized With a Singular Affliction While at Work.

Dick Johnston, a plate jiggerman employed at the C. C. Thompson pottery, is ill at his home on Carolina avenue, Chester, suffering with a very peculiar ailment. He worked several hours yesterday when he was suddenly stricken speechless. He was taken to his home in Chester and medical aid summoned. He was still bereft of speech today, but his medical advisers say he will recover it.

Mr. Johnston was coon hunting on Wednesday night, and it is thought perhaps he contracted a cold which settled in his throat.

Opposed to Prize Fights.

Frank Rambo, on whose premises in Lawrenceville the prize fight was pulled off last night, is indignant because the Chester authorities did not stop the battle. A number of other Chester residents expressed themselves in no uncertain terms, saying they were law-abiding and would not longer tolerate such affairs.

Attended by Crowds.

Ralph Marsh, the aged resident of Middle Run, who fell from a berth on a lake steamer last week, is much improved and will be out within a few days. Mr. Marsh is a member of the East Liverpool G. A. R. and several of the members have been looking after him since the accident.

CHESTER NOTES.

E. S. Good is in New Cumberland today.

Carl Bernard, the scarlet fever patient, continues to improve.

County Clerk Armour Cooper was in Chester yesterday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Weaver and family, of Sixth street, are guests of friends in Steubenville.

GEN. FRANZ SIGEL DEAD.

Noted Soldier Passed Away, After Few Days' Illness.

New York, Aug. 22.—General Franz Sigel died at his home, No. 563 Mott avenue, this city, at 11:45 o'clock yesterday. He had been ailing for two years, the result of old age and general breakdown, but it was only on Sunday last that he finally took to his bed.

Gen. Sigel was born in Baden, Nov. 18, 1824, and was graduated from the military school in Carlsruhe in 1843.

He served in the German army for a time, was a distinguished officer in the Baden revolution, retreated with his army to Switzerland, later went to England and to the United States where he had a distinguished career in the Union army, served in the regular army and had a notable career in the arts of peace, after his resignation from the army.

Cholera Morbus.

This is an extremely dangerous disease. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from it, and in many instances before a physician could be summoned or medicine obtained. Mrs. E. H. Delano, of Durant, Mich., is subject to severe attacks of cholera morbus. During the past four years she has kept at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and says it has always given her quick relief. During this time she has used two bottles of it. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. The safe way is to keep it at hand ready for instant use. WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

FROM PEORIA.

The Crown pottery, located in this city, and operated by the Crown Potteries company, is running as usual, but owing to the lack of room the clay hands were compelled to loaf for a few days recently. Six biscuit kilns are being made each pay, and this is a record the kilnmen feel proud of. So far the glost kilnmen have making seven glost kilns a pay.

Ware has been collecting upon the glost ware room employes, and they expect the company to furnish more help to get it dressed. The glost kiln men, it is stated, expect to make 10 kilns a pay very soon, and they are now working up to that point. By so doing the shop will be operated to its capacity.

Walter Smith, a well known workman at this shop, who has been off with a broken hand for several weeks, has recovered from his injury and he is now able to be back at his work. His injury was a most painful one.

John Ryan, who until recently was employed at the Dresden at East Liverpool, is now working in this shop as a glost kiln hand. He came here about a week ago.

Samuel Thomas, who has been spending his vacation in California, and other western states, has returned to Peoria, and his health has been much improved by his trip. He has resumed work.

There was an article in a potters' paper in East Liverpool recently referring to Mr. L. Wolf, the efficient manager of the New Castle pottery. The potters of this shop are up in arms against the author. It is their wish that Mr. Wolf should learn that the employes were no party to the article, as the author apparently spoke only for himself.

FOOTBALL CLUBS.

Now that a good football team has been organized at the Laughlin pottery in the East End, it is to be hoped that other potteries in the city will follow suit and organize teams, as all the best foot ballists, or in fact a majority of them, are employed in the clay shops. This being the case, why not organize a football league, composed from a number of potteries in the city, and go into the game with one idea in view, that of uplifting the sport instead of degrading it, as is frequently the case when a lot of scrub teams enter the field? Organize a league with six teams in it, and play games at different intervals. The attendance will be large, and the results will be a success both from a financial and sporting point of view. The time is now ripe for such a move, and it is to be hoped that the suggestion will be carried out. Grounds are available in all parts of the city, in the East End, West End, and on the South side. Games like those played last season between the Laughlin and Buckeye teams are a credit to the community and to the sport. The same can be repeated this season. It is to be hoped that it will be.

IT STOOD THE TEST.

Much has been said during the past year or so about decalcomania for decorating purposes, both as to its advantages and its disadvantages. Still decalcomania has been given some very rough tests, both in the local potteries, and by actual use, and upon each occasion the results that have been claimed for it are noted.

Some rapid strides are being made in this particular branch of decorating in the potteries of this city, but the manufacturers have not had much to do with this particular part. It is the maker of the decalcomania. More girls are being employed in the decalcomania decorating than ever before, and they are said to be receiving good wages. The manufacturer has been enabled to place decorations upon his ware by the use of decalcomania, that in the past had been impossible. A greater variety of decorations have been obtained, and upon a larger scale. All these things tend to increase the sales of ware, and this done, workmen receive the benefit.

GETTING BUSY AGAIN.

During the past few days more has been heard about the formation of a pottery syndicate. Some of the promoters in this line have been getting busy, it seems, and many reports are now being heard upon the streets. Early in the week several prominent manufacturing potters of this city went to Pittsburg, and the would-be wiseacres claimed syndicate was talked over. That may be all right, but those manufacturing potters are saying nothing regarding their trip, or the results accomplished at the meeting at Pittsburg if one was held. However, the syndicate movement is not a dead issue, and something will be sprung on the public some of these days that will make interesting reading.

A KILN READY.

Since the Cone Fire Clay company commenced to make chimney tops at the plant of the East Liverpool Sagger company, on Second street, but one presser has been employed, and it is now stated that an additional presser is to be put to work. This clearly shows that the company is securing a good trade in this line of business, all of which is to be desired. A sufficient number of chimney tops have been made to fill one kiln, and this kiln will be fired sometime next week. Nothing but tops will be fired in this kiln at that time, as they have to be burned by themselves.

TO START NEXT WEEK.

Announcement was made this morning by the management of the East End plant of the American Sewer Pipe works that the factory, which has been idle for several weeks on account of making needed repairs, would resume operations next week. Some of the changes have been completed, but other improvements remain to be made. Many workmen are employed at the plant making these changes, and the plant, if possible, will be started next Monday morning.

THEY WILL BE READY.

At a meeting of Kilndrawers' local, which will be held tomorrow evening in Brotherhood hall, the final arrangements for the Labor Day demonstration will be completed as far as that local is concerned. It is now known how many kilndrawers will be in line, up to date, but this number may be increased before the start of he parade. Some other important business matters are also to be considered at the meeting tomorrow evening.

NEW SANITARY SHOP.

It is now an assured fact that a new sanitary shop is to be established at Evansville. The company has been formed and it is rumored about this city that a mouldmaker of note has been secured, and that he will commence to make moulds for the new shop within a very short time. It is expected that workmen from this city will be engaged for the new shop, although so far as known, no attempt has been made to get hold of any yet.

HE HAS RHEUMATISM.

Joe Jackson, a popular saggermaker at Laughlin No. 3, who recently returned to work after taking a weeks' vacation for his health, is again off duty, this time on account of a severe attack of rheumatism. His right arm is affected, and he can hardly raise it as high as his elbow. His place is being filled by a saggermaker from the shop at plant No. 2.

IS ALMOST COMPLETED.

Workmen are now engaged in placing the roof on the new addition which is being built to replace the old end at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery, and it will be but a few days until the addition will be ready for use. Brick layers are now engaged in repairing all the kilns in this part of the factory, but this task will not be completed for several days.

NEXT MONDAY.

J. T. Smith, of the Smith-Phillips China company, announced yesterday that the new kiln which has been in course of erection at their plant in the East End for several weeks, would not be ready to be used until next week. It was expected that this kiln would be fired last Wednesday, but at a late hour it was found that this could not be done.

A NEW WATER MAIN.

The water works department is engaged in laying a new water main, or rather an extension of one, from Laughlin No. 2, to the end of the East End plant of the American sewer pipe works. This main is being laid along the railroad switch between the two plants, and can be used for fire protection at either factory.

GOES WITH A SHOW.

Roland Burson, who went to Lisbon from Rogers to work for the Thomas China company, became infatuated with Sun Brothers' show and agreed to join their band and go with it.

Burson was a member of the Pottery band and is a good cornet player. He held a good job in the pottery.

CHURCH CENTENNIAL

Two Ridge Presbyterian Congregation Celebrating Its 100th Anniversary.

Steubenville, O., Aug. 22.—Two Ridge Presbyterian Church, one of the most influential and oldest church organizations in Eastern Ohio is celebrating its centennial today. When it was first established it was known as "Cedar Lick Run." It was organized in 1802 by Rev. James Snodgrass, a pioneer minister hereabouts who had much to do with the organization of many of the early churches in Eastern Ohio. He advanced into what was then the wilderness with naught but the word of God for a light to the pioneers' feet.

In its day the church has had seventen pastors, men who were earnest Christian workers and profound pulpit speakers from the Calvinistic standpoint.

It has had three church buildings to date, the first a log building; the second a hewed log building and the third the present commodious frame building.

When the church was established it had 23 members. The first house of worship was erected in the year 1816, up to which time the people met for worship in various places, private dwellings, school houses, and often in the woods. Rev. James Snodgrass after having served two years was succeded by Rev. William McMillan, who continued pastor of this church and the Yellow Creek church (now Bacon Ridge) for six years.

Succeeding pastors have been: Revs. Thomas Hunt,1919; Joseph Kerr, Wm Eaton, 1844; David R. Campbell, 1853; J. B. Dickey, 1867; J. M. Lawbaugh, 1870; Israel Price, 1873; J. C. McCracken, 1879; Samuel Patterson, W. M. Whitford, Homer Sheeley and H. Webb.

REMINGTON SLAIN?

Intimation From Brother and Attorney, He May Have Been Murdered.

MISS VAN ALEN SENT FLOWERS.

Autopsy on Remains—Funeral at Williamsport, Pa.—Rev. J. W. Diggles Read Burial Service—Body Laid by Graves of Mother and Father.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 22.—It was reported last night from an authoritative source that Edward P. Remington is not satisfied that his brother Robert died by his own hand.

When it became known that he was entertaining a suspicion of foul play which originated before he left Newport with the body, an Associated Press representative called on Mr. Remington and requested a statement. He replied that he would neither deny or affirm anything relative to his brother's death except that the autopsy performed yesterday revealed that the bullet in the mouth caused death. When asked if the bullet found imbeded in the dead man's brain fitted the revolver found by his side he declared that he had nothing further to say. Asked if developments in the case could be expected, he said time alone would tell.

Mr. Remington and his attorney, Seth T. McCormick, as well as the physicians who performed the autopsy, were together in secret conference until late last night, and their action is surrounded by much mystery. They positively refused to give out any further information.

Funeral of Remington Held.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 22.—Just as the sun was setting behind the hills of beautiful Wildwood last evening the body of Robert Reading Remington, whose tragic death, caused by suicide, occurred at Newport, R. I. on Monday last, was lowered into the grave beside the mounds that mark the last resting place of his father and mother. The interment, which had been announced as private, was witnessed by a curious crowd of men and women, who had been waiting at the side of the open grave since early in the afternoon. It had been originally intended to hold the services at 3 o'clock in the chapel at Wildwood cemetery, but early in the day after a consultation with his attorney, Mr. Edward P. Remington, a brother of the deceased, determined to hold an autopsy upon the body, and the funeral was postponed until a later hour.

Shortly after 5 o'clock last evening Rev. J. W. Diggles, curate of Christ church, read the simple service of the Episcopal church, at the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Reading, an aunt of the deceased, after which the body was borne to the hearse by Mayor John F. Laedlein, ex-Assemblyman Collins, Councilman John G. Coryl, William Emery, John T. Frederick and John K. Hays. On the casket rested a wreath of American beauty roses and lilies of the valley, tied with a wreath of white satin. The flowers were sent by Miss May Van Alen, former financee of Robert Remington.

Many workmen are employed at the plant making these changes, and the plant, if possible, will be started next Monday morning.

THEY WILL BE READY.

At a meeting of Kilndrawers' local, which will be held tomorrow evening in Brotherhood hall, the final arrangements for the Labor Day demonstration will be completed as far as that local is concerned. It is now known how many kilndrawers will be in line, up to date, but this number may be increased before the start of he parade. Some other important business matters are also to be considered at the meeting tomorrow evening.

NEW SANITARY SHOP.

It is now an assured fact that a new sanitary shop is to be established at Evansville. The company has been formed and it is rumored about this city that a mouldmaker of note has been secured, and that he will commence to make moulds for the new shop within a very short time. It is expected that workmen from this city will be engaged for the new shop, although so far as known, no attempt has been made to get hold of any yet.

HE HAS RHEUMATISM.

Joe Jackson, a popular saggermaker at Laughlin No. 3, who recently returned to work after taking a weeks' vacation for his health, is again off duty, this time on account of a severe attack of rheumatism. His right arm is affected, and he can hardly raise it as high as his elbow. His place is being filled by a saggermaker from the shop at plant No. 2.

IS ALMOST COMPLETED.

Workmen are now engaged in placing the roof on the new addition which is being built to replace the old end at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery, and it will be but a few days until the addition will be ready for use. Brick layers are now engaged in repairing all the kilns in this part of the factory, but this task will not be completed for several days.

NEXT MONDAY.

J. T. Smith, of the Smith-Phillips China company, announced yesterday that the new kiln which has been in course of erection at their plant in the East End for several weeks, would not be ready to be used until next week. It was expected that this kiln would be fired last Wednesday, but at a late hour it was found that this could not be done.

A NEW WATER MAIN.

The water works department is engaged in laying a new water main, or rather an extension of one, from Laughlin No. 2, to the end of the East End plant of the American sewer pipe works. This main is being laid along the railroad switch between the two plants, and can be used for fire protection at either factory.

GOES WITH A SHOW.

Roland Burson, who went to Lisbon from Rogers to work for the Thomas China company, became infatuated with Sun Brothers' show and agreed to join their band and go with it.

Burson was a member of the Pottery band and is a good cornet player. He held a good job in the pottery.

We must vacate our Warehouse No. 2 by September 1st. It is full of Furniture for which we will have no other place until our new warehouse is built.

To help ourselves out of a bad scrape we have reduced prices so much it will pay you big to buy now and let us put this Furniture into your homes.

CHURCH CENTENNIAL

Two Ridge Presbyterian Congregation Celebrating Its 100th Anniversary.

Steubenville, O., Aug. 22.—Two Ridge Presbyterian Church, one of the most influential and oldest church organizations in Eastern Ohio is celebrating its centennial today. When it was first established it was known as "Cedar Lick Run." It was organized in 1802 by Rev. James Snodgrass, a pioneer minister hereabouts who had much to do with the organization of many of the early churches in Eastern Ohio. He advanced into what was then the wilderness with naught but the word of God for a light to the pioneers' feet.

In its day the church has had seventeen pastors, men who were earnest Christian workers and profound pulpit speakers from the Calvinistic standpoint.

It has had three church buildings to date, the first a log building; the second a hewed log building and the third the present commodious frame building.

When the church was established it had 23 members. The first house of worship was erected in the year 1816, up to which time the people met for worship in various places, private dwellings, school houses, and often in the woods. Rev. James Snodgrass after having served two years was succeeded by Rev. William McMillan, who continued pastor of this church and the Yellow Creek church (now Bacon Ridge) for six years.

Succeeding pastors have been: Revs. Thomas Hunt, 1919; Joseph Kerr, Wm. Eaton, 1844; David R. Campbell, 1853; J. B. Dickey, 1867; J. M. Lawbaugh, 1870; Israel Price, 1873; J. C. McCracken, 1879; Samuel Patterson, W. M. Whitford, Homer Sheeley and H. Webb.

REMINGTON SLAIN?

Intimation From Brother and Attorney, He May Have Been Murdered.

MISS VAN ALEN SENT FLOWERS.

Autopsy on Remains—Funeral at Williamsport, Pa.—Rev. J. W. Diggles Read Burial Service—Body Laid by Graves of Mother and Father.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 22.—It was reported last night from an authoritative source that Edward P. Remington is not satisfied that his brother Robert died by his own hand.

When it became known that he was entertaining a suspicion of foul play which originated before he left Newport with the body, an Associated Press representative called on Mr. Remington and requested a statement. He replied that he would neither deny or affirm anything relative to his brother's death except that the autopsy performed yesterday revealed that the bullet in the mouth caused death. When asked if the bullet found imbeded in the dead man's brain fitted the revolver found by his side he declared that he had nothing further to say. Asked if developments in the case could be expected, he said time alone would tell.

Mr. Remington and his attorney, Seth T. McCormick, as well as the physicians who performed the autopsy, were together in secret conference until late last night, and their action is surrounded by much mystery. They positively refused to give out any further information.

Funeral of Remington Held.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 22.—Just as the sun was setting behind the hills of beautiful Wildwood last evening the body of Robert Reading Remington, whose tragic death, caused by suicide, occurred at Newport, R. I. on Monday last, was lowered into the grave beside the mounds that mark the last resting place of his father and mother. The interment, which had been announced as private, was witnessed by a curious crowd of men and women, who had been waiting at the side of the open grave since early in the afternoon. It had been originally intended to hold the services at 3 o'clock in the chapel at Wildwood cemetery, but early in the day after a consultation with his attorney, Mr. Edward P. Remington, a brother of the deceased, determined to hold an autopsy upon the body, and the funeral was postponed until a later hour.

Shortly after 5 o'clock last evening Rev. J. W. Diggles, curate of Christ church, read the simple service of the Episcopal church, at the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Reading, an aunt of the deceased, after which the body was borne to the hearse by Mayor John F. Laeflein, ex-Assemblyman Collins, Councilman John G. Coryl, William Emery, John T. Frederick and John K. Hays. On the casket rested a wreath of American beauty roses and lilies of the valley, tied with a wreath of white satin. The flowers were sent by Miss May Van Alen, former financee of Robert Remington.

Best Year In Assembly's History, Report to the Stockholders.

REV. R. S. HOLMES CHOSEN.

Elected Director of College Board. Assembly Officers and Directors Selected—Grounds to Be Improved Sunday School Day Yesterday.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 22.—The annual meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Winona Assembly association was held yesterday. Officers were elected as follows:

President, Thomas Kane, Chicago; vice presidents, J. M. Studebaker, South Bend; Alexander McDonald, Cincinnati; F. W. Munson, Chicago; secretary and general manager; S. C. Dickey, Indianapolis; treasurer, H. P. Townley, Terre Haute; director of Bible conference, J. Wilbur Chapman, New York city. All the old directors were re-elected.

A report submitted showed the past year was the most prosperous in Winona's history. Another meeting will be held today, at which plans for improvements amounting to nearly $200,000 will be presented for adoption, among them plans for the Governor Mount memorial building, to cost $50,000, which shall be used as an agricultural department of Winona Agricultural and Technical Institute for Boys.

Holmes Elected a Director.

At a meeting of the college board of the latter institution yesterday General James R. Carnahan, of Indianapolis, and Rev. Richard S. Holmes, of Pittsburg, were elected directors. Forty-three scholarships were also reported as paid. The new college trade school for boys will open Sept. 16.

Yesterday was Sunday school day at the National Winona Bible conference. W. C. Pearce, of Chicago, led in the discussion on the topic throughout the day. Mrs. Lamoreaux, of Chicago, delivered an interesting address on "The Art of Primary Teaching." Rev. John Potts, of Toronto, followed. Rev. S. A. Ort, of Springfield, O., also spoke. "Guidance in Great Crises" was the topic presented in the afternoon by Rev. George Johnston A. Ross, of St. Paul's church, at Westbourne Grove, London. Rev. George Jackson, a Scottish divine, and pastor of the Methodist Tabernacle, Edinburgh, gave a farewell address. The hillside service, which attracted a crowd of 4,000 people, was conducted by Rev. James Mursell, pastor of the Upper Clapton Baptist church, London, and an intimate associate of Rev. B. F. Meyer in the Christian Endeavor movement in Europe. Rev. George R. Stewart, a well-known southern evangelist, delivered the evening sermon.

THE ARMY A DISGRACE,

Speaker at Peace Conference Declared—President Condemned For Children Learning Swords.

Mystic, Conn., Aug. 22.—At yesterday's session of the Universal Peace union the report of Treasurer Charles P. Hastings, of Philadelphia, was read. It showed a balance of $762 in the treasury after a disbursement of $1,385 for the year. An address was made by the Countess Helen de la Gardie Nicolia, of Philadelphia. Mrs. Susan S. Fessenden, of Boston, president of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U., discussed "Women and Peace."

The other speakers were Rev. Matthew Anderson, principal of the Philadelphia Berean manual training and industrial school, and William N. Ashman, president of the Pennsylvania Peace society.

In the afternoon session Ernest Howard Crosby, of New York, spoke on "The Unmanliness of War." Mr. Crosby said that the Philippine war was wicked. He spoke of the ovation tendered to General Smith on his return home and said that even the administration disapproved of it. He said that the way for military men to get popular was to have the administration down on them and mentioned General Miles, General Smith and Admiral Schley as examples.

Spoke on Patriotism.

Walter S. Logan, of New York, the next speaker, said he believed in the sentiment, "My country, may it be right, but right or wrong, my country." His subject was "Patriotism and Peace." The speaker said he was a patriot first and foremost.

Countess Helen De La Gardie Nicolia, of Philadelphia, gave a short talk on "The Czar's Movements in Russia from Personal Observations."

Thomas G. Whipple, of East Croton, Conn., said that the United States army was a disgrace to humanity. He said that the president of the United States, who should be a man of God, is teaching his children the use of broadswords. Mr. Whipple ended his address by saying: "God will avenge the Filipinos in this country."

Dr. H. A. Gibbs, of Worcester, Mass., took for his subject, "Socialism, the basis of universal peace."

Dr. Gibbs maintained that to make war impossible and unnecessary is the duty of the working class in the impending class struggle.

BEYOND A DOUBT

Good Hard Facts—Told in As Few Words as Possible.

Mrs. Geo. Hall of 389 West Market street, East Liverpool, O., says: "I was bilious, my head ached hard and constantly, there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so getting them at Larkins' Drug Store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness was overcome, the headache cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished. Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment I can vouch for in burns as a fine application."

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 22.—J. J. Hannahan, acting grand master, and F. W Arnold, grand secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, yesterday presented to President Roosevelt a handsome engrossed invitation to attend the eigth bi-ennial convention of the order at Chattanooga, Tenn. Sept. 8. The president indicated a desire to attend the convention if it was possible. Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, who was at Sagamore Hill when the invitation was extended, asked the president to visit Asheville, N. C., if he made the trip to Chattanooga. The president promised to do so.

Senator Pritchard also discussed the vacancy on the court of claims bench with President Roosevelt. He had heard that the place would be given to North Carolina, and came here to present a candidate. The president strongly intimated that the appointment would not go to North Carolina or Ohio.

He sails on the Sylph this morning for New Haven, Conn., where he will board his special train and begin his New England trip. The president's immediate party includes Secretary Cortelyou, Dr. Lung, the president's official physician; Assistant Secretary Barns, who will join the party at New Haven; two stenographers and two messengers.

Bartholin Again Indicted For Murder.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—The coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday over the body of Mrs. Anna Bartholin brought in a verdict recommending that her son, William Bartholin, be arrested and held as principal for her murder, and that Oscar Thompson and Edward Counselman, who are under arrest accused of complicity in the murder of Minnie Mitchell, be held to the grand jury as accessories to the crime. The jury found that Mrs. Bartholin came to her death on or about July 7, death being due to strangulation.

SQUADRON ON GUARD.

Higginson's Ships Watching For the "Enemy" to Attempt an Attack.

HOSTILE FLEET WAS SIGHTED.

Rear Admiral Higginson Received Information Wednesday—An Attack Was Expected Last Night, on Account of the Rough Weather.

Rockport, Mass., Aug. 22.—On board the battleship Kearsarge, flagship of Rear Admiral Higginson, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic squadron, off Strait's Mouth.—Rear Admiral Higginson, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, while anchored at Sandy Bay harbor at Rockport, Wednesday, received information that an enemy's fleet had been sighted off the New England coast. The telegram was received on the flagship at 11:40 a. m. Immediately all was bustle and excitement and the mimic war manoeuvres scheduled for the navy of the summer of 1902 were under way. Orders were given in rapid succession, quickly followed by the blare of bugles and the setting of signal flags. From that moment the flagship Kearsarge and the other vessels of the defending fleet have been in readiness for the approach of the opposing vessels under Commander John E. Pillsbury.

Movements of the Ships.

When the orders to move came Wednesday the Mayflower and a torpedo boat were the first away, starting out of the north entrance of the harbor of refuge for stations off Portland. The Brooklyn and Olympia were close behind, steaming in a more easterly course. The Scorpion took her course about southeast, while the Montgomery and Leyden also went to the southeast.

The Kearsarge, Massachusetts, Alabama and Gloucester took a general station about five miles off Thatcher's light. The point is about midway between Portland and Provincetown.

Up to midnight the movements of the ships were not very important. The battleships passed back and forth until just before midnight, when the commander-in-chief signalled orders to come to anchor about a mile north of Thatcher's island. Directions were given to keep fires in the boilers, so that a start could be made at a moment's notice. No lights were permitted.

Twice during the first part of the night torpedo boats lightly and noiselessly steamed in and out through the fleet, but receiving no signal from the flagship, they quickly departed to their stations. Sleep was not indulged in to any extent. The admiral was on the bridge up to midnight. At 5 o'clock yesterday morning he again made his appearance on deck. A few of the scout ships came in, but reported nothing of consequence.

Aboard the flagship the regular Thursday morning duties were observed. At 9:30 general quarters were sounded and for an hour practice work was indulged in.

Not for a moment during yesterday afternoon did the battleships give up their watchfulness. Soon after the noon hour a heavy storm came on, the sky being decidedly black. In the driving rain the impression entertained by the sailors was the probability that Commander Pillsbury would strike his blow on such a night as it promised to be.

But the adverse weather made the stations of the defending squadron along the Atlantic coast line all the more active and alert. Messages came in from various points, from Portland to Provincetown, with remarkable quickness.

To Puzzle "Enemy's" Spies.

In an hour the rain had passed, but the thick weather remained, and as dusk came on a mist crept over the surface of the water. It was a dark night. The darkness was just coming on when Admiral Higginson gave the order to his battleships to weigh anchor. So hurriedly had messages been given and so many trips did the dispatch launches make between the shore and the Kearsarge that it was thought the move this time was out to sea. The admiral, however, allowed the squadron to pass but a little to the south; in fact, nearer in shore and within hailing distance of Thatcher's island. The change of anchorage was brought about for two reasons. The admiral wished to keep his ships in varying locations and to puzzle the spies of the white squadron, whom it was firmly believed were strung along the coast. Again the admiral wished to get in touch with the Strait's mouth point life saving station, where was established last night an elaborate system of ricket signalling.

As the night wore on the sky lost little of its blackness, and the fact that a constant stream of messages from the north to the south showed clearly enough that the defending squadron feared the approach of Commander Pillsbury.

Miller In Trouble Again.

Pittsburg, Aug. 22.—George W. Miller, alias "Shoebox" Miller, who gained his latter title by escaping from the Western penitentiary by concealing himself in a shoebox, is under arrest in Birmingham, England, on a charge of swindling the firm of Harrison & Co., steel manufacturers, out of several thousand dollars.

Elected Director of College Board. Assembly Officers and Directors Selected—Grounds to Be Improved Sunday School Day Yesterday.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 22.—The annual meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Winona Assembly association was held yesterday. Officers were elected as foHows:

President, Thomas Kane, Chicago; vice presidents, J. M. Studebaker, South Bend; Alexander McDonald, Cincinnati; F. W. Munson, Chicago; secretary and general manager; S. C. Dickey, Indianapolis; treasurer, H. P. Townley, Terre Haute; director of Bible conference, J. Wilbur Chapman, New York city. All the old directors were re-elected.

A report submitted showed the past year was the most prosperous in Winona's history. Another meeting will be held today, at which plans for improvements amounting to nearly $200,000 will be presented for adoption, among them plans for the Governor Mount memorial building, to cost $50,000, which shall be used as an agricultural department of Winona Agricultural and Technical Institute for Boys.

Holmes Elected a Director.

At a meeting of the college board of the latter institution yesterday General James R. Carnahan, of Indianapolis, and Rev. Richard S. Holmes, of Pittsburg, were elected directors. Forty-three scholarships were also reported as paid. The new college trade school for boys will open Sept. 16.

Yesterday was Sunday school day at the National Winona Bible conference. W. C. Pearce, of Chicago, led in the discussion on the topic throughout the day. Mrs. Lamoreaux, of Chicago, delivered an interesting address on "The Art of Primary Teaching." Rev. John Potts, of Toronto, followed. Rev. S. A. Ort, of Springfield, O., also spoke. "Guidance in Great Crises" was the topic presented in the afternoon by Rev. George Johnston A. Ross, of St. Paul's church, at Westbourne Grove, London. Rev. George Jackson, a Scottish divine, and pastor of the Methodist Tabernacle, Edinburgh, gave a farewell address. The hillside service, which attracted a crowd of 4,000 people, was conducted by Rev. James Mursell, pastor of the Upper Clapton Baptist church, London, and an intimate associate of Rev. B. F. Meyer in the Christian Endeavor movement in Europe. Rev. George R. Stewart, a well-known southern evangelist, delivered the evening sermon.

THE ARMY A DISGRACE, IT

Mystic, Conn., Aug. 22.—At yesterday's session of the Universal Peace union the report of Treasurer Charles P. Hastings, of Philadelphia, was read. It showed a balance of $762 in the treasury after a disbursement of $1,385 for the year. An address was made by the Countess Helen de la Gardie Nicolia, of Philadelphia. Mrs. Susan S. Fessenden, of Boston, president of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U., discussed "Women and Peace."

The other speakers were Rev. Matthew Anderson, principal of the Philadelphia Berean manual training and industrial school, and William N. Ashman, president of the Pennsylvania Peace society.

In the afternoon session Ernest Howard Crosby, of New York, spoke on "The Unmanliness of War." Mr. Crosby said that the Philippine war was wicked. He spoke of the ovation tendered to General Smith on his return home and said that even the administration disapproved of it. He said that the way for military men to get popular was to have the administration down on them and mentioned General Miles, General Smith and Admiral Schley as examples.

Spoke on Patriotism.

Walter S. Logan, of New York, the next speaker, said he believed in the sentiment, "My country, may it be right, but right or wrong, my country." His subject was "Patriotism and Peace." The speaker said he was a patriot first and foremost.

Countess Helen De La Gardie Nicolia, of Philadelphia, gave a short talk on "The Czar's Movements in Russia from Personal Observations."

Thomas G. Whipple, of East Croton, Conn., said that the United States army was a disgrace to humanity. He said that the president of the United States, who should be a man of God, is teaching his children the use of broadswords. Mr. Whipple ended his address by saying: "God will avenge the Filipinos in this country."

Dr. H. A. Gibbs, of Worcester, Mass., took for his subject, "Socialism, the basis of universal peace."

Dr. Gibbs maintained that to make war impossible and unnecessary is the duty of the working class in the impending class struggle.

BEYOND A DOUBT

Good Hard Facts—Told in As Few Words as Possible.

Mrs. Geo. Hall of 389 West Market street, East Liverpool, O., says: "I was bilious, my head ached hard and constantly, there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so getting them at Larkins' Drug Store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness was overcome, the headache cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished. Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment I can vouch for in burns as a fine application."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 22.—J. J. Hannahan, acting grand master, and E. W Arnold, grand secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, yesterday presented to President Roosevelt a handsome engrossed invitation to attend the eigth bi-ennial convention of the order at Chattanooga, Tenn, Sept. 8. The president indicated a desire to attend the convention if it was possible. Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, who was at Sagamore Hill when the invitation was extended, asked the president to visit Asheville, N. C., if he made the trip to Chattanooga. The president promised to do so.

Senator Pritchard also discussed the vacancy on the court of claims bench with President Roosevelt. He had heard that the place would be given to North Carolina, and came here to present a candidate. The president strongly intimated that the appointment would not go to North Carolina or Ohio.

He sails on the Sylph this morning for New Haven, Conn., where he will board his special train and begin his New England trip. The president's immediate party includes Secretary Cortelyou, Dr. Lung, the president's official physician; Assistant Secretary Barns, who will join the party at New Haven; two stenographers and two messengers.

Bartholin Again Indicted For Murder.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—The coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday over the body of Mrs. Anna Bartholin brought in a verdict recommending that her son, William Bartholin, be arrested and held as principal for her murder, and that Oscar Thompson and Edward Counselman, who are under arrest accused of complicity in the murder of Minnie Mitchell, be held to the grand jury as accessories to the crime. The jury found that Mrs. Bartholin came to her death on or about July 7, death being due to strangulation.

SQUADRON ON GUARD.

Higginson's Ships Watching For the "Enemy" to Attempt an Attack.

Rear Admiral Higginson Received Information Wednesday—An Attack Was Expected Last Night, on Account of the Rough Weather.

Rockport, Mass., Aug. 22.—On board the battleship Kearsarge, flag ship of Rear Admiral Higginson, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic squadron, off Strait's Mouth.—Rear Admiral Higginson, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, while anchored at Sandy Bay harbor at Rockport, Wednesday, received information that an enemy's fleet had been sighted off the New England coast. The telegram was received on the flagship at 11:40 a. m. Immediately all was bustle and excitement and the mimic war manoeuvres scheduled for the navy of the summer of 1902 were under way. Orders were given in rapid succession, quickly followed by the blare of bugles and the setting of signal flags. From that moment the flagship Kearsarge and the other vessels of the defending fleet have been in readiness for the approach of the opposing vessels under Commander John E. Pillsbury.

Movements of the Ships.

When the orders to move came Wednesday the Mayflower and a torpedo boat were the first away, starting out of the north entrance of the harbor of refuge for stations off Portland. The Brooklyn and Olympia were close behind, steaming in a more easterly course. The Scorpion took her course about southeast, while the Montgomery and Leyden also went to the southeast.

The Kearsarge, Massachusetts, Alabama and Gloucester took a general station about five miles off Thatcher's light. The point is about midway between Portland and Provincetown.

Up to midnight the movements of the ships were not very important. The battleships passed back and forth until just before midnight, when the commander-in-chief signalled orders to come to anchor about a mile north of Thatcher's island. Directions were given to keep fires in the boilers, so that a start could be made at a moment's notice. No lights were permitted.

Twice during the first part of the night torpedo boats lightly and noiselessly steamed in and out through the fleet, but receiving no signal from the flagship, they quickly departed to their stations. Sleep was not indulged in to any extent. The admiral was on the bridge up to midnight. At 5 o'clock yesterday morning he again made his appearance on deck. A few of the scout ships came in, but reported nothing of consequence.

Aboard the flagship the regular Thursday morning duties were observed. At 9:30 general quarters were sounded and for an hour practice work was indulged in.

Not for a moment during yesterday afternoon did the battleships give up their watchfulness. Soon after the noon hour a heavy storm came on, the sky being decidedly black. In the driving rain the impression entertained by the sailors was the probability that Commander Pillsbury would strike his blow on such a night as it promised to be.

But the adverse weather made the stations of the defending squadron along the Atlantic coast line all the more active and alert. Messages came in from various points, from Portland to Provincetown, with remarkable quickness.

To Puzzle "Enemy's" Spies.

In an hour the rain had passed, but the thick weather remained, and as dusk came on a mist crept over the surface of the water. It was a dark night. The darkness was just coming on when Admiral Higginson gave the order to his battleships to weigh anchor. So hurriedly had messages been given and so many trips did the dispatch launches make between the shore and the Kearsarge that it was thought the move this time was out to sea. The admiral, however, allowed the squadron to pass but a little to the south; in fact, nearer in shore and within hailing distance of Thatcher's island. The change of anchorage was brought about for two reasons. The admiral wished to keep his ships in varying locations and to puzzle the spies of the white squadron, whom it was firmly believed were strung along the coast. Again the admiral wished to get in touch with the Strait's mouth point life saving station, where was established last night an elaborate system of ricket signalling.

As the night wore on the sky lost little of its blackness, and the fact that a constant stream of messages from the north to the south showed clearly enough that the defending squadron feared the approach of Commander Pillsbury.

Miller In Trouble Again.

SETTLEMENT OF THE STRIKE.

Chairman of Wilkesbarre Committee Urges All to Make This Their Aim.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 22.—T. W. Hart, chairman of the Public Alliance of Wilkesbarre, issued an address to the press and public last night, in which he urges that every influence be used to bring about a settlement of the coal strike by arbitration. He says the situation is now becoming acute and threatens every business in the region.

The Warnke washery at Duryea prepared considerable coal for the market yesterday. The washery is still under heavy guard, but the strikers have made no attempt to interfere with the employes.

Doubt is expressed at strike headquarters that J. P. Morgan will use his influence with the presidents of the coal-carrying roads to bring the strike to a close, and the sub-district officers of the United Mine Workers are of the same opinion as their chief officer, John Mitchell, that the battle will have to be fought to a finish.

Lansford, Pa., Aug. 22.—The funeral of Strike Leader Patrick Sharp, who was shot and killed at Nesquehoning on Monday night, took place from his home here yesterday. The funeral was probably the largest ever witnessed in the coal region. Over 6,000 people, among whom were 1,000 women, participated in the two-mile march to St. Joseph's church, at Summit Hill, where services were held, and afterward followed the remains to the Catholic cemetery. No disturbance occurred.

Birthday Surprise.

About 30 friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Wyman, of Sixth street, surprised that gentleman at his home last night, reminding Mr. Wyman that he was 58 years of age that day, and that they were there to help him celebrate. Music and games were the principal amusements and refreshments were served at a late hour.

Don't Need the Money, But Don't Need the Goods.

What's the use of telling you the same thing over and over, about our Men's $15, $18 and $20 Suits that are selling now for $11.00? And about the 50c Underwear selling for 25c, or thereabouts?

It's just like this: The Fall goods are coming in—will be coming in every day now, and the Spring and Summer goods are in the way. It may not look reasonable to you that we should be willing to take 50c on the dollar for the balance of our Spring and Summer goods, but it is so, nevertheless, and it's good policy to do so. Losses, to be sure, but a business career is not all profits—not all sunshine. Men's and Boys' Clothing, Furnishings, etc., all at about half price. Are you interested?

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Dr. Andrews Very Ill—Dr. Robert Andrews, one of the oldest physicians of the city, is critically ill and his recovery is not looked for.

Rechabites' Social—Liberty tent, No. 29, Rechabites, held a very enjoyable social in their hall on Fifth street last night. The affair was largely attended, many who are not members of the order being present. A neat sum was netted, which will go into the treasury of the organization.

Coming Wedding—Invitations are out for the wedding of William Campbell and Miss Blanche Munsey, to take place at the home of the bride on Third street September 3. The contracting parties are very well known in the city, and the ceremony will be witnessed by a large number of their friends.

Repairs Nearly Finished—The repairs on the First Presbyterian church have progressed so well that the lecture room and primary room can be used. Sunday school will be held as usual next Sunday. The carpet will be down in the auditorium and regular services resumed by the first of next month.

Entertained Their Friends—Mr. and Mrs. George Frazier, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Deidrick, entertained last evening in honor of Miss Mabel and Mrs. Clarence Frazier, of Sharon, Pa. Dancing, games and music were indulged in till a late hour, when refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Frazier returned home this morning.

Six Years Old—Mary Miller, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Grant street, entertained about 25 friends today in honor of her sixth birthday.

SETTLEMENT OF THE STRIKE.

Chairman of Wilkesbarre Committee Urges All to Make This Their Aim.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 22.—T. W. Hart, chairman of the Public Alliance of Wilkesbarre, issued an address to the press and public last night, in which he urges that every influence be used to bring about a settlement of the coal strike by arbitration. He says the situation is now becoming acute and threatens every business in the region.

The Warnke washery at Duryea prepared considerable coal for the market yesterday. The washery is still under heavy guard, but the strikers have made no attempt to interfere with the employes.

Doubt is expressed at strike headquarters that J. P. Morgan will use his influence with the presidents of the coal-carrying roads to bring the strike to a close, and the sub-district officers of the United Mine Workers are of the same opinion as their chief officer, John Mitchell, that the battle will have to be fought to a finish.

Lansford, Pa., Aug. 22.—The funeral of Strike Leader Patrick Sharp, who was shot and killed at Nesquehoning on Monday night, took place from his home here yesterday. The funeral was probably the largest ever witnessed in the coal region. Over 6,000 people, among whom were 1,000 women, participated in the two-mile march to St. Joseph's church, at Summit Hill, where services were held, and afterward followed the remains to the Catholic cemetery. No disturbance occurred.

Birthday Surprise.

About 30 friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Wyman, of Sixth street, surprised that gentleman at his home last night, reminding Mr. Wyman that he was 58 years of age that day, and that they were there to help him celebrate. Music and games were the principal amusements and refreshments were served at a late hour.

Don't Need the Money, But Don't Need the Goods.

What's the use of telling you the same thing over and over, about our Men's $15, $18 and $20 Suits that are selling now for $11.00? And about the 50c Underwear selling for 25c, or thereabouts?

It's just like this: The Fall goods are coming in—will be coming in every day now, and the Spring and Summer goods are in the way. It may not look reasonable to you that we should be willing to take 50c on the dollar for the balance of our Spring and Summer goods, but it is so, nevertheless, and it's good policy to do so. Losses, to be sure, but a business career is not all profits—not all sunshine. Men's and Boys' Clothing, Furnishings, etc., all at about half price. Are you interested?

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Rechabites' Social—Liberty tent, No. 29, Rechabites, held a very enjoyable social in their hall on Fifth street last night. The affair was largely attended, many who are not members of the order being present. A neat sum was netted, which will go into the treasury of the organization.

Coming Wedding—Invitations are out for the wedding of William Campbell and Miss Blanche Munsey, to take place at the home of the bride on Third street September 3. The contracting parties are very well known in the city, and the ceremony will be witnessed by a large number of their friends.

Repairs Nearly Finished—The repairs on the First Presbyterian church have progressed so well that the lecture room and primary room can be used. Sunday school will be held as usual next Sunday. The carpet will be down in the auditorium and regular services resumed by the first of next month.

Entertained Their Friends—Mr. and Mrs. George Frazier, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Deidrick, entertained last evening in honor of Miss Mabel and Mrs. Clarence Frazier, of Sharon, Pa. Dancing, games and music were indulged in till a late hour, when refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Frazier returned home this morning.

A THOUSAND SPORTS STAYED UP LATE TO SEE THE FIGHT

After Much Tribulation the Bout Came Off at 2:23 O'Clock This Morning. Lutz Winning in the Third Round.

"You're easy, if that is as hard as you can hit."

It was Ed. Bunting, of Wellsville, who spoke. His remark brought forth the applause of the Wellsville sports who were backing him against Lawrence Lutz, the Beaver Falls boxer, who is making his headquarters in this city.

It was a bad break and only made the Wellsville man's finish the more apparent. The remark was called forth in the latter part of the second round when Lutz tapped Bunting a light one. The remark was probably true. Lutz would have been easy, if that had been his hardest. But it wasn't, as was shown when he jumped to the center in the third round and planted a right jag at a point where Bunting wears his collar.

The Wellsville youth went over like a ten pin. He rose to his feet just in time to receive another of the same kind. Before he could fall, however, Lutz landed another which sent the pride of Wellsville reeling clear across the ring. He dropped at the ring side and was counted out by Referee Jack Foley, of Youngstown, amid the wild cheers of the backers of Lutz.

Diamond alley was a busy place from 9 o'clock last evening. The managers of the Lutz-Bunting bout were having trouble in securing suitable fighting grounds. An effort had been mode to secure Rock Springs park, but the management would not agree to this. Finally a point was selected on the east of the park, in the vicinity of the reservoir.

Arrangements were made to take the crowd to a point on the Southside street cars and shortly after 11 o'clock cars were drawn up in the Diamond bringing the dancers from the park and then in the neighborhood of 1,000 sports took passage for the scene of the battle.

That was only the beginning of the trouble for the spectators. No tools were on the ground for the leveling off of a suitable ring and after numerous delays the rope was finally streched in a depression which gave a view from the rising ground on each side. This satisfied the crowd, but it was very poor ground for the combatants.

Lutz was slow in putting in an appearance and Bunting's backers made a pretense of claiming the forfeitmoney when the midnight hour was passed, on the grounds that the fight was to take place on the 21st. This matter was dropped and then Lutz attempted to claim the forfeit for the reason that Bunting was over weight. Lutz weighed 135 1-4 pounds and Bunting was about 10 pounds heavier.

After the patience of the crowd had been taxed considerably the men consented to go on. Jack Foley was selected as referee and while this matter was being settled a large number of side bets were made. George Webb officiated as time keeper. The Wellsville people were backing their man, and were finding takers for all they could put up. It is estimated that $500 changed hands at the ring side.

Bunting won the toss and chose the northeast corner, which gave him the advantage on the uneven ground. At the call of time, 2:23 a. m., both men jumped eagerly to the center of the ring and sparred for an opening. Lutz finally led for the face with his left, and Bunting countered with his right to the ribs. This exchange was repeated several times during the first round, which ended with honors even.

Bunting seemed to be more confident in the second, and led several times for the body. Lutz, in attempting to escape one of these blows, slipped and fell to his knee and the Bunting crowd yelled. The Wellsville man then received a light tap on the neck, and he smiled and made the remark quoted at the opening of this report.

Lutz told the men in his corner that he would finish Bunting in the third, and he was not long in going about it. Bunting attempted to rush matters and received a jolt from Lutz's right in the neck. He went down in his own corner, but was up again in an instant. He appeared dazed from the blow, and was quickly floored by another in the neck. This blow sent him reeling across the ring, and he fell at the feet of the spectators and was counted out.

The defeated man recovered shortly after the decision had been given and was assisted to his corner by his backers. Neither of the boys showed much punishment. The crowd arrived in this city on six street cars which had been held for them, at 3 o'clock this morning.

MAKES COMPLAINT

WIFE OF EX-MAIL CARRIER SMITH TELLS SORRY TALE.

A Warrant Is Sworn Out for the Arrest of the Husband.

Mrs. Mae Smith, the wife of Charles Smith, formerly a mail carrier of the city, appeared at the office of Mayor Davidson this morning and related a story of grievances which were enough to set any ordinary woman on the verge of hysterics.

Mrs. Smith stated that her husband refused to support her and that he did everything in his power to prevent her earning her own living. She stated that last evening her husband appeared at her home, located between Sixth and Seventh streets, in a drunken condition.

According to the story told the mayor by the wife, Smith was not choice in the language he used both to her and the few boarders which she has. She finally swore out a warrant, charging Smith with drunkenness and disorderly conduct and the use of abusive language.

The warrant was issued and Smith will probably be arrested today. This is not the first time the husband has been accused of mistreating his family and, it is said it was his intemperate habits that caused his dismissal from the local mail carrier force. The neighbors in the vicinity of the home of the wife state that they will testify to his disorderly conduct.

BOARD ORGANIZED

Deputy Supervisors of Election Held Business Meeting at a Picnic.

At the Township Line picnic, which was held at McIntosh's grove yesterday, a meeting of the deputy state supervisors of election was held and every member was present with the exception of James N. Hanley, of this city, who had been clerk of the board for a number of years. He was absent on business. All the members of the old board were present, and in the place of Mr. Hanley, Mr. Beacom acted as clerk.

There was not much business for the members to transact, other than to reorganize, and this was done by the election of George S. Walton, of Salem, Democrat, as permanent clerk. To the office of chief deputy, J. A. Martin, Republican, of Lisbon, was elected.

The new members of the board are Attorney L. T. Tarr, Republicans, of Rogers, and Charles McMillan, Democrat, of Salem.

The next meeting of the board will be held at Lisbon September 6.

MARSHALL-KNOWLES

Wedding of Much Local Interest to Be Quietly Celebrated Next Week.

Invitations have been issued announcing the marriage of Homer Knowles and Miss Alma Marshall, which is to take place Wednesday, August 27, at high noon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Marshall, of the Southside.

Owing to a recent death in the Knowles family the affair will be robbed of much of its intended splendor, and only the families and intimate friends of the young people will be present.

HUCKLE'S BAD FIX

William Huckle, well known in East Liverpool through his attempt to lead a crusade on behalf of good government in this city some seven years ago, has got into bad repute in New Jersey. Just now he is reported busily engaged in dodging the officers of that state in an endeavor to keep himself out of prison for blackmail. A special from Newark, N. J., tells the story, sating that Huckle and a woman named Gaddis have been at work in various sections of that state. The evangelist is reported to have had a difficulty with a German woman and as a result to have received a beating while the woman who was with him lost some of her jewelry.

For several weeks the dispatch says Huckle was on very friendly terms with Newark liquor dealers. It is charged that he agreed not to molest them for Sunday selling if they assisted him financially. He had one man arrested but withdrew the charge before the payment of fine and costs, $5.40.

It is claimed he wanted to raise $40 a short time ago, after having been disappointed in the proceeds of a lecture he delivered in Newark, and made demands on officers of the liquor dealers' association. He was paid $20 in the saloon of Secretary Hayes of the association, in marked bills, and his arrest followed. He was locked up, but released after five hours, it being discovered that no warrant had been issued or formal complaint made.

Next a complaint charging black mail and false pretense was drawn up and a warrant issued for Huckle's arrest.

The special says that complaints which were entered by Huckle against two saloon men were withdrawn after $5.40 had been paid to the justice and to Huckle. The liquor dealers' association passed a resolution warmly denouncing Huckle.

Huckle left Newark and failed to appear when 14 complaints brought by him as agent of the anti-saloon league, charging Sunday selling, were to be tried. This, it is said, is the first time he nas failed to appear on such an occasion. There are a number of other complaints for a hearing on the 24th, but Huckle is not expected to appear. He is the complainant in 15 cases in New Brunswick, N. J., which are now likely never to be heard.

WOMEN ARE OUT UPON A STRIKE

The Glost Warehouse Girl Employes at Goodwin's Have a Grievance.

THEIR LOCAL TAKES ACTION

Claim That They Are Entitled to Extra Pay for Certain Class of Work. Matters Brought to an Issue Last Night.

The women employed in the glost warehouse at the Goodwin Pottery company plant are out on a strike. The girls were ordered out at the regular meeting of the Warehousewomen's local last evening. The trouble has been brewing for some time.

The women claim that they have the dressing of the kilns by the piece, and that they are entitled to extra days the same as the glost kilnmen when extra pin ware is placed in the kiln.

The matter was reported to the Brotherhood officials and they were unable to reach an agreement with the members of the Goodwin firm. At a special meeting last Saturday evening a committee was appointed from the warehousewomen's local to meet with the members of the firm, but they could not secure an audience, they say.

The action of the women last evening will have the effect of bringing matters to an issue. It is the custom at other plants to give the girls additional pay for additional pin ware in the kilns.

The members of the firm stated positively that there was no trouble at their plant.

BOYS FOUND BEGGING

East Liverpool Youths Who Ran Away Stranded at Irondale.

The police authorities receivede notice this morning of the appearance at Irondale of four youths who hail from East Liverpool. The boys were of tender years and they were begging their breakfast.

It was thought they had left home without the consent of their parents and notice was sent here of their whereabouts. The boys said they were on their way to Salineville.

Hospital Lots Sold.

Two of the hospital lots were sold this morning, and the indications are that all will be disposed of in a short time by some one of the real estate men interested. The prices have been fixed at a figure that will enable anyone desiring an investment to make something. The lots are well located and the prices are reasonable.

THE NASH CODE AGAIN CHANGED

Under It Towns of 5,000 Population Will Become Cities.

It Is Said the Solicitor General Will Resign to Run for That Office—Sunday Scholl Association Officers' Tour of Ohio.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 22.—Governor Nash made several amendments to his code bill yesterday, one of them being the changing of the dividing line between cities from 10,000 to 5,000. Five thousand seems to be the popular mark. It is also reported the governor has stricken out from the code all that part relating to registration, boards of equalization, assessment of property and the election laws. In line with the suggestion of Justice Shauck, it is said the governor will recommend in his message to the legislature that three bi-partisan commissions be appointed to draft school and election laws and to formulate a salary bill for county officers. Representative Pollock, of Stark county, was in the city yesterday and stated that he favored the passage of a school code and all other matters which need attention at the special session. He is a candidate to succeed Senator George H. Wilhelm. He was the labor representative on the floor of the house both in the recent session and the preceding one.

Hon. Clement L. Brumbaugh, of Darke county, leader of the minority in the house, today issued a signed statement in which he expressed approval of the Nash code. He believes it to be drawn in the interest of the whole state, says it should and will pass and promises to do all in his power to bring this about. He declares politics should not enter into its consideration.

Statistics prepared in the office of the secretary of state for the year ending June 30 show that 13,504 prisoners were confined in the county jails, a decrease of 273 compared with the preceding year. Of these 8,638 were born in Ohio; 3,143 in other states; 443 in Germany; 365 in Ireland; the total foreign born being 1,725. The prisoners under age numbered 1,926. It cost $115,361.87 to keep them, about $15,000 less than for the year before.

The Ohio Sunday School association this week began in inspiritional tour which will include visits to all the county Sunday school associations in the state. The officials hope to attend all the county gatherings and will make tours in the fall and spring. This is the initial trip. The adoption of the plan was largely through the efforts of Rev. J. A. Platts, now pastor of a Presbyterian church in Allegheny, who was formerly secretary of the East Liverpool Y. M. C. A. Rev. F. F. Fitch, of Tontogany, has succeeded him on the state association. The date for visiting Columbiana county has not yet been announced.

The cause assigned for the prospective resignation of Hon. J. K. Richards, solicitor general general of the United States, is that he intends to return to Ohio and be a candidate for governor. This statement is made on the authority of Richards' father-in-law, of Ironton. It is denied that he intends to form a law parnership with Abner McKinley.

Captain A. W. Stiles, superintendent of the Girls' Industrial Home, who was charged with treating the inmates inhumanely, has tendered his resignation, to take effect October 1.

A traveling library of 27 volumes has been sent from the state library to the Thursday Reading club, of Leetonia, of which Mabel B. Harper is librarian.

President Nice Will Try to Get It Together And Down to Business.

President Nice, of the finance committee, has called a meeting of that body for Monday afternoon at 2:30.

There are a number of matters which the committee should have considered some time ago, but it has been impossible to get the body together.

A member of the finance committee stated this morning that, while the city had very little money to look after at present, there were other duties requiring its attention almost constantly. "We might just as well have no finance committee," said he, "if we don't get down to business and do something. The committee has done nothing aside from fixing the tax levy, and we had a hard time interesting a sufficient number of members to do that. There is not a more important department in the entire city government, and it should be looked after more promptly."

Harry B. McConnell, editor of the Cadiz Republican, was in the city yesterday. Mr. McConnell is about to become the owner of the Republican, which is one of the most prominent of the weekly publications of the state. He is a young man and has been engaged in the newspaper business for a number of years in Harrison county. Mr. McConnell said in speaking of Cadiz:

"We have four banks and two of them have over $1,000,000 on deposit in each. There are two gas companies supplying the town, and the population is about 2,000. For its size, Cadiz is certainly more advanced than East Liverpool.

VIOLENTLY INSANE

A Wellsville Man Who Is to Have a Hearing Before Judge Boone.

Lisbon, August 22. — (Special) — Amos Russell, of Wellsville, who is violently insane, will be brought before Judge Boone this afternoon for examination.

Local Reorganized.

President A. S. Hughes, of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, went to Tiltonville yesterday afternoon, where he last evening reorganized local No. 14. This local has been dead for some time, but now that the shop has been started under new management and is running full the old local was reorganized. The local starts off with a good membership.

Pittsburgers Wedded Here.

John J. Lutz and Miss Olive C. Frommeyer, both of Pittsburg, came to this city this week and for several days have been visiting at the home of friends. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon they appeared at 'Squire Rose's and were made man and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Lutz will leave for their home in Pittsburg this evening. He is proprietor of a billiard room in that city.

WILL CONTEST IS INSTITUTED

GROUNDS OF COMPLAINT

Charging that their sister, Mrs. Eliza Ella Rees, of Trenton, had exerted undue influence upon her father, George H. Slack, in securing a conveyance of his property in Trenton, George W. Slack, of Trenton, N. J., and Robert M. Slack, superintendent of the decorating department of the D. E. McNicol pottery of this city, at Trenton Wednesday began suit in the court of chancery to have the conveyance set aside.

The suit brought by the two brothers against their sister, according to the facts alleged in the bill of complaint, was the outcome of a continued effort on the part of Mrs. Rees to have herself made the sole heir of her parents, with whom she formerly lived on Bayard street, Trenton.

The father, George H. Slack, died last week, surviving his wife, Mrs. Sarah C. Slack, but six days. For more than four years prior to his death, according to the bill, Mr. Slack was in ill health, being easily excitable, exceedingly nervous and rendered mentally irresponsible by reason of his health.

For several months prior to his death, Mr. Slack, who was 68 years old, was unable to care for himself, and it is alleged that for several weeks before the end came his daughter, Mrs. Rees, sought to influence him to dispose of the property so that she would be the sole beneficiary, instead of sharing the estate with her brothers, as the heirs at law, should her father die intestate.

It is narrated in the bill that a few months before her father died Mrs. Rees visited his home on Bayard street when her mother was ill. Upon Mr. Slack learning that his daughter had procured a will from her mother by which she would be sole beneficiary in the event of his dying before his wife, it is alleged that he ordered his daughter from the house.

It is further charged that in the month of June Mrs. Rees, without the knowledge of her brother, George W. Slack, caused her father and mother to be removed from their home on Bayard street to her home at 278 Bellevue avenue. One week later, it is alleged, Mrs. Rees sought to have her mother committed to the state hospital above Trenton as a county or pauper patient, despite the fact that Mr. Slack, Sr., was well able to provide for his wife. This, it is charged, was in furtherance of her scheme to possess herself of all the estate of her parents.

George W. Slack, learning from his father of the attempt to have his mother so committed, protested, but consented to her confinement as a paid patient.

A week ago last Sunday, the day before Mrs. Slack was buried, Mr. Slack called his son to him and, referring to the death of their mother and the near approach of his own death, said:

"Robert, whatever happens to me, now that your mother is dead, I want to tell you that I intend that you three children shall get an equal share when I am gone."

The next day the senior Mr. Slack was taken violently ill at the home of his daughter, and it is alleged that his daughter procured the services of Henry D. Phillips, a lawyer, directing him to draw a deed conveying to her all the real estate owned by her father. The deed, it is set forth, was executed late that night, the expressed consideration being "one dollar and affection." It is charged that Mr. Slack was not of sound mind when he signed the conveyance and that his signature was procured by fraud and misrepresentation on the part of his daughter.

It is declared in the bill that in her efforts to influence her dying father, Mrs. Rees told him that his sons had defrauded him; that his son George had taken advantage of him in his business, and that they had refused

EAST LIVERPOOL'S WHIRLWIND START

Bauman, the Crack Pitcher for the Visitors, Failed to Fool the Locals. Maley Pitched a Fine Game—Score, 9 to 1.

His name is Bauman, or he may spell it Bowman under certain conditions. It is safe to say that he would like to have it used in the manner he is not so well known by. When he isn't doing anything else he occupies the rubber for the crack—this is used on the authority of almost any of the Pittsburg papers—Homestead base ball team. Something must have been radically wrong yesterday afternoon. The young man who gave the appearance at the beginning of the game of being too valuable to even lose any of his energy in stooping to pick up a ball was unable to tell just exactly which state he was in after the locals came to bat in the first inning.

It was some time before the pitcher, who is claimed to be the best in western Pennsylvania—according to the papers above referred to—was able to find the plate. As soon as he was able to do this the members of the local team had fathomed his curves and found the ball about as often as he found the plate.

Seven runs and five hits were all that were rapped out and brought in before there was even a single out, and the crowd was in its glory. And there was a good crowd in attendance and not slow to tell the visitors what they thought of their playing. Even after Bauman settled down his support was very bad and he could not have been blamed if he had gone up in the air; but he didn't, and after the first inning it was a good game with the exception of several punky plays on the part of the visitors.

and let Homestead down with four hits. The only score made by the visitors was in the third inning. Davis erred on McCloskey's grounder and the latter stole second and scored on a two-base hit by Nagle. Before and after that it was almost one, two, three order, as Maley was given the best of support throughout the game.

The slaughter of the innocents began with Maag, the first man up for the locals. He rapped out a pretty single. Maag then beat out the ball in an attempt to force him at second when Godwin hit to the pitcher. Brown was hit by a pitched ball and the bases were filled. Davis also managed to get in front of the ball and the first run was forced in. "Foxy Grandpa" then made good with a long single and Godwin and Brown scored.

Reark was not to be outdone and landed for two bases and two more runs were added. Reark then scored on Webb's single and the latter stole second and third just to get Bauman in a good humor. Webb scored on a two-baggger by Emmerling and the run getting was over for that innning. Maley and Maag struck out and Godwin was thrown out at first.

Bauman then settled down and the locals did not score again until the seventh inning, when with two out Reark went to first on an error by the shortstop. Webb then hit a high fly which all the Homestead players seemed to want, with the usual result that no one got it and Reark scored.

In the eighth Maag hit to left field and Mullen muffed, Maag reaching second. The runner managed to score on Godwin's hit.

Let's see. It now stands, Homestead 2, East Liverpool 2. That's not so bad when the visitors took two straight from Atlantic City.

Newspaper base ball and the kind that is played on the diamond are not the same.

Fred Brown, of Beaver Falls, who has done good work on the Rochester team, was in left for the locals and gave a good account of himself. He picked off a nice long fly that would have been good for at least two bases.

Maag was in the game again and put up his usual first-class playing. He prevented Emmerling from scoring in the third inning, however, when he cut first and was called out after making a clean single.

Marshall appeared to be the especial kick of the kidders, but he was able to take it good naturedly.

Bauman would be more thought of if he would forget that the grand stand was on the field. The locals almost made him wish it was, in the first innning.

Finch umpired a good game and it was very few times that his decision was questioned by the fans.

Maley was in the best of condition

Maag's error was made on a throw to first after making a difficult stop.

Winters will be in the box this afternoon and he is expected to follow Maley's example.

FOR A BEATING

The Sum of $5,000 Is Demanded of a Hotel Proprietor's Wife.

Steubenville, August 22.—Mrs. Tennie C. Kibbler is plaintiff in a suit for $5,000 damages against Mrs. Mollie Kelly, wife of Landlord Kelly, of the Anderson hotel. Mrs. Kibbler worked at the hotel. Last Saturday she wanted to take her trunk away, when there was objection and a fight followed. Mrs. Kibbler was struck over the arm with a club and terribly beaten. With her bruises undressed she went to the mayor's office and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Kelly. Later the hotel proprietress was taken before the mayor and bound over to court in the sum of $200.

Two hours later Mrs. Kelly had Mrs. Kibbler arrested in 'Squire Love's court for various charges, including disorderly conduct. She was kept in jail until Sunday morning, when she was released.

Mrs. Kibbler, through Attorney Medill, filed a claim for damages against Mrs. Kelly.

ROBERT L WON

East End Horses Conspicuous In the Races Run Near East Palestine.

Much interest is manifested in the East End over the races which are being run at the Petersburg track, near East Palestine, and in which several horses from the Columbian park track have been entered. In the 2:20 race at this track yesterday afternoon, Robert L., owned by William Larkins, of this city, won the event, his time being quoted at 2:22. In another race the horse, Dr. Morris was entered, and reports received in the East End last evening give that event to him, making two races won by horses from the East End.

Robert L. was driven by William Humble of this city. The races will close this afternoon, and the three horses from the East End who are now at the Petersburg track, are expected to arrive in the East End tomorrow.

To Build Temporary Stalls.

The contract for the erection of a large number of stalls at the Columbian park race track to be used during the Tri-State fair which will be held there in October was let yesterday, but the work of building them will not commence for several weeks yet. On one side of the track there will be 38 stalls, while in another part of the park about 77 will be built. The stalls will have a canvas top cover, and will be more of the skeleton order, unlike those now at the park. They will be used for a week only.

Widening the Road.

The work of filling in the river bank at the power house, for the purpose of widening the road, will be finished within a week. It will take about this time to complete the excavating for the new plant to be erected by the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company, and all the filling-in is the earth taken from the excavating. When this task is completed, the street railway company may straighten its tracks at this point and enlarge its switching capacity at the car barn.

No Word From Steubenville.

Members of street railway employes division No. 52 are wondering why they have received no work from the officers of the new local at Steubenville relative to the settlement of the recent dispute between the company and the men, if the disqute has been adjusted. The local street railway men claim they did so much for the new local, assisting in organization, it was as little as they could do to send some word as to how they were progressing.

O. U. A. M. Meeting.

Those candidates who were to be initiated by Ohio Valley council No. 23, O. U. A. M., last evening, failed to appear to go through the work. Several applications for membership were presented and the meeting was a very interesting one. The committee revising the by-laws made a report, but its work is not yet completed.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Fetty, of Dixonville, yesterday.

Ned Mowen left yesterday for Deerfield to visit old friends.

The next meeting of the session of the Second U. P. church will be held early next month.

Bourke Cockran, He Alleged, Was One Plaintiff In Merger Suit.

New York, Aug. 22.—Lawyer George Alfred Lamb, attorney for Peter Power, went on the stand yesterday and told all he knew about the Northern Pacific merger suit. He named the men who, with Power as plaintiff and Captain Henry Stern as go-between, he said, had hoped to conceal their connection with the litigation and keep their identity hidden. Those he named were: W. Bourke Cockran, Camille Weidenfeld, H. Tonent & Co. and Edwin R. Thomas, of the firm of Thomas & Post, Wall street bankers and brokers.

The story of Power's wandering came out and a plan to send him to Europe was revealed, as was his quasi connection with the suit at issue. Lamb said that he was practically forced by the people back of him to send Power away and that they paid the expenses of his trip to West Hurley and to Montreal.

W. Bourke Cockran, in an interview last night, characterized all the testimony relating to him as false in every detail.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Michigan City, Ind., Aug. 21.—The thirty-sixth biennial convention of the Evangelical Lutheran joint synod of Ohio and other states, an organization that embraces all the states of the union, began in this city yesterday and will end Aug. 27. Three hundred delegates are in attendance. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. C. H. Schutte, D. D., of Columbus, O., president of the synod. The convention considered the affairs of the eleemosnary institutions and the board of aid, the latter for the support of needy pastors and teachers.

The synod owns and supports the Capital University and Seminary, of Columbus, O.; the Lutheran seminary at St. Paul, Minn.; Teachers' seminary at Woodville, O.; the Preparatory school at Hickory, N. C.; the Wernie Orphans' home at Richmond, Ind., and is at present erecting an Old Folks' home at Mars, Pa. The synod passed a resolution providing that pastors and teachers shall contribute 1 per cent of their salaries to the board of aid, and that the congregations shall be asked for annual offerings for the use of the board.

SPECULATIVE LIQUIDATION.

Active In Yesterday's Stock Market. Selling Movement Urgent at Close.

New York, Aug. 22.—Active speculative liquidation became manifest in yesterday's stock market and at the close the selling movement was urgent and somewhat precipitated. During the earlier part of the day some stand was made against the tendency to depression, and a few stocks were pushed up at different times as sustaining influence on the market, but the selling to realize elsewhere in the market was steadily going on all the time. With the exception of Texas and Pacific and Ontario and Western the other demonstrations of strength were in minor railroad and industrial stocks. The acute weakness of Colorado Fuel, which carried it down in the late dealings 8 points, was also an unsettling influence upon the whole market. The failure of the speculative operator who has led the advance in the stock to obtain control of the property has resulted in heavy speculative liquidation.

Extravagant as were the expectations as to the promptitude and extent of the measures which Mr. Morgan would take to improve the situation, there was some disappointment yesterday morning over the delay. The hope seemed to be that Mr. Morgan's hurried visit to his office immediately upon landing from the steamer would result in the settlement offhand of all the various problems which have accumulated during his absence of several months.

Wednesday's professed confidence in the abundance of funds for speculative purposes was changed yesterday. The engagement Wednesday night of $100,000 by telegraphic transfer through the sub-treasury to Cincinnati came too late for effect upon the stock market. That shipment was supplemented yesterday by another one of $100,000 to New Orleans. And the fear was awakened that the interior movement of currency has fairly set in.

The effort which is being made in certain quarters to enable the Democrats to pool issues of the labor unions of the Eighteenth district and secure the support of the latter for a Democratic candidate for congress has not received the approval of the Trades and Labor council of this city and it is altogether unlikely that it will do so. The labor unions of East Liverpool are largely made up of Republicans. They recognize the fact that the workingmen of this district owe none of their prosperity to the Democrats and a great deal to the Republicans. They are intelligent men and will not support a party that is hostile to the protective tariff and the workingmen's interests. The Democratic scheme is foredoomed to failure. Commenting on it the Youngstown Telegram has the following, which represents the labor sentiment of East Liverpool as well as it does that of Youngstown: "The Democratic party of the Eighteenth district, being too cowardly to make a fight in the open on issues of the day, is trying to persuade union labor to draw Democratic chestnuts from the fire. It is well that the scheme is known at this early date, for publicity is certain to destroy the schemes of these cheap politicians. The workingmen of Youngstown and the Eighteenth district will not be fooled by this Democratic dodge. The Republican party has been true to them."

The legislature is almost ready to meet to discuss code legislation. So far East Liverpool has made no formal declaration of what she considers desirable in the way of laws under which the city is to be governed. Most people appear to be satisfied that the legislature, with the Nash bill as a guide, will enact a wise and proper measure. Senator Connell's offer to meet and confer with citizens, learn their wishes and try to carry them out, has not been accepted, and it is now so late that it is unlikely any concerted movement of the sort will be made. Still it is not too late for citizens who have ideas on the subject to formulate them and present them in writing to the senator. Mr. Connell, although a young and new member of the senate, has already won his way to prominence among the Ohio lawmakers and is an influential figure in the general assembly. Governor Nash has already enlisted his aid in drafting the proposed code, and it is conceded that Mr. Connell will take a prominent and active part in the legislation to be enacted. East Liverpool people, therefore, can feel assured that their ideas and wishes regarding the code will receive due consideration, if presented to the senator.

The death of General Franz Sigel removes another of the conspicuous figures of the civil war. He was a strong and able man and one of the most popular of the union commanders.

An engaged girl in Connecticut is prosecuting her fiance for kissing her. What sort of girls do they raise down in Connecticut, anyway?

The price of anthracite coal is still soaring skyward. Towns in the natural gas belt have a good deal to be thankful for.

Schwab has started for Europe again. Perhaps the bank at Monte Carlo will put up its shutters.

The person who drinks Ohio river water unboiled or unfiltered is inviting typhoid fever.

If General De Wet writes a book he is quite likely to find himself under fire once more.

Robert W. Billingsley.

Lisbon, August 22. — (Special) — Robert W. Billingsley, eldest son of Judge N. G. Billingsley, died this morning at Riverside hospital here. He had been ill since Monday night, but had been regarded as seriously ill since yesterday noon, when he was found to have appendicitis. He was removed from the Hostetter house, where the family lives, to the hospital, and Dr. Allen, a noted surgeon of Cleveland, and a an assistant were summoned. An operation was performed last evening and the patient was found suffering also from peritonitis. He did not rally after the operation. He was about 22 years old and a most popular young man. His is the first death in the Young Men's lyceum, organized six years ago. On Wednesday last he was appointed superintendent of the local office of the Pittsburg, Lisbon & Western railroad, to take effect September 1.

George Havelock.

George Havelock, aged 60, who has been a night watchman in the Wellsville rolling mill for some time past, died at noon Wednesday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Alexander. Mr. Havelock resided on Hill street in Wellsville and about two weeks ago went to Knoxville, a suburb of Pittsburg, to visit. He was taken suddenly ill and died after being sick only a few days. He leaves a wife and five children, three of which are boys. Funeral services were held in Knoxville today.

George C. Baxter.

The funeral of George C. Baxter took place this morning from his late home in Middle Run. Interment was made at the Flats cemetery, a Wellsville minister officiating. Mrs. Elson, of Magnolia, a sister of the dead man, came to Chester last evening to attend the funeral. Mr. Baxter was a pioneer resident of Hancock county, and was one of the best known and most prosperous farmers of Grant district.

SAGE CONDEMNS TRUSTS.

Financier Declared They Are a Menace to True Government.

New York, Aug. 22.—Russell Sage, in an interview yesterday, referred to a published statement quoting J. Pierpont Morgan as saying that the era of the great trusts had just begun and that more gigantic corporations are stored in the near future, some of which may overshadow the steel trust. Mr. Sage said in part:

"Whether Mr. Morgan said that or not, combinations of all industries are a menace to true government. Not only so, but they are the oppressors of the people."

"What will be the result of such an era?" asked the reporter.

"In such an event the American people will revolt against them, and there will be financial ruin the like of which this country has never seen—or any other."

to care for him and would not come to see him in his last hours.

The truth, on the other hand, is charged in the bill to be that Mrs. Rees concealed from her brothers the critical condition of their father until she had procured the conveyance, it also being set forth that George W. Slack conducted his father's business for many years at mechanic's wages. The sons, it is said, were deprived of the privilege of caring for their father by the surreptitious act of Mrs. Rees in conveying their parents to her home without their knowledge or consent.

On these grounds it is asked that Mrs. Rees and her husband, Albert Rees, be required to make answer to the bill of complaint and that the deed be set aside as having been obtained through fraud.

PICKED UP A DOG

In Return Jack Parker Was Picked Up And Landed in Jail.

John Parker, who resides just east of this city, was arrested last evening by Chief Thorn and lodged in jail charged with attempting to steal a valuable dog.

It seems that John had become a little enthusiastic over the prize fight and had partaken of an overdose of whisky. He espied a very pretty fox terrier which he thought he would like to possess. Gathering it up in his arms he started towards the depot.

Chief Thorn noticing the man's actions at once placed him under arrest and freed the dog. Upon investigation it was found that the dog belonged to Bert Askins, who is at present visiting at the home of William Davidson on Main street. The dog was secured by its owner a few hours after the incident. Parker will be given a hearing some time today.

COUNCIL MEETING

Called for This Evening to Dispose of Unfinished Business.

A call for a special meeting of council to be held this evening has been issued by Mayor Fogo and Solicitor Boyd. Through the failure of council to get together last Monday this action has been made necessary. The meeting is called for the express purpose of cleaning up unfinished business.

It is expected that the matter of paving Cemetery Hill will be brought up and also that the contract will be let to Mayor Fogo and C. C. Ewing for furnishing the city with their patent flush tank feeders, which were introduced and approved by council several weeks ago. It is also stated that the question of whether Wellsville will have clean streets in the future or not will be brought up and some definite action taken in this important matter.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS

Soon to Form an Organization in Wellsville—Officer Davis Promoting It.

The Spanish-American war veterans of this city and also those who were engaged in the war with Filipinos are about to start a camp here. According to the rules of the state organization it will require 15 men to organize a camp, and in order to get that many together, both the Spanish-American and the Philippine war soldiers will have to join hands.

Officer Davis, of the local police force, is the prime mover of the project and will have the organization perfected within a week or two.

Trades Council Further Considers Arrangements For the Big Celebration.

Trades and labor council last evening made additional arrangements for Labor Day. On the regular program, to be given out by the special committee after their meeting next Monday evening, there will be foot races, ladies' potato races, bicycle races, three-legged races and fat men's races. There will also be two baseball games, one between the clerks' union and the painters' union, and one between two outside professional teams. The temporary dancing pavilion to be built on the grounds will be covered in case of rain. Two bands have also been secured.

At the meeting last night the old unfair list of merchants, which, it will remembered, existed during the rolling mill strike, was declared abolished and all were placed on the fair list.

The matter of uniforms was left in the hands of each individual order. Refreshments will be plentiful. All merchants were requested to take part in the parade.

SCHWAB EN ROUTE TO EUROPE.

Sailed Yesterday—Said Departure Was Due to Need of Vacation, Not Ill Health.

New York, Aug. 22.—Charles M Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, sailed for Europe yesterday on the steamship La Lorraine. He appeared to be in good health except for the fact that he leaned heavily on a cane which he held in his right hand.

"My arrangements for my trip abroad," he said, "were made so hurriedly that until I arrive I don't know where I shall go or what I shall do. You can say, however, that I have not resigned and also that I am not in bad health. The reason for my hurried departure is not because of ill health, but because I want and need a vacation like everyone else. I must go away now if I want to go at all, because if I should wait much longer winter would be here and it would be too late. Business will not enter into my trip at all."

While he was talking a photographer took pictures of the young ironmaster, who did not know that he was being taken until Mr. Perkins, of J. P. Morgan & Co., who had come to bid Mr. Schwab bon voyage, began to laugh. When Mr. Schwab discovered the photographer, he laughed also, and said: "Well, you are a good one. I'll pose for you anyway." He then stepped out into the light and the camera man snapped picture after picture.

Enjoyable Hay Ride.

A hay ride was given last evening under the direction of the National club, and was a most enjoyable affair. The party was composed of 32 couples, and four wagons were used. One wagon conveyed the refreshments to the country. The party went near Fredricktown, leaving their club rooms on Washington street about 8 o'clock, and returned to the city after midnight.

LOTS OF DISCUSSION

At Chester Council Meeting — Town Sergeant to Collect Road Tax.

A meeting of the Chester council which was noticeable for its lack of business was held last evening. All the members of the body with the exception of Messrs. Wells and Hough were present. Mayor Shrader presided and Solicitor O. S. Marshall was also in attendance.

When the reports of standing committees were called for another lengthy discussion in regard to the mayor's report ensued. The discussion was in regard as to whether or not the mayor's docket should be used to account for fines received by the town sergeant.

Solicitor Marshall was appealed to in the matter, and it was his opinion that it was not necessary for the mayor's docket to account for moneys not received by the mayor.

Councilman Riley brought up the question of road tax and advocated that council appoint some one to collect this tax, as nearly all the citizens refused to work them out on the roads as they were only paid $1.25 per day for their labor.

It was decided that it was not necessary for the appointment of another collector to collect this tax and the town sergeant was authorized to perform the work.

The session then adjourned.

The Ball Game Between West End and Cadiz a Very One-Sided Affair.

There was to have been a baseball game at Rock Springs yesterday afternoon between the West End Athletic club of this city and the Cadiz team, it turned out to be a farce. The score resulted in a victory for the West End team by a score of 17 to 5. Vasbinder, of Salineville, Cadiz and Cleveland, went in the box to pitch for his old home team, Cadiz, and in one inning he was batted out of the box. The game was a walkover as far as the West End players were concerned.

After the third inning Vasbinder was relieved by his brother, who also has a reputation as a pitcher. He seemed to be a better man, for only five runs were made from him. In the third inning six hits, three bases on balls and a total of nine runs were made off the local "Vasey." Score by innings:

Cadiz.....0 0 0 2 0 1 2 0 0— 5

Dick Johnson Seized With a Singular Affliction While at Work.

Dick Johnston, a plate jiggerman employed at the C. C. Thompson pottery, is ill at his home on Carolina avenue, Chester, suffering with a very peculiar ailment. He worked several hours yesterday when he was suddenly stricken speechless. He was taken to his home in Chester and medical aid summoned. He was still bereft of speech today, but his medical advisers say he will recover it.

Mr. Johnston was coon hunting on Wednesday night, and it is thought perhaps he contracted a cold which settled in his throat.

Opposed to Prize Fights.

Frank Rambo, on whose premises in Lawrenceville the prize fight was pulled off last night, is indignant because the Chester authorities did not stop the battle. A number of other Chester residents expressed themselves in no uncertain terms, saying they were law-abiding and would not longer tolerate such affairs.

Attended by Crowds.

Ralph Marsh, the aged resident of Middle Run, who fell from a berth on a lake steamer last week, is much improved and will be out within a few days. Mr. Marsh is a member of the East Liverpool G. A. R. and several of the members have been looking after him since the accident.

CHESTER NOTES.

E. S. Good is in New Cumberland today.

County Clerk Armour Cooper was in Chester yesterday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Weaver and family, of Sixth street, are guests of friends in Steubenville.

GEN. FRANZ SIGEL DEAD.

Noted Soldier Passed Away, After Few Days' Illness.

New York, Aug. 22.—General Franz Sigel died at his home, No. 563 Mott avenue, this city, at 11:45 o'clock yesterday. He had been ailing for two years, the result of old age and general breakdown, but it was only on Sunday last that he finally took to his bed.

Gen. Sigel was born in Baden, Nov. 18, 1824, and was graduated from the military school in Carlsruhe in 1843.

He served in the German army for a time, was a distinguished officer in the Baden revolution, retreated with his army to Switzerland, later went to England and to the United States where he had a distinguished career in the Union army, served in the regular army and had a notable career in the arts of peace, after his resignation from the army.

Cholera Morbus.

This is an extremely dangerous disease. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from it, and in many instances before a physician could be summoned or medicine obtained. Mrs. E. H. Delano, of Durant, Mich., is subject to severe attacks of cholera morbus. During the past four years she has kept at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and says it has always given her quick relief. During this time she has used two bottles of it. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. The safe way is to keep it at hand ready for instant use. WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

FROM PEORIA.

The Crown pottery, located in this city, and operated by the Crown Potteries company, is running as usual, but owing to the lack of room the clay hands were compelled to loaf for a few days recently. Six biscuit kilns are being made each pay, and this is a record the kilnmen feel proud of. So far the glost kilnmen have making seven glost kilns a pay.

Ware has been collecting upon the glost ware room employes, and they expect the company to furnish more help to get it dressed. The glost kiln men, it is stated, expect to make 10 kilns a pay very soon, and they are now working up to that point. By so doing the shop will be operated to its capacity.

Walter Smith, a well known workman at this shop, who has been off with a broken hand for several weeks, has recovered from his injury and he is now able to be back at his work. His injury was a most painful one.

John Ryan, who until recently was employed at the Dresden at East Liverpool, is now working in this shop as a glost kiln hand. He came here about a week ago.

Samuel Thomas, who has been spending his vacation in California, and other western states, has returned to Peoria, and his health has been much improved by his trip. He has resumed work.

There was an article in a potters' paper in East Liverpool recently referring to Mr. L. Wolf, the efficient manager of the New Castle pottery. The potters of this shop are up in arms against the author. It is their wish that Mr. Wolf should learn that the employes were no party to the article, as the author apparently spoke only for himself.

FOOTBALL CLUBS.

Now that a good football team has been organized at the Laughlin pottery in the East End, it is to be hoped that other potteries in the city will follow suit and organize teams, as all the best foot ballists, or in fact a majority of them, are employed in the clay shops. This being the case, why not organize a football league, composed from a number of potteries in the city, and go into the game with one idea in view, that of uplifting the sport instead of degrading it, as is frequently the case when a lot of scrub teams enter the field? Organize a league with six teams in it, and play games at different intervals. The attendance will be large, and the results will be a success both from a financial and sporting point of view. The time is now ripe for such a move, and it is to be hoped that the suggestion will be carried out. Grounds are available in all parts of the city, in the East End, West End, and on the South side. Games like those played last season between the Laughlin and Buckeye teams are a credit to the community and to the sport. The same can be repeated this season. It is to be hoped that it will be.

IT STOOD THE TEST.

Much has been said during the past year or so about decalcomania for decorating purposes, both as to its advantages and its disadvantages. Still decalcomania has been given some very rough tests, both in the local potteries, and by actual use, and upon each occasion the results that have been claimed for it are noted.

Some rapid strides are being made in this particular branch of decorating in the potteries of this city, but the manufacturers have not had much to do with this particular part. It is the maker of the decalcomania. More girls are being employed in the decalcomania decorating than ever before, and they are said to be receiving good wages. The manufacturer has been enabled to place decorations upon his ware by the use of decalcomania, that in the past had been impossible. A greater variety of decorations have been obtained, and upon a larger scale. All these things tend to increase the sales of ware, and this done, workmen receive the benefit.

GETTING BUSY AGAIN.

During the past few days more has been heard about the formation of a pottery syndicate. Some of the promoters in this line have been getting busy, it seems, and many reports are now being heard upon the streets. Early in the week several prominent manufacturing potters of this city went to Pittsburg, and the would-be wiseacres claimed syndicate was talked over. That may be all right, but those manufacturing potters are saying nothing regarding their trip, or the results accomplished at the meeting at Pittsburg if one was held. However, the syndicate movement is not a dead issue, and something will be sprung on the public some of these days that will make interesting reading.

A KILN READY.

Since the Cone Fire Clay company commenced to make chimney tops at the plant of the East Liverpool Sagger company, on Second street, but one presser has been employed, and it is now stated that an additional presser is to be put to work. This clearly shows that the company is securing a good trade in this line of business, all of which is to be desired. A sufficient number of chimney tops have been made to fill one kiln, and this kiln will be fired sometime next week. Nothing but tops will be fired in this kiln at that time, as they have to be burned by themselves.

TO START NEXT WEEK.

Announcement was made this morning by the management of the East End plant of the American Sewer Pipe works that the factory, which has been idle for several weeks on account of making needed repairs, would resume operations next week. Some of the changes have been completed, but other improvements remain to be made. Many workmen are employed at the plant making these changes, and the plant, if possible, will be started next Monday morning.

THEY WILL BE READY.

At a meeting of Kilndrawers' local, which will be held tomorrow evening in Brotherhood hall, the final arrangements for the Labor Day demonstration will be completed as far as that local is concerned. It is now known how many kilndrawers will be in line, up to date, but this number may be increased before the start of he parade. Some other important business matters are also to be considered at the meeting tomorrow evening.

NEW SANITARY SHOP.

It is now an assured fact that a new sanitary shop is to be established at Evansville. The company has been formed and it is rumored about this city that a mouldmaker of note has been secured, and that he will commence to make moulds for the new shop within a very short time. It is expected that workmen from this city will be engaged for the new shop, although so far as known, no attempt has been made to get hold of any yet.

HE HAS RHEUMATISM.

Joe Jackson, a popular saggermaker at Laughlin No. 3, who recently returned to work after taking a weeks' vacation for his health, is again off duty, this time on account of a severe attack of rheumatism. His right arm is affected, and he can hardly raise it as high as his elbow. His place is being filled by a saggermaker from the shop at plant No. 2.

IS ALMOST COMPLETED.

Workmen are now engaged in placing the roof on the new addition which is being built to replace the old end at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery, and it will be but a few days until the addition will be ready for use. Brick layers are now engaged in repairing all the kilns in this part of the factory, but this task will not be completed for several days.

NEXT MONDAY.

J. T. Smith, of the Smith-Phillips China company, announced yesterday that the new kiln which has been in course of erection at their plant in the East End for several weeks, would not be ready to be used until next week. It was expected that this kiln would be fired last Wednesday, but at a late hour it was found that this could not be done.

A NEW WATER MAIN.

The water works department is engaged in laying a new water main, or rather an extension of one, from Laughlin No. 2, to the end of the East End plant of the American sewer pipe works. This main is being laid along the railroad switch between the two plants, and can be used for fire protection at either factory.

GOES WITH A SHOW.

Roland Burson, who went to Lisbon from Rogers to work for the Thomas China company, became infatuated with Sun Brothers' show and agreed to join their band and go with it.

Burson was a member of the Pottery band and is a good cornet player. He held a good job in the pottery.

Two Ridge Presbyterian Congregation Celebrating Its 100th Anniversary.

Steubenville, O., Aug. 22.—Two Ridge Presbyterian Church, one of the most influential and oldest church organizations in Eastern Ohio is celebrating its centennial today. When it was first established it was known as "Cedar Lick Run." It was organized in 1802 by Rev. James Snodgrass, a pioneer minister hereabouts who had much to do with the organization of many of the early churches in Eastern Ohio. He advanced into what was then the wilderness with naught but the word of God for a light to the pioneers' feet.

In its day the church has had seventen pastors, men who were earnest Christian workers and profound pulpit speakers from the Calvinistic standpoint.

It has had three church buildings to date, the first a log building; the second a hewed log building and the third the present commodious frame building.

When the church was established it had 23 members. The first house of worship was erected in the year 1816, up to which time the people met for worship in various places, private dwellings, school houses, and often in the woods. Rev. James Snodgrass after having served two years was succeeded by Rev. William McMillan, who continued pastor of this church and the Yellow Creek church (now Bacon Ridge) for six years.

Succeeding pastors have been: Revs. Thomas Hunt,1919; Joseph Kerr, Wm. Eaton, 1844; David R. Campbell, 1853; J. B. Dickey, 1867; J. M. Lawbaugh, 1870; Israel Price, 1873; J. C. McCracken, 1879; Samuel Patterson, W. M. Whitford, Homer Sheeley and H. Webb.

REMINGTON SLAIN?

Intimation From Brother and Attorney, He May Have Been Murdered.

MISS VAN ALEN SENT FLOWERS.

Autopsy on Remains—Funeral at Williamsport, Pa.—Rev. J. W. Diggles Read Burial Service—Body Laid by Graves of Mother and Father.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 22.—It was reported last night from an authoritative source that Edward P. Remington is not satisfied that his brother Robert died by his own hand.

When it became known that he was entertaining a suspicion of foul play which originated before he left Newport with the body, an Associated Press representative called on Mr. Remington and requested a statement. He replied that he would neither deny or affirm anything relative to his brother's death except that the autopsy performed yesterday revealed that the bullet in the mouth caused death. When asked if the bullet found imbeded in the dead man's brain fitted the revolver found by his side he declared that he had nothing further to say. Asked if developments in the case could be expected, he said time alone would tell.

Mr. Remington and his attorney, Seth T. McCormick, as well as the physicians who performed the autopsy, were together in secret conference until late last night, and their action is surrounded by much mystery. They positively refused to give out any further information.

Funeral of Remington Held.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 22.—Just as the sun was setting behind the hills of beautiful Wildwood last evening the body of Robert Reading Remington, whose tragic death, caused by suicide, occurred at Newport, R. I. on Monday last, was lowered into the grave beside the mounds that mark the last resting place of his father and mother. The interment, which had been announced as private, was witnessed by a curious crowd of men and women, who had been waiting at the side of the open grave since early in the afternoon. It had been originally intended to hold the services at 3 o'clock in the chapel at Wildwood cemetery, but early in the day, after a consultation with his attorney, Mr. Edward P. Remington, a brother of the deceased, determined to hold an autopsy upon the body, and the funeral was postponed until a later hour.

Shortly after 5 o'clock last evening Rev. J. W. Diggles, curate of Christ church, read the simple service of the Episcopal church, at the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Reading, an aunt of the deceased, after which the body was borne to the hearse by Mayor John F. Laedlein, ex-Assemblyman Collins, Councilman John G. Coryl, William Emery, John T. Frederick and John K. Hays. On the casket rested a wreath of American beauty roses and lilies of the valley, tied with a wreath of white satin. The flowers were sent by Miss May Van Alen, former financee of Robert Remington.

WINONA PROSPEROUS

Best Year In Assembly's History, Report to the Stockholders.

REV. R. S. HOLMES CHOSEN.

Elected Director of College Board. Assembly Officers and Directors Selected—Grounds to Be Improved Sunday School Day Yesterday.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 22.—The annual meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Winona Assembly association was held yesterday. Officers were elected as follows:

President, Thomas Kane, Chicago; vice presidents, J. M. Studebaker, South Bend; Alexander McDonald, Cincinnati; F. W. Munson, Chicago; secretary and general manager; S. C. Dickey, Indianapolis; treasurer, H. P. Townley, Terre Haute; director of Bible conference, J. Wilbur Chapman, New York city. All the old directors were re-elected.

A report submitted showed the past year was the most prosperous in Winona's history. Another meeting will be held today, at which plans for improvements amounting to nearly $200,000 will be presented for adoption, among them plans for the Governor Mount memorial building, to cost $50,000, which shall be used as an agricultural department of Winona Agricultural and Technical Institute for Boys.

Holmes Elected a Director.

At a meeting of the college board of the latter institution yesterday General James R. Carnahan, of Indianapolis, and Rev. Richard S. Holmes, of Pittsburg, were elected directors. Forty-three scholarships were also reported as paid. The new college trade school for boys will open Sept. 16.

Yesterday was Sunday school day at the National Winona Bible conference. W. C. Pearce, of Chicago, led in the discussion on the topic throughout the day. Mrs. Lamoreaux, of Chicago, delivered an interesting address on "The Art of Primary Teaching." Rev. John Potts, of Toronto, followed. Rev. S. A. Ort, of Springfield, O., also spoke. "Guidance in Great Crises" was the topic presented in the afternoon by Rev. George Johnston A. Ross, of St. Paul's church, at Westbourne Grove, London. Rev. George Jackson, a Scottish divine, and pastor of the Methodist Tabernacle, Edinburgh, gave a farewell address. The hillside service, which attracted a crowd of 4,000 people, was conducted by Rev. James Mursell, pastor of the Upper Clapton Baptist church, London, and an intimate associate of Rev. B. F. Meyer in the Christian Endeavor movement in Europe. Rev. George R. Stewart, a well-known southern evangelist, delivered the evening sermon.

THE ARMY A DISGRACE,

Mystic, Conn., Aug. 22.—At yesterday's session of the Universal Peace union the report of Treasurer Charles P. Hastings, of Philadelphia, was read. It showed a balance of $762 in the treasury after a disbursement of $1,385 for the year. An address was made by the Countess Helen de la Gardie Nicolia, of Philadelphia. Mrs. Susan S. Fessenden, of Boston, president of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U., discussed "Women and Peace."

The other speakers were Rev. Matthew Anderson, principal of the Philadelphia Berean manual training and industrial school, and William N. Ashman, president of the Pennsylvania Peace society.

In the afternoon session Ernest Howard Crosby, of New York, spoke on "The Unmanliness of War." Mr. Crosby said that the Philippine war was wicked. He spoke of the ovation tendered to General Smith on his return home and said that even the administration disapproved of it. He said that the way for military men to get popular was to have the administration down on them and mentioned General Miles, General Smith and Admiral Schley as examples.

Spoke on Patriotism.

Walter S. Logan, of New York, the next speaker, said he believed in the sentiment, "My country, may it be right, but right or wrong, my country." His subject was "Patriotism and Peace." The speaker said he was a patriot first and foremost.

Countess Helen De La Gardie Nicolia, of Philadelphia, gave a short talk on "The Czar's Movements in Russia from Personal Observations."

Thomas G. Whipple, of East Croton, Conn., said that the United States army was a disgrace to humanity. He said that the president of the United States, who should be a man of God, is teaching his children the use of broadswords. Mr. Whipple ended his address by saying: "God will avenge the Filipinos in this country."

Dr. H. A. Gibbs, of Worcester, Mass., took for his subject, "Socialism, the basis of universal peace."

Dr. Gibbs maintained that to make war impossible and unnecessary is the duty of the working class in the impending class struggle.

I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so getting them at Larkins' Drug Store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness was overcome, the headache cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished. Dr. A. W. President So Intimated as to a Judgeship—Left on His Trip Today.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 22.—J. J. Hannahan, acting grand master, and F. W Arnold, grand secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, yesterday presented to President Roosevelt a handsome engrossed invitation to attend the eigth bi-ennial convention of the order at Chattanooga, Tenn, Sept. 8. The president indicated a desire to attend the convention if it was possible. Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, who was at Sagamore Hill when the invitation was extended, asked the president to visit Asheville, N. C., if he made the trip to Chattanooga. The president promised to do so.

Senator Pritchard also discussed the vacancy on the court of claims bench with President Roosevelt. He had heard that the place would be given to North Carolina, and came here to present a candidate. The president strongly intimated that the appointment would not go to North Carolina or Ohio.

He sails on the Sylph this morning for New Haven, Conn., where he will board his special train and begin his New England trip. The president's immediate party includes Secretary Cortelyou, Dr. Lung, the president's official physician; Assistant Secretary Barns, who will join the party at New Haven; two stenographers and two messengers.

Bartholin Again Indicted For Murder.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—The coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday over the body of Mrs. Anna Bartholin brought in a verdict recommending that her son, William Bartholin, be arrested and held as principal for her murder, and that Oscar Thompson and Edward Counselman, who are under arrest accused of complicity in the murder of Minnie Mitchell, be held to the grand jury as accessories to the crime. The jury found that Mrs. Bartholin came to her death on or about July 7, death being due to strangulation.

SQUADRON ON GUARD.

Higginson's Ships Watching For the "Enemy" to Attempt an Attack.

Rear Admiral Higginson Received Information Wednesday—An Attack Was Expected Last Night, on Account of the Rough Weather.

Rockport, Mass., Aug. 22.—On board the battleship Kearsarge, flagship of Rear Admiral Higginson, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic squadron, off Strait's Mouth.—Rear Admiral Higginson, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, while anchored at Sandy Bay harbor at Rockport, Wednesday, received information that an enemy's fleet had been sighted off the New England coast. The telegram was received on the flagship at 11:40 a. m. Immediately all was bustle and excitement and the mimic war manoeuvres scheduled for the navy of the summer of 1902 were under way. Orders were given in rapid succession, quickly followed by the blare of bugles and the setting of signal flags. From that moment the flagship Kearsarge and the other vessels of the defending fleet have been in readiness for the approach of the opposing vessels under Commander John E. Pillsbury.

When the orders to move came Wednesday the Mayflower and a torpedo boat were the first away, starting out of the north entrance of the harbor of refuge for stations off Portland. The Brooklyn and Olympia were close behind, steaming in a more easterly course. The Scorpion took her course about southeast, while the Montgomery and Leyden also went to the southeast.

The Kearsarge, Massachusetts, Alabama and Gloucester took a general station about five miles off Thatcher's light. The point is about midway between Portland and Provincetown.

Up to midnight the movements of the ships were not very important. The battleships passed back and forth until just before midnight, when the commander-in-chief signalled orders to come to anchor about a mile north of Thatcher's island. Directions were given to keep fires in the boilers, so that a start could be made at a moment's notice. No lights were permitted.

Twice during the first part of the night torpedo boats lightly and noiselessly steamed in and out through the fleet, but receiving no signal from the flagship, they quickly departed to their stations. Sleep was not indulged in to any extent. The admiral was on the bridge up to midnight. At 5 o'clock yesterday morning he again made his appearance on deck. A few of the scout ships came in, but reported nothing of consequence.

Aboard the flagship the regular Thursday morning duties were observed. At 9:30 general quarters were sounded and for an hour practice work was indulged in.

Not for a moment during yesterday afternoon did the battleships give up their watchfulness. Soon after the noon hour a heavy storm came on, the sky being decidedly black. In the driving rain the impression entertained by the sailors was the probability that Commander Pillsbury would strike his blow on such a night as it promised to be.

But the adverse weather made the stations of the defending squadron along the Atlantic coast line all the more active and alert. Messages came in from various points, from Portland to Provincetown, with remarkable quickness.

To Puzzle "Enemy's" Spies.

In an hour the rain had passed, but the thick weather remained, and as dusk came on a mist crept over the surface of the water. It was a dark night. The darkness was just coming on when Admiral Higginson gave the order to his battleships to weigh anchor. So hurriedly had messages been given and so many trips did the dispatch launches make between the shore and the Kearsarge that it was thought the move this time was out to sea. The admiral, however, allowed the squadron to pass but a little to the south; in fact, nearer in shore and within hailing distance of Thatcher's island. The change of anchorage was brought about for two reasons. The admiral wished to keep his ships in varying locations and to puzzle the spies of the white squadron, whom it was firmly believed were strung along the coast. Again the admiral wished to get in touch with the Strait's mouth point life saving station, where was established last night an elaborate system of ricket signalling.

As the night wore on the sky lost little of its blackness, and the fact that a constant stream of messages from the north to the south showed clearly enough that the defending squadron feared the approach of Commander Pillsbury.

Miller In Trouble Again.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Rechabites' Social—Liberty tent, No. 29, Rechabites, held a very enjoyable social in their hall on Fifth street last night. The affair was largely attended, many who are not members of the order being present. A neat sum was netted, which will go into the treasury of the organization.

Coming Wedding—Invitations are out for the wedding of William Campbell and Miss Blanche Munsey, to take place at the home of the bride on Third street September 3. The contracting parties are very well known in the city, and the ceremony will be witnessed by a large number of their friends.

Repairs Nearly Finished—The repairs on the First Presbyterian church have progressed so well that the lecture room and primary room can be used. Sunday school will be held as usual next Sunday. The carpet will be down in the auditorium and regular services resumed by the first of next month.

Entertained Their Friends—Mr. and Mrs. George Frazier, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Deidrick, entertained last evening in honor of Miss Mabel and Mrs. Clarence Frazier, of Sharon, Pa. Dancing, games and music were indulged in till a late hour, when refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Frazier returned home this morning.

SETTLEMENT OF THE STRIKE.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 22.—T. W. Hart, chairman of the Public Alliance of Wilkesbarre, issued an address to the press and public last night, in which he urges that every influence be used to bring about a settlement of the coal strike by arbitration. He says the situation is now becoming acute and threatens every business in the region.

The Warnke washery at Duryea prepared considerable coal for the market yesterday. The washery is still under heavy guard, but the strikers have made no attempt to interfere with the employes.

Doubt is expressed at strike headquarters that J. P. Morgan will use his influence with the presidents of the coal-carrying roads to bring the strike to a close, and the sub-district officers of the United Mine Workers are of the same opinion as their chief officer, John Mitchell, that the battle will have to be fought to a finish.

Lansford, Pa., Aug. 22.—The funeral of Strike Leader Patrick Sharp, who was shot and killed at Nesquehoning on Monday night, took place from his home here yesterday. The funeral was probably the largest ever witnessed in the coal region. Over 6,000 people, among whom were 1,000 women, participated in the two-mile march to St. Joseph's church, at Summit Hill, where services were held, and afterward followed the remains to the Catholic cemetery. No disturbance occurred.

Birthday Surprise.

About 30 friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Wyman, of Sixth street, surprised that gentleman at his home last night, reminding Mr. Wyman that he was 58 years of age that day, and that they were there to help him celebrate. Music and games were the principal amusements and refreshments were served at a late hour.

It's just like this: The Fall goods are coming in—will be coming in every day now, and the Spring and Summer goods are in the way. It may not look reasonable to you that we should be willing to take 50c on the dollar for the balance of our Spring and Summer goods, but it is so, nevertheless, and it's good policy to do so. 19TH YEAR. NO. 198. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1902. TWO CENTS.

A THOUSAND SPORTS STAYED UP LATE TO SEE THE FIGHT

It was Ed. Bunting, of Wellsville, who spoke. His remark brought forth the applause of the Wellsville sports who were backing him against Lawrence Lutz, the Beaver Falls boxer, who is making his headquarters in this city.

It was a bad break and only made the Wellsville man's finish the more apparent. The remark was called forth in the latter part of the second round when Lutz tapped Bunting a light one. The remark was probably true. Lutz would have been easy, if that had been his hardest. But it wasn't, as was shown when he jumped to the center in the third round and planted a right jag at a point where Bunting wears his collar.

The Wellsville youth went over like a ten pin. He rose to his feet just in time to receive another of the same kind. Before he could fall, however, Lutz landed another which sent the pride of Wellsville reeling clear across the ring. He dropped at the ring side and was counted out by Referee Jack Foley, of Youngstown, amid the wild cheers of the backers of Lutz.

Diamond alley was a busy place from 9 o'clock last evening. The managers of the Lutz-Bunting bout were having trouble in securing suitable fighting grounds. An effort had been mode to secure Rock Springs park, but the management would not agree to this. Finally a point was selected on the east of the park, in the vicinity of the reservoir.

Arrangements were made to take the crowd to a point on the Southside street cars and shortly after 11 o'clock cars were drawn up in the Diamond bringing the dancers from the park and then in the neighborhood of 1,000 sports took passage for the scene of the battle.

That was only the beginning of the trouble for the spectators. No tools were on the ground for the leveling off of a suitable ring and after numerous delays the rope was finally streched in a depression which gave a view from the rising ground on each side. This satisfied the crowd, but it was very poor ground for the combatants.

Lutz was slow in putting in an appearance and Bunting's backers made a pretense of claiming the forfeitmoney when the midnight hour was passed, on the grounds that the fight was to take place on the 21st. This matter was dropped and then Lutz attempted to claim the forfeit for the reason that Bunting was over weight. Lutz weighed 135 1-4 pounds and Bunting was about 10 pounds heavier.

After the patience of the crowd had been taxed considerably the men consented to go on. Jack Foley was selected as referee and while this matter was being settled a large number of side bets were made. George Webb officiated as time keeper. The Wellsville people were backing their man, and were finding takers for all they could put up. It is estimated that $500 changed hands at the ring side.

Bunting won the toss and chose the northeast corner, which gave him the advantage on the uneven ground. At the call of time, 2:23 a. m., both men jumped eagerly to the center of the ring and sparred for an opening. Lutz finally led for the face with his left, and Bunting countered with his right to the ribs. This exchange was repeated several times during the first round, which ended with honors even.

Bunting seemed to be more confident in the second, and led several times for the body. Lutz, in attempting to escape one of these blows, slipped and fell to his knee and the Bunting crowd yelled. The Wellsville man then received a light tap on the neck, and he smiled and made the remark quoted at the opening of this report.

Lutz told the men in his corner that he would finish Bunting in the third, and he was not long in going about it. Bunting attempted to rush matters and received a jolt from Lutz's right in the neck. He went down in his own corner, but was up again in an instant. He appeared dazed from the blow, and was quickly floored by another in the neck. This blow sent him reeling across the ring, and he fell at the feet of the spectators and was counted out.

The defeated man recovered shortly after the decision had been given and was assisted to his corner by his backers. Neither of the boys showed much punishment. The crowd arrived in this city on six street cars which had been held for them, at 3 o'clock this morning.

MAKES COMPLAINT

A Warrant Is Sworn Out for the Arrest of the Husband.

Mrs. Mae Smith, the wife of Charles Smith, formerly a mail carrier of the city, appeared at the office of Mayor Davidson this morning and related a story of grievances which were enough to set any ordinary woman on the verge of hysterics.

Mrs. Smith stated that her husband refused to support her and that he did everything in his power to prevent her earning her own living. She stated that last evening her husband appeared at her home, located between Sixth and Seventh streets, in a drunken condition.

According to the story told the mayor by the wife, Smith was not choice in the language he used both to her and the few boarders which she has. She finally swore out a warrant, charging Smith with drunkenness and disorderly conduct and the use of abusive language.

The warrant was issued and Smith will probably be arrested today. This is not the first time the husband has been accused of mistreating his family and, it is said it was his intemperate habits that caused his dismissal from the local mail carrier force. The neighbors in the vicinity of the home of the wife state that they will testify to his disorderly conduct.

BOARD ORGANIZED

At the Township Line picnic, which was held at McIntosh's grove yesterday, a meeting of the deputy state supervisors of election was held and every member was present with the exception of James N. Hanley, of this city, who had been clerk of the board for a number of years. He was absent on business. All the members of the old board were present, and in the place of Mr. Hanley, Mr. Beacom acted as clerk.

There was not much business for the members to transact, other than to reorganize, and this was done by the election of George S. Walton, of Salem, Democrat, as permanent clerk. To the office of chief deputy, J. A. Martin, Republican, of Lisbon, was elected.

The next meeting of the board will be held at Lisbon September 6.

MARSHALL-KNOWLES

Wedding of Much Local Interest to Be Quietly Celebrated Next Week.

Invitations have been issued announcing the marriage of Homer Knowles and Miss Alma Marshall, which is to take place Wednesday, August 27, at high noon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Marshall, of the Southside.

Owing to a recent death in the Knowles family the affair will be robbed of much of its intended splendor, and only the families and intimate friends of the young people will be present.

HUCKLE'S BAD FIX

William Huckle, well known in East Liverpool through his attempt to lead a crusade on behalf of good government in this city some seven years ago, has got into bad repute in New Jersey. Just now he is reported busily engaged in dodging the officers of that state in an endeavor to keep himself out of prison for blackmail. A special from Newark, N. J., tells the story, sating that Huckle and a woman named Gaddis have been at work in various sections of that state. The evangelist is reported to have had a difficulty with a German woman and as a result to have received a beating while the woman who was with him lost some of her jewelry.

For several weeks the dispatch says Huckle was on very friendly terms with Newark liquor dealers. It is charged that he agreed not to molest them for Sunday selling if they assisted him financially. He had one man arrested but withdrew the charge before the payment of fine and costs, $5.40.

It is claimed he wanted to raise $40 a short time ago, after having been disappointed in the proceeds of a lecture he delivered in Newark, and made demands on officers of the liquor dealers' association. He was paid $20 in the saloon of Secretary Hayes of the association, in marked bills, and his arrest followed. He was locked up, but released after five hours, it being discovered that no warrant had been issued or formal complaint made.

Next a complaint charging black mail and false pretense was drawn up and a warrant issued for Huckle's arrest.

The special says that complaints which were entered by Huckle against two saloon men were withdrawn after $5.40 had been paid to the justice and to Huckle. The liquor dealers' association passed a resolution warmly denouncing Huckle.

Huckle left Newark and failed to appear when 14 complaints brought by him as agent of the anti-saloon league, charging Sunday selling, were to be tried. This, it is said, is the first time he has failed to appear on such an occasion. There are a number of other complaints for a hearing on the 24th, but Huckle is not expected to appear. He is the complainant in 15 cases in New Brunswick, N. J., which are now likely never to be heard.

WOMEN ARE OUT UPON A STRIKE

THEIR LOCAL TAKES ACTION

Claim That They Are Entitled to Extra Pay for Certain Class of Work. Matters Brought to an Issue Last Night.

The women employed in the glost warehouse at the Goodwin Pottery company plant are out on a strike. The girls were ordered out at the regular meeting of the Warehousewomen's local last evening. The trouble has been brewing for some time.

The women claim that they have the dressing of the kilns by the piece, and that they are entitled to extra days the same as the glost kilnmen when extra pin ware is placed in the kiln.

The matter was reported to the Brotherhood officials and they were unable to reach an agreement with the members of the Goodwin firm. At a special meeting last Saturday evening a committee was appointed from the warehousewomen's local to meet with the members of the firm, but they could not secure an audience, they say.

The action of the women last evening will have the effect of bringing matters to an issue. It is the custom at other plants to give the girls additional pay for additional pin ware in the kilns.

BOYS FOUND BEGGING

East Liverpool Youths Who Ran Away Stranded at Irondale.

The police authorities receivede notice this morning of the appearance at Irondale of four youths who hail from East Liverpool. The boys were of tender years and they were begging their breakfast.

It was thought they had left home without the consent of their parents and notice was sent here of their whereabouts. The boys said they were on their way to Salineville.

Hospital Lots Sold.

Two of the hospital lots were sold this morning, and the indications are that all will be disposed of in a short time by some one of the real estate men interested. The prices have been fixed at a figure that will enable anyone desiring an investment to make something. The lots are well located and the prices are reasonable.

THE NASH CODE AGAIN CHANGED

Under It Towns of 5,000 Population Will Become Cities.

It Is Said the Solicitor General Will Resign to Run for That Office—Sunday Scholl Association Officers' Tour of Ohio.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 22.—Governor Nash made several amendments to his code bill yesterday, one of them being the changing of the dividing line between cities from 10,000 to 5,000. Five thousand seems to be the popular mark. It is also reported the governor has stricken out from the code all that part relating to registration, boards of equalization, assessment of property and the election laws. In line with the suggestion of Justice Shauck, it is said the governor will recommend in his message to the legislature that three bi-partisan commissions be appointed to draft school and election laws and to formulate a salary bill for county officers. Representative Pollock, of Stark county, was in the city yesterday and stated that he favored the passage of a school code and all other matters which need attention at the special session. He is a candidate to succeed Senator George H. Wilhelm. He was the labor representative on the floor of the house both in the recent session and the preceding one.

Hon. Clement L. Brumbaugh, of Darke county, leader of the minority in the house, today issued a signed statement in which he expressed approval of the Nash code. He believes it to be drawn in the interest of the whole state, says it should and will pass and promises to do all in his power to bring this about. He declares politics should not enter into its consideration.

Statistics prepared in the office of the secretary of state for the year ending June 30 show that 13,504 prisoners were confined in the county jails, a decrease of 273 compared with the preceding year. Of these 8,638 were born in Ohio; 3,143 in other states; 443 in Germany; 365 in Ireland; the total foreign born being 1,725. The prisoners under age numbered 1,926. It cost $115,361.87 to keep them, about $15,000 less than for the year before.

The Ohio Sunday School association this week began in inspiritional tour which will include visits to all the county Sunday school associations in the state. The officials hope to attend all the county gatherings and will make tours in the fall and spring. This is the initial trip. The adoption of the plan was largely through the efforts of Rev. J. A. Platts, now pastor of a Presbyterian church in Allegheny, who was formerly secretary of the East Liverpool Y. M. C. A. Rev. F. F. Fitch, of Tontogany, has succeeded him on the state association. The date for visiting Columbiana county has not yet been announced.

The cause assigned for the prospective resignation of Hon. J. K. Richards, solicitor general general of the United States, is that he intends to return to Ohio and be a candidate for governor. This statement is made on the authority of Richards' father-in-law, of Ironton. It is denied that he intends to form a law parnership with Abner McKinley.

Captain A. W. Stiles, superintendent of the Girls' Industrial Home, who was charged with treating the inmates inhumanely, has tendered his resignation, to take effect October 1.

A traveling library of 27 volumes has been sent from the state library to the Thursday Reading club, of Leetonia, of which Mabel B. Harper is librarian.

President Nice Will Try to Get It Together And Down to Business.

President Nice, of the finance committee, has called a meeting of that body for Monday afternoon at 2:30.

There are a number of matters which the committee should have considered some time ago, but it has been impossible to get the body together.

A member of the finance committee stated this morning that, while the city had very little money to look after at present, there were other duties requiring its attention almost constantly. "We might just as well have no finance committee," said he, "if we don't get down to business and do something. The committee has done nothing aside from fixing the tax levy, and we had a hard time interesting a sufficient number of members to do that. There is not a more important department in the entire city government, and it should be looked after more promptly."

Harry B. McConnell, editor of the Cadiz Republican, was in the city yesterday. Mr. McConnell is about to become the owner of the Republican, which is one of the most prominent of the weekly publications of the state. He is a young man and has been engaged in the newspaper business for a number of years in Harrison county. Mr. McConnell said in speaking of Cadiz:

"We have four banks and two of them have over $1,000,000 on deposit in each. There are two gas companies supplying the town, and the population is about 2,000. For its size, Cadiz is certainly more advanced than East Liverpool.

VIOLENTLY INSANE

A Wellsville Man Who Is to Have a Hearing Before Judge Boone.

Lisbon, August 22. — (Special) — Amos Russell, of Wellsville, who is violently insane, will be brought before Judge Boone this afternoon for examination.

Local Reorganized.

President A. S. Hughes, of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, went to Tiltonville yesterday afternoon, where he last evening reorganized local No. 14. This local has been dead for some time, but now that the shop has been started under new management and is running full the old local was reorganized. The local starts off with a good membership.

Pittsburgers Wedded Here.

John J. Lutz and Miss Olive C. Frommeyer, both of Pittsburg, came to this city this week and for several days have been visiting at the home of friends. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon they appeared at 'Squire Rose's and were made man and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Lutz will leave for their home in Pittsburg this evening. He is proprietor of a billiard room in that city.

WILL CONTEST IS INSTITUTED

GROUNDS OF COMPLAINT

Charging that their sister, Mrs. Eliza Ella Rees, of Trenton, had exerted undue influence upon her father, George H. Slack, in securing a conveyance of his property in Trenton, George W. Slack, of Trenton, N. J., and Robert M. Slack, superintendent of the decorating department of the D. E. McNicol pottery of this city, at Trenton Wednesday began suit in the court of chancery to have the conveyance set aside.

The suit brought by the two brothers against their sister, according to the facts alleged in the bill of complaint, was the outcome of a continued effort on the part of Mrs. Rees to have herself made the sole heir of her parents, with whom she formerly lived on Bayard street, Trenton.

The father, George H. Slack, died last week, surviving his wife, Mrs. Sarah C. Slack, but six days. For more than four years prior to his death, according to the bill, Mr. Slack was in ill health, being easily excitable, exceedingly nervous and rendered mentally irresponsible by reason of his health.

For several months prior to his death, Mr. Slack, who was 68 years old, was unable to care for himself, and it is alleged that for several weeks before the end came his daughter, Mrs. Rees, sought to influence him to dispose of the property so that she would be the sole beneficiary, instead of sharing the estate with her brothers, as the heirs at law, should her father die intestate.

It is narrated in the bill that a few months before her father died Mrs. Rees visited his home on Bayard street when her mother was ill. Upon Mr. Slack learning that his daughter had procured a will from her mother by which she would be sole beneficiary in the event of his dying before his wife, it is alleged that he ordered his daughter from the house.

It is further charged that in the month of June Mrs. Rees, without the knowledge of her brother, George W. Slack, caused her father and mother to be removed from their home on Bayard street to her home at 278 Bellevue avenue. One week later, it is alleged, Mrs. Rees sought to have her mother committed to the state hospital above Trenton as a county or pauper patient, despite the fact that Mr. Slack, Sr., was well able to provide for his wife. This, it is charged, was in furtherance of her scheme to possess herself of all the estate of her parents.

George W. Slack, learning from his father of the attempt to have his mother so committed, protested, but consented to her confinement as a paid patient.

A week ago last Sunday, the day before Mrs. Slack was buried, Mr. Slack called his son to him and, referring to the death of their mother and the near approach of his own death, said:

"Robert, whatever happens to me, now that your mother is dead, I want to tell you that I intend that you three children shall get an equal share when I am gone."

The next day the senior Mr. Slack was taken violently ill at the home of his daughter, and it is alleged that his daughter procured the services of Henry D. Phillips, a lawyer, directing him to draw a deed conveying to her all the real estate owned by her father. The deed, it is set forth, was executed late that night, the expressed consideration being "one dollar and affection." It is charged that Mr. Slack was not of sound mind when he signed the conveyance and that his signature was procured by fraud and misrepresentation on the part of his daughter.

It is declared in the bill that in her efforts to influence her dying father, Mrs. Rees told him that his sons had defrauded him; that his son George had taken advantage of him in his business, and that they had refused

EAST LIVERPOOL'S WHIRLWIND START

Bauman, the Crack Pitcher for the Visitors, Failed to Fool the Locals. Maley Pitched a Fine Game—Score, 9 to 1.

His name is Bauman, or he may spell it Bowman under certain conditions. It is safe to say that he would like to have it used in the manner he is not so well known by. When he isn't doing anything else he occupies the rubber for the crack—this is used on the authority of almost any of the Pittsburg papers—Homestead base ball team. Something must have been radically wrong yesterday afternoon. The young man who gave the appearance at the beginning of the game of being too valuable to even lose any of his energy in stooping to pick up a ball was unable to tell just exactly which state he was in after the locals came to bat in the first inning.

It was some time before the pitcher, who is claimed to be the best in western Pennsylvania—according to the papers above referred to—was able to find the plate. As soon as he was able to do this the members of the local team had fathomed his curves and found the ball about as often as he found the plate.

Seven runs and five hits were all that were rapped out and brought in before there was even a single out, and the crowd was in its glory. And there was a good crowd in attendance and not slow to tell the visitors what they thought of their playing. Even after Bauman settled down his support was very bad and he could not have been blamed if he had gone up in the air; but he didn't, and after the first inning it was a good game with the exception of several punky plays on the part of the visitors.

Oh, Yes

You wish you had ordered a case of Beer, Ale or Porter for today, but you didn't. It isn't our fault; we had plenty of it ready to deliver at your order. Don't get caught napping again. A postal card or the 'phones do the work.

and let Homestead down with four hits. The only score made by the visitors was in the third inning. Davis erred on McCloskey's grounder and the latter stole second and scored on a two-base hit by Nagle. Before and after that it was almost one, two, three order, as Maley was given the best of support throughout the game.

The slaughter of the innocents began with Maag, the first man up for the locals. He rapped out a pretty single. Maag then beat out the ball in an attempt to force him at second when Godwin hit to the pitcher. Brown was hit by a pitched ball and the bases were filled. Davis also managed to get in front of the ball and the first run was forced in. "Foxy Grandpa" then made good with a long single and Godwin and Brown scored.

Reark was not to be outdone and landed for two bases and two more runs were added. Reark then scored on Webb's single and the latter stole second and third just to get Bauman in a good humor. Webb scored on a two-bagger by Emmerling and the run getting was over for that inning. Maley and Maag struck out and Godwin was thrown out at first.

Bauman then settled down and the locals did not score again until the seventh inning, when with two out Reark went to first on an error by the shortstop. Webb then hit a high fly which all the Homestead players seemed to want, with the usual result that no one got it and Reark scored.

Let's see. It now stands, Homestead 2, East Liverpool 2. That's not so bad when the visitors took two straight from Atlantic City.

Newspaper base ball and the kind that is played on the diamond are not the same.

Fred Brown, of Beaver Falls, who has done good work on the Rochester team, was in left for the locals and gave a good account of himself. He picked off a nice long fly that would have been good for at least two bases.

Maag was in the game again and put up his usual first-class playing. He prevented Emmerling from scoring in the third inning, however, when he cut first and was called out after making a clean single.

Marshall appeared to be the especial kick of the kidders, but he was able to take it good naturedly.

Bauman would be more thought of if he would forget that the grand stand was on the field. The locals almost made him wish it was, in the first inning.

Finch umpired a good game and it was very few times that his decision was questioned by the fans.

Maley was in the best of condition

Maag's error was made on a throw to first after making a difficult stop.

Winters will be in the box this afternoon and he is expected to follow Maley's example.

Steubenville, August 22.—Mrs. Tennie C. Kibbler is plaintiff in a suit for $5,000 damages against Mrs. Mollie Kelly, wife of Landlord Kelly, of the Anderson hotel. Mrs. Kibbler worked at the hotel. Last Saturday she wanted to take her trunk away, when there was objection and a fight followed. Mrs. Kibbler was struck over the arm with a club and terribly beaten. With her bruises undressed she went to the mayor's office and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Kelly. Later the hotel proprietress was taken before the mayor and bound over to court in the sum of $200.

Two hours later Mrs. Kelly had Mrs. Kibbler arrested in 'Squire Love's court for various charges, including disorderly conduct. She was kept in jail until Sunday morning, when she was released.

Mrs. Kibbler, through Attorney Medill, filed a claim for damages against Mrs. Kelly.

ROBERT L WON

East End Horses Conspicuous In the Races Run Near East Palestine.

Much interest is manifested in the East End over the races which are being run at the Petersburg track, near East Palestine, and in which several horses from the Columbian park track have been entered. In the 2:20 race at this track yesterday afternoon, Robert L., owned by William Larkins, of this city, won the event, his time being quoted at 2:22. In another race the horse, Dr. Morris was entered, and reports received in the East End last evening give that event to him, making two races won by horses from the East End.

Robert L. was driven by William Humble of this city. The races will close this afternoon, and the three horses from the East End who are now at the Petersburg track, are expected to arrive in the East End tomorrow.

To Build Temporary Stalls.

The contract for the erection of a large number of stalls at the Columbian park race track to be used during the Tri-State fair which will be held there in October was let yesterday, but the work of building them will not commence for several weeks yet. On one side of the track there will be 38 stalls, while in another part of the park about 77 will be built. The stalls will have a canvas top cover, and will be more of the skeleton order, unlike those now at the park. They will be used for a week only.

Widening the Road.

The work of filling in the river bank at the power house, for the purpose of widening the road, will be finished within a week. It will take about this time to complete the excavating for the new plant to be erected by the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company, and all the filling-in is the earth taken from the excavating. When this task is completed, the street railway company may straighten its tracks at this point and enlarge its switching capacity at the car barn.

No Word From Steubenville.

Members of street railway employes division No. 52 are wondering why they have received no work from the officers of the new local at Steubenville relative to the settlement of the recent dispute between the company and the men, if the disqute has been adjusted. The local street railway men claim they did so much for the new local, assisting in organization, it was as little as they could do to send some word as to how they were progressing.

O. U. A. M. Meeting.

Those candidates who were to be initiated by Ohio Valley council No. 25, O. U. A. M., last evening, failed to appear to go through the work. Several applications for membership were presented and the meeting was a very interesting one. The committee revising the by-laws made a report, but its work is not yet completed.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Ned Mowen left yesterday for Deerfield to visit old friends.

LAMB GAVE TESTIMONY.

Bourke Cockran, He Alleged, Was One Plaintiff In Merger Suit.

New York, Aug. 22.—Lawyer George Alfred Lamb, attorney for Peter Power, went on the stand yesterday and told all he knew about the Northern Pacific merger suit. He named the men who, with Power as plaintiff and Captain Henry Stern as go-between, he said, had hoped to conceal their connection with the litigation and keep their identity hidden. Those he named were: W. Bourke Cockran, Camille Weidenfeld, H. Tonent & Co. and Edwin R. Thomas, of the firm of Thomas & Post, Wall street bankers and brokers.

The story of Power's wandering came out and a plan to send him to Europe was revealed, as was his quasi connection with the suit at issue. Lamb said that he was practically forced by the people back of him to send Power away and that they paid the expenses of his trip to West Hurley and to Montreal.

W. Bourke Cockran, in an interview last night, characterized all the testimony relating to him as false in every detail.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Michigan City, Ind., Aug. 21.—The thirty-sixth biennial convention of the Evangelical Lutheran joint synod of Ohio and other states, an organization that embraces all the states of the union, began in this city yesterday and will end Aug. 27. Three hundred delegates are in attendance. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. C. H. Schutte, D. D., of Columbus, O., president of the synod. The convention considered the affairs of the eleemosnary institutions and the board of aid, the latter for the support of needy pastors and teachers.

The synod owns and supports the Capital University and Seminary, of Columbus, O.; the Lutheran seminary at St. Paul, Minn.; Teachers' seminary at Woodville, O.; the Preparatory school at Hickory, N. C.; the Wernie Orphans' home at Richmond, Ind., and is at present erecting an Old Folks' home at Mars, Pa. The synod passed a resolution providing that pastors and teachers shall contribute 1 per cent of their salaries to the board of aid, and that the congregations shall be asked for annual offerings for the use of the board.

Tomorrow morning we start another of our great sales and the wise ones will be here early. We're going to close out all the broken lots from our last sale together with all goods that we don't want to carry over until next season, at cut prices. Too many items to quote prices on, but you'll find them all on display in the store with Red Tickets showing the reduced price.

NOTE: We have engaged many extra clerks for this occasion but we would deem it a favor for those who can, to come in the morning as a "LEADER SALE" always means crowds especially in the afternoon and evening.

SPECULATIVE LIQUIDATION.

Active In Yesterday's Stock Market. Selling Movement Urgent at Close.

New York, Aug. 22.—Active speculative liquidation became manifest in yesterday's stock market and at the close the selling movement was urgent and somewhat precipitated. During the earlier part of the day some stand was made against the tendency to depression, and a few stocks were pushed up at different times as sustaining influence on the market, but the selling to realize elsewhere in the market was steadily going on all the time. With the exception of Texas and Pacific and Ontario and Western the other demonstrations of strength were in minor railroad and industrial stocks. The acute weakness of Colorado Fuel, which carried it down in the slate dealings 8 points, was also an unsettling influence upon the whole market. The failure of the speculative operator who has led the advance in the stock to obtain control of the property has resulted in heavy speculative liquidation.

Extravagant as were the expectations as to the promptitude and extent of the measures which Mr. Morgan would take to improve the situation, there was some disappointment yesterday morning over the delay. The hope seemed to be that Mr. Morgan's hurried visit to his office immediately upon landing from the steamer would result in the settlement offhand of all the various problems which have accumulated during his absence of several months.

Wednesday's professed confidence in the abundance of funds for speculative purposes was changed yesterday. The engagement Wednesday night of $100,000 by telegraphic transfer through the sub-treasury to Cincinnati came too late for effect upon the stock market. That shipment was supplemented yesterday by another one of $100,000 to New Orleans, and the fear was awakened that the interior movement of currency has fairly set in.

The effort which is being made in certain quarters to enable the Democrats to pool issues of the labor unions of the Eighteenth district and secure the support of the latter for a Democratic candidate for congress has not received the approval of the Trades and Labor council of this city and it is altogether unlikely that it will do so. The labor unions of East Liverpool are largely made up of Republicans. They recognize the fact that the workingmen of this district owe none of their prosperity to the Democrats and a great deal to the Republicans. They are intelligent men and will not support a party that is hostile to the protective tariff and the workingmen's interests. The Democratic scheme is foredoomed to failure. Commenting on it the Youngstown Telegram has the following, which represents the labor sentiment of East Liverpool as well as it does that of Youngstown: "The Democratic party of the Eighteenth district, being too cowardly to make a fight in the open on issues of the day, is trying to persuade union labor to draw Democratic chestnuts from the fire. It is well that the scheme is known at this early date, for publicity is certain to destroy the schemes of these cheap politicians. The workingmen of Youngstown and the Eighteenth district will not be fooled by this Democratic dodge. The Republican party has been true to them."

The legislature is almost ready to meet to discuss code legislation. So far East Liverpool has made no formal declaration of what she considers desirable in the way of laws under which the city is to be governed. Most people appear to be satisfied that the legislature, with the Nash bill as a guide, will enact a wise and proper measure. Senator Connell's offer to meet and confer with citizens, learn their wishes and try to carry them out, has not been accepted, and it is now so late that it is unlikely any concerted movement of the sort will be made. Still it is not too late for citizens who have ideas on the subject to formulate them and present them in writing to the senator. Mr. Connell, although a young and new member of the senate, has already won his way to prominence among the Ohio lawmakers and is an influential figure in the general assembly. Governor Nash has already enlisted his aid in drafting the proposed code, and it is conceded that Mr. Connell will take a prominent and active part in the legislation to be enacted. East Liverpool people, therefore, can feel assured that their ideas and wishes regarding the code will receive due consideration, if presented to the senator.

The death of General Franz Sigel removes another of the conspicuous figures of the civil war. He was a strong and able man and one of the most popular of the union commanders.

OBITUARY

Robert W. Billingsley.

Lisbon, August 22. — (Special) — Robert W. Billingsley, eldest son of Judge N. G. Billingsley, died this morning at Riverside hospital here. He had been ill since Monday night, but had been regarded as seriously ill since yesterday noon, when he was found to have appendicitis. He was removed from the Hostetter house, where the family lives, to the hospital, and Dr. Allen, a noted surgeon of Cleveland, and a an assistant were summoned. An operation was performed last evening and the patient was found suffering also from peritonitis. He did not rally after the operation. He was about 22 years old and a most popular young man. His is the first death in the Young Men's lyceum, organized six years ago. On Wednesday last he was appointed superintendent of the local office of the Pittsburg, Lisbon & Western railroad, to take effect September 1.

George Havelock.

George Havelock, aged 60, who has been a night watchman in the Wellsville rolling mill for some time past, died at noon Wednesday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Alexander. Mr. Havelock resided on Hill street in Wellsville and about two weeks ago went to Knoxville, a suburb of Pittsburg, to visit. He was taken suddenly ill and died after being sick only a few days. He leaves a wife and five children, three of which are boys. Funeral services were held in Knoxville today.

George C. Baxter.

The funeral of George C. Baxter took place this morning from his late home in Middle Run. Interment was made at the Flats cemetery, a Wellsville minister officiating. Mrs. Elson, of Magnolia, a sister of the dead man, came to Chester last evening to attend the funeral. Mr. Baxter was a pioneer resident of Hancock county, and was one of the best known and most prosperous farmers of Grant district.

SAGE CONDEMNS TRUSTS.

Financier Declared They Are a Menace to True Government.

New York, Aug. 22.—Russell Sage, in an interview yesterday, referred to a published statement quoting J. Pierpont Morgan as saying that the era of the great trusts had just begun and that more gigantic corporations are stored in the near future, some of which may overshadow the steel trust. Mr. Sage said in part:

"Whether Mr. Morgan said that or not, combinations of all industries are a menace to true government. Not only so, but they are the oppressors of the people."

"What will be the result of such an era?" asked the reporter.

"In such an event the American people will revolt against them, and there will be financial ruin the like of which this country has never seen—or any other."

to care for him and would not come to see him in his last hours.

The truth, on the other hand, is charged in the bill to be that Mrs. Rees concealed from her brothers the critical condition of their father until she had procured the conveyance, it also being set forth that George W. Slack conducted his father's business for many years at mechanic's wages. The sons, it is said, were deprived of the privilege of caring for their father by the surreptitious act of Mrs. Rees in conveying their parents to her home without their knowledge or consent.

On these grounds it is asked that Mrs. Rees and her husband, Albert Rees, be required to make answer to the bill of complaint and that the deed be set aside as having been obtained through fraud.

PICKED UP A DOG

In Return Jack Parker Was Picked Up And Landed in Jail.

John Parker, who resides just east of this city, was arrested last evening by Chief Thorn and lodged in jail charged with attempting to steal a valuable dog.

It seems that John had become a little enthusiastic over the prize fight and had partaken of an overdose of whisky. He espied a very pretty fox terrier which he thought he would like to possess. Gathering it up in his arms he started towards the depot.

Chief Thorn noticing the man's actions at once placed him under arrest and freed the dog. Upon investigation it was found that the dog belonged to Bert Askins, who is at present visiting at the home of William Davidson on Main street. The dog was secured by its owner a few hours after the incident. Parker will be given a hearing some time today.

COUNCIL MEETING

Called for This Evening to Dispose of Unfinished Business.

A call for a special meeting of council to be held this evening has been issued by Mayor Fogo and Solicitor Boyd. Through the failure of council to get together last Monday this action has been made necessary. The meeting is called for the express purpose of cleaning up unfinished business.

It is expected that the matter of paving Cemetery Hill will be brought up and also that the contract will be let to Mayor Fogo and C. C. Ewing for furnishing the city with their patent flush tank feeders, which were introduced and approved by council several weeks ago. It is also stated that the question of whether Wellsville will have clean streets in the future or not will be brought up and some definite action taken in this important matter.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS

The Spanish-American war veterans of this city and also those who were engaged in the war with Filipinos are about to start a camp here. According to the rules of the state organization it will require 15 men to organize a camp, and in order to get that many together, both the Spanish-American and the Philippine war soldiers will have to join hands.

Officer Davis, of the local police force, is the prime mover of the project and will have the organization perfected within a week or two.

Trades and labor council last evening made additional arrangements for Labor Day. On the regular program, to be given out by the special committee after their meeting next Monday evening, there will be foot races, ladies' potato races, bicycle races, three-legged races and fat men's races. There will also be two baseball games, one between the clerks' union and the painters' union, and one between two outside professional teams. The temporary dancing pavilion to be built on the grounds will be covered in case of rain. Two bands have also been secured.

At the meeting last night the old unfair list of merchants, which, it will remembered, existed during the rolling mill strike, was declared abolished and all were placed on the fair list.

The matter of uniforms was left in the hands of each individual order. Refreshments will be plentiful. All merchants were requested to take part in the parade.

SCHWAB EN ROUTE TO EUROPE.

Sailed Yesterday—Said Departure Was Due to Need of Vacation, Not Ill Health.

New York, Aug. 22.—Charles M Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, sailed for Europe yesterday on the steamship La Lorraine. He appeared to be in good health except for the fact that he leaned heavily on a cane which he held in his right hand.

"My arrangements for my trip abroad," he said, "were made so hurriedly that until I arrive I don't know where I shall go or what I shall do You can say, however, that I have not resigned and also that I am not in bad health. The reason for my hurried departure is not because of ill health, but because I want and need a vacation like everyone else I must go away now if I want to go at all, because if I should wait much longer winter would be here and it would be too late. Business will not enter into my trip at all."

While he was talking a photographer took pictures of the young ironmaster, who did not know that he was being taken until Mr. Perkins, of J. P. Morgan & Co., who had come to bid Mr. Schwab bon voyage, began to laugh. When Mr. Schwab discovered the photographer, he laughed also, and said: "Well, you are a good one. I'll pose for you anyway." He then stepped out into the light and the camera man snapped picture after picture.

Enjoyable Hay Ride.

A hay ride was given last evening under the direction of the National club, and was a most enjoyable affair. The party was composed of 32 couples, and four wagons were used. One wagon conveyed the refreshments to the country. The party went near Fredricktown, leaving their club rooms on Washington street about 8 o'clock, and returned to the city after midnight.

LOTS OF DISCUSSION

A meeting of the Chester council which was noticeable for its lack of business was held last evening. All the members of the body with the exception of Messrs. Wells and Hough were present. Mayor Shrader presided and Solicitor O. S. Marshall was also in attendance.

When the reports of standing committees were called for another lengthy discussion in regard to the mayor's report ensued. The discussion was in regard as to whether or not the mayor's docket should be used to account for fines received by the town sergeant.

Solicitor Marshall was appealed to in the matter, and it was his opinion that it was not necessary for the mayor's docket to account for moneys not received by the mayor.

Councilman Riley brought up the question of road tax and advocated that council appoint some one to collect this tax, as nearly all the citizens refused to work them out on the roads as they were only paid $1.25 per day for their labor.

It was decided that it was not necessary for the appointment of another collector to collect this tax and the town sergeant was authorized to perform the work.

The session then adjourned.

The Ball Game Between West End and Cadiz a Very One-Sided Affair.

There was to have been a baseball game at Rock Springs yesterday afternoon between the West End Athletic club of this city and the Cadiz team, it turned out to be a farce. The score resulted in a victory for the West End team by a score of 17 to 5. Vasbinder, of Salineville, Cadiz and Cleveland, went in the box to pitch for his old home team, Cadiz, and in one inning he was batted out of the box. The game was a walkover as far as the West End players were concerned.

After the third inning Vasbinder was relieved by his brother, who also has a reputation as a pitcher. He seemed to be a better man, for only five runs were made from him. In the third inning six hits, three bases on balls and a total of nine runs were made off the local "Vasey." Score by innings:

Cadiz.....0 0 0 2 0 1 2 0 0—5

Dick Johnston, a plate jiggerman employed at the C. C. Thompson pottery, is ill at his home on Carolina avenue, Chester, suffering with a very peculiar ailment. He worked several hours yesterday when he was suddenly stricken speechless. He was taken to his home in Chester and medical aid summoned. He was still bereft of speech today, but his medical advisers say he will recover it.

Mr. Johnston was coon hunting on Wednesday night, and it is thought perhaps he contracted a cold which settled in his throat.

Opposed to Prize Fights.

Frank Rambo, on whose premises in Lawrenceville the prize fight was pulled off last night, is indignant because the Chester authorities did not stop the battle. A number of other Chester residents expressed themselves in no uncertain terms, saying they were law-abiding and would not longer tolerate such affairs.

Attended by Crowds.

Ralph Marsh, the aged resident of Middle Run, who fell from a berth on a lake steamer last week, is much improved and will be out within a few days. Mr. Marsh is a member of the East Liverpool G. A. R. and several of the members have been looking after him since the accident.

CHESTER NOTES.

E. S. Good is in New Cumberland today.

County Clerk Armour Cooper was in Chester yesterday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Weaver and family, of Sixth street, are guests of friends in Steubenville.

GEN. FRANZ SIGEL DEAD.

Noted Soldier Passed Away, After Few Days' Illness.

New York, Aug. 22.—General Franz Sigel died at his home, No. 563 Mott avenue, this city, at 11:45 o'clock yesterday. He had been ailing for two years, the result of old age and general breakdown, but it was only on Sunday last that he finally took to his bed.

Gen. Sigel was born in Baden, Nov. 18, 1824, and was graduated from the military school in Carisnihe in 1843.

He served in the German army for a time, was a distinguished officer in the Baden revolution, retreated with his army to Switzerland, later went to England and to the United States where he had a distinguished career in the Union army, served in the regular army and had a notable career in the arts of peace, after his resignation from the army.

Cholera Morbus.

This is an extremely dangerous disease. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from it, and in many instances before a physician could be summoned or medicine obtained. Mrs. E. H. Delano, of Durant, Mich., is subject to severe attacks of cholera morbus. During the past four years she has kept at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and says it has always given her quick relief. During this time she has used two bottles of it. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. The safe way is to keep it at hand ready for instant use. WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

FROM PEORIA.

The Crown pottery, located in this city, and operated by the Crown Potteries company, is running as usual, but owing to the lack of room the clay hands were compelled to loaf for a few days recently. Six biscuit kilns are being made each pay, and this is a record the kilnmen feel proud of. So far the glost kilnmen have making seven glost kilns a pay.

Ware has been collecting upon the glost ware room employes, and they expect the company to furnish more help to get it dressed. The glost kiln men, it is stated, expect to make 10 kilns a pay very soon, and they are now working up to that point. By so doing the shop will be operated to its capacity.

Walter Smith, a well known workman at this shop, who has been off with a broken hand for several weeks, has recovered from his injury and he is now able to be back at his work. His injury was a most painful one.

John Ryan, who until recently was employed at the Dresden at East Liverpool, is now working in this shop as a glost kiln hand. He came here about a week ago.

Samuel Thomas, who has been spending his vacation in California, and other western states, has returned to Peoria, and his health has been much improved by his trip. He has resumed work.

There was an article in a potters' paper in East Liverpool recently referring to Mr. L. Wolf, the efficient manager of the New Castle pottery. The potters of this shop are up in arms against the author. It is their wish that Mr. Wolf should learn that the employes were no party to the article, as the author apparently spoke only for himself.

FOOTBALL CLUBS.

Now that a good football team has been organized at the Laughlin pottery in the East End, it is to be hoped that other potteries in the city will follow suit and organize teams, as all the best foot ballists, or in fact a majority of them, are employed in the clay shops. This being the case, why not organize a football league, composed from a number of potteries in the city, and go into the game with one idea in view, that of uplifting the sport instead of degrading it, as is frequently the case when a lot of scrub teams enter the field? Organize a league with six teams in it, and play games at different intervals. The attendance will be large, and the results will be a success both from a financial and sporting point of view. The time is now ripe for such a move, and it is to be hoped that the suggestion will be carried out. Grounds are available in all parts of the city, in the East End, West End, and on the South side. Games like those played last season between the Laughlin and Buckeye teams are a credit to the community and to the sport. The same can be repeated this season. It is to be hoped that it will be.

IT STOOD THE TEST.

Much has been said during the past year or so about decalcomania for decorating purposes, both as to its advantages and its disadvantages. Still decalcomania has been given some very rough tests, both in the local potteries, and by actual use, and upon each occasion the results that have been claimed for it are noted.

Some rapid strides are being made in this particular branch of decorating in the potteries of this city, but the manufacturers have not had much to do with this particular part. It is the maker of the decalcomania. More girls are being employed in the decalcomania decorating than ever before, and they are said to be receiving good wages. The manufacturer has been enabled to place decorations upon his ware by the use of decalcomania, that in the past had been impossible. A greater variety of decorations have been obtained, and upon a larger scale. All these things tend to increase the sales of ware, and this done, workmen receive the benefit.

GETTING BUSY AGAIN.

During the past few days more has been heard about the formation of a pottery syndicate. Some of the promoters in this line have been getting busy, it seems, and many reports are now being heard upon the streets. Early in the week several prominent manufacturing potters of this city went to Pittsburg, and the would-be wiseacres claimed syndicate was talked over. That may be all right, but those manufacturing potters are saying nothing regarding their trip, or the results accomplished at the meeting at Pittsburg if one was held. However, the syndicate movement is not a dead issue, and something will be sprung on the public some of these days that will make interesting reading.

A KILN READY.

Since the Cone Fire Clay company commenced to make chimney tops at the plant of the East Liverpool Sagger company, on Second street, but one presser has been employed, and it is now stated that an additional presser is to be put to work. This clearly shows that the company is securing a good trade in this line of business, all of which is to be desired. A sufficient number of chimney tops have been made to fill one kiln, and this kiln will be fired sometime next week. Nothing but tops will be fired in this kiln at that time, as they have to be burned by themselves.

TO START NEXT WEEK.

Announcement was made this morning by the management of the East End plant of the American Sewer Pipe works that the factory, which has been idle for several weeks on account of making needed repairs, would resume operations next week. Some of the changes have been completed, but other improvements remain to be made. Many workmen are employed at the plant making these changes, and the plant, if possible, will be started next Monday morning.

THEY WILL BE READY.

At a meeting of Kilndrawers' local, which will be held tomorrow evening in Brotherhood hall, the final arrangements for the Labor Day demonstration will be completed as far as that local is concerned. It is now known how many kilndrawers will be in line, up to date, but this number may be increased before the start of he parade. Some other important business matters are also to be considered at the meeting tomorrow evening.

NEW SANITARY SHOP.

It is now an assured fact that a new sanitary shop is to be established at Evansville. The company has been formed and it is rumored about this city that a mouldmaker of note has been secured, and that he will commence to make moulds for the new shop within a very short time. It is expected that workmen from this city will be engaged for the new shop, although so far as known, no attempt has been made to get hold of any yet.

HE HAS RHEUMATISM.

Joe Jackson, a popular saggermaker at Laughlin No. 3, who recently returned to work after taking a weeks' vacation for his health, is again off duty, this time on account of a severe attack of rheumatism. His right arm is affected, and he can hardly raise it as high as his elbow. His place is being filled by a saggermaker from the shop at plant No. 2.

IS ALMOST COMPLETED.

Workmen are now engaged in placing the roof on the new addition which is being built to replace the old end at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery, and it will be but a few days until the addition will be ready for use. Brick layers are now engaged in repairing all the kilns in this part of the factory, but this task will not be completed for several days.

NEXT MONDAY.

J. T. Smith, of the Smith-Phillips China company, announced yesterday that the new kiln which has been in course of erection at their plant in the East End for several weeks, would not be ready to be used until next week. It was expected that this kiln would be fired last Wednesday, but at a late hour it was found that this could not be done.

A NEW WATER MAIN.

The water works department is engaged in laying a new water main, or rather an extension of one, from Laughlin No. 2, to the end of the East End plant of the American sewer pipe works. This main is being laid along the railroad switch between the two plants, and can be used for fire protection at either factory.

GOES WITH A SHOW.

Roland Burson, who went to Lisbon from Rogers to work for the Thomas China company, became infatuated with Sun Brothers' show and agreed to join their band and go with it.

Burson was a member of the Pottery band and is a good cornet player. He held a good job in the pottery.

Two Ridge Presbyterian Congregation Celebrating Its 100th Anniversary.

Steubenville, O., Aug. 22.—Two Ridge Presbyterian Church, one of the most influential and oldest church organizations in Eastern Ohio is celebrating its centennial today. When it was first established it was known as "Cedar Lick Run." It was organized in 1802 by Rev. James Snodgrass, a pioneer minister hereabouts who had much to do with the organization of many of the early churches in Eastern Ohio. He advanced into what was then the wilderness with naught but the word of God for a light to the pioneers' feet.

In its day the church has had seventen pastors, men who were earnest Christian workers and profound pulpit speakers from the Calvinistic standpoint.

It has had three church buildings to date, the first a log building; the second a hewed log building and the third the present commodious frame building.

When the church was established it had 23 members. The first house of worship was erected in the year 1816, up to which time the people met for worship in various places, private dwellings, school houses, and often in the woods. Rev. James Snodgrass after having served two years was succeded by Rev. William McMillan, who continued pastor of this church and the Yellow Creek church (now Bacon Ridge) for six years.

Succeeding pastors have been: Revs. Thomas Hunt, 1919; Joseph Kerr, Wm. Eaton, 1844; David R. Campbell, 1853; J. B. Dickey, 1867; J. M. Lawbaugh, 1870; Israel Price, 1873; J. C. McCracken, 1879; Samuel Patterson, W. M. Whitford, Homer Sheeley and H. Webb.

REMINGTON SLAIN?

Intimation From Brother and Attorney, He May Have Been Murdered.

MISS VAN ALEN SENT FLOWERS.

Autopsy on Remains—Funeral at Williamsport, Pa.—Rev. J. W. Diggles Read Burial Service—Body Laid by Graves of Mother and Father.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 22.—It was reported last night from an authoritative source that Edward P. Remington is not satisfied that his brother Robert died by his own hand.

When it became known that he was entertaining a suspicion of foul play which originated before he left Newport with the body, an Associated Press representative called on Mr. Remington and requested a statement. He replied that he would neither deny or affirm anything relative to his brother's death except that the autopsy performed yesterday revealed that the bullet in the mouth caused death. When asked if the bullet found imbeded in the dead man's brain fitted the revolver found by his side he declared that he had nothing further to say. Asked if developments in the case could be expected, he said time alone would tell.

Mr. Remington and his attorney, Seth T. McCormick, as well as the physicians who performed the autopsy, were together in secret conference until late last night, and their action is surrounded by much mystery. They positively refused to give out any further information.

Funeral of Remington Held.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 22.—Just as the sun was setting behind the hills of beautiful Wildwood last evening the body of Robert Reading Remington, whose tragic death, caused by suicide, occurred at Newport, R. I. on Monday last, was lowered into the grave beside the mounds that mark the last resting place of his father and mother. The interment, which had been announced as private, was witnessed by a curious crowd of men and women, who had been waiting at the side of the open grave since early in the afternoon. It had been originally intended to hold the services at 3 o'clock in the chapel at Wildwood cemetery, but early in the day after a consultation with his attorney, Mr. Edward P. Remington, a brother of the deceased, determined to hold an autopsy upon the body, and the funeral was postponed until a later hour.

Shortly after 5 o'clock last evening Rev. J. W. Diggles, curate of Christ church, read the simple service of the Episcopal church, at the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Reading, an aunt of the deceased, after which the body was borne to the hearse by Mayor John F. Laedlein, ex-Assemblyman Collins, Councilman John G. Coryl, William Emery, John T. Frederick and John K. Hays. On the casket rested a wreath of American beauty roses and lilies of the valley, tied with a wreath of white satin. The flowers were sent by Miss May Van Alen, former financee of Robert Remington.

WINONA PROSPEROUS

Best Year In Assembly's History, Report to the Stockholders.

REV. R. S. HOLMES CHOSEN.

Elected Director of College Board. Assembly Officers and Directors Selected—Grounds to Be Improved Sunday School Day Yesterday.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 22.—The annual meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Winona Assembly association was held yesterday. Officers were elected as foHows:

President, Thomas Kane, Chicago; vice presidents, J. M. Studebaker, South Bend; Alexander McDonald, Cincinnati; F. W. Munson, Chicago; secretary and general manager; S. C. Dickey, Indianapolis; treasurer, H. P. Townley, Terre Haute; director of Bible conference, J. Wilbur Chapman, New York city. All the old directors were re-elected.

A report submitted showed the past year was the most prosperous in Winona's history. Another meeting will be held today, at which plans for improvements amounting to nearly $200,000 will be presented for adoption, among them plans for the Governor Mount memorial building, to cost $50,000, which shall be used as an agricultural department of Winona Agricultural and Technical Institute for Boys.

Holmes Elected a Director.

At a meeting of the college board of the latter institution yesterday General James R. Carnahan, of Indianapolis, and Rev. Richard S. Holmes, of Pittsburg, were elected directors. Forty-three scholarships were also reported as paid. The new college trade school for boys will open Sept. 16.

Yesterday was Sunday school day at the National Winona Bible conference. W. C. Pearce, of Chicago, led in the discussion on the topic throughout the day. Mrs. Lamoreaux, of Chicago, delivered an interesting address on "The Art of Primary Teaching." Rev. John Potts, of Toronto, followed. Rev. S. A. Ort, of Springfield, O., also spoke. "Guidance in Great Crises" was the topic presented in the afternoon by Rev. George Johnston A. Ross, of St. Paul's church, at Westbourne Grove, London. Rev. George Jackson, a Scottish divine, and pastor of the Methodist Tabernacle, Edinburgh, gave a farewell address. The hillside service, which attracted a crowd of 4,000 people, was conducted by Rev. James Mursell, pastor of the Upper Clapton Baptist church, London, and an intimate associate of Rev. B. F. Meyer in the Christian Endeavor movement in Europe. Rev. George R. Stewart, a well-known southern evangelist, delivered the evening sermon.

THE ARMY A DISGRACE, It

Mystic, Conn., Aug. 22.—At yesterday's session of the Universal Peace union the report of Treasurer Charles P. Hastings, of Philadelphia, was read. It showed a balance of $762 in the treasury after a disbursement of $1,385 for the year. An address was made by the Countess Helen de la Gardie Nicolia, of Philadelphia. Mrs. Susan S. Fessenden, of Boston, president of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U., discussed "Women and Peace."

The other speakers were Rev. Matthew Anderson, principal of the Philadelphia Berean manual training and industrial school, and William N. Ashman, president of the Pennsylvania Peace society.

In the afternoon session Ernest Howard Crosby, of New York, spoke on "The Unmanliness of War." Mr. Crosby said that the Philippine war was wicked. He spoke of the ovation tendered to General Smith on his return home and said that even the administration disapproved of it. He said that the way for military men to get popular was to have the administration down on them and mentioned General Miles, General Smith and Admiral Schley as examples.

Spoke on Patriotism.

Walter S. Logan, of New York, the next speaker, said he believed in the sentiment, "My country, may it be right, but right or wrong, my country." His subject was "Patriotism and Peace." The speaker said he was a patriot first and foremost.

Countess Helen De La Gardie Nicolia, of Philadelphia, gave a short talk on "The Czar's Movements in Russia from Personal Observations."

Thomas G. Whipple, of East Croton, Conn., said that the United States army was a disgrace to humanity. He said that the president of the United States, who should be a man of God, is teaching his children the use of broadswords. Mr. Whipple ended his address by saying: "God will avenge the Filipinos in this country."

Dr. H. A. Gibbs, of Worcester, Mass., took for his subject, "Socialism, the basis of universal peace."

Dr. Gibbs maintained that to make war impossible and unnecessary is the duty of the working class in the impending class struggle.

BEYOND A DOUBT

Good Hard Facts—Told in As Few Words as Possible.

Mrs. Geo. Hall of 389 West Market street, East Liverpool, O., says: "I was bilious, my head ached hard and constantly, there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and did so getting them at Larkins' Drug Store. The result was very good indeed as the biliousness was overcome, the headache cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished. Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment I can vouch for in burns as a fine application."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

OHIO NOT TO GET IT.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 22.—J. J. Hannahan, acting grand master, and F. W Arnold, grand secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, yesterday presented to President Roosevelt a handsome engrossed invitation to attend the eigth bi-ennial convention of the order at Chattanooga, Tenn. Sept. 8. The president indicated a desire to attend the convention if it was possible. Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, who was at Sagamore Hill when the invitation was extended, asked the president to visit Asheville, N. C., if he made the trip to Chattanooga. The president promised to do so.

Senator Pritchard also discussed the vacancy on the court of claims bench with President Roosevelt. He had heard that the place would be given to North Carolina, and came here to present a candidate. The president strongly intimated that the appointment would not go to North Carolina or Ohio.

He sails on the Sylph this morning for New Haven, Conn., where he will board his special train and begin his New England trip. The president's immediate party includes Secretary Cortelyou, Dr. Lung, the president's official physician; Assistant Secretary Barns, who will join the party at New Haven; two stenographers and two messengers.

Bartholin Again Indicted For Murder.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—The coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday over the body of Mrs. Anna Bartholin brought in a verdict recommending that her son, William Bartholin, be arrested and held as principal for her murder, and that Oscar Thompson and Edward Counselman, who are under arrest accused of complicity in the murder of Minnie Mitchell, be held to the grand jury as accessories to the crime. The jury found that Mrs. Bartholin came to her death on or about July 7, death being due to strangulation.

SQUADRON ON GUARD.

Higginson's Ships Watching For the "Enemy" to Attempt an Attack.

Rear Admiral Higginson Received Information Wednesday—An Attack Was Expected Last Night, on Account of the Rough Weather.

Rockport, Mass., Aug. 22.—On board the battleship Kearsarge, flagship of Rear Admiral Higginson, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic squadron, off Strait's Mouth.—Rear Admiral Higginson, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, while anchored at Sandy Bay harbor at Rockport, Wednesday, received information that an enemy's fleet had been sighted off the New England coast. The telegram was received on the flagship at 11:40 a. m. Immediately all was bustle and excitement and the mimic war manoeuvres scheduled for the navy of the summer of 1902 were under way. Orders were given in rapid succession, quickly followed by the blare of bugles and the setting of signal flags. From that moment the flagship Kearsarge and the other vessels of the defending fleet have been in readiness for the approach of the opposing vessels under Commander John E. Pillsbury.

Movements of the Ships.

When the orders to move came Wednesday the Mayflower and a torpedo boat were the first away, starting out of the north entrance of the harbor of refuge for stations off Portland. The Brooklyn and Olympia were close behind, steaming in a more easterly course. The Scorpion took her course about southeast, while the Montgomery and Leyden also went to the southeast.

The Kearsarge, Massachusetts, Alabama and Gloucester took a general station about five miles off Thatcher's light. The point is about midway between Portland and Provincetown.

Up to midnight the movements of the ships were not very important. The battleships passed back and forth until just before midnight, when the commander-in-chief signalled orders to come to anchor about a mile north of Thatcher's island. Directions were given to keep fires in the boilers, so that a start could be made at a moment's notice. No lights were permitted.

Twice during the first part of the night torpedo boats lightly and noiselessly steamed in and out through the fleet, but receiving no signal from the flagship, they quickly departed to their stations. Sleep was not indulged in to any extent. The admiral was on the bridge up to midnight. At 5 o'clock yesterday morning he again made his appearance on deck. A few of the scout ships came in, but reported nothing of consequence.

Aboard the flagship the regular Thursday morning duties were observed. At 9:30 general quarters were sounded and for an hour practice work was indulged in.

Not for a moment during yesterday afternoon did the battleships give up their watchfulness. Soon after the noon hour a heavy storm came on, the sky being decidedly black. In the driving rain the impression entertained by the sailors was the probability that Commander Pillsbury would strike his blow on such a night as it promised to be.

But the adverse weather made the stations of the defending squadron along the Atlantic coast line all the more active and alert. Messages came in from various points, from Portland to Provincetown, with remarkable quickness.

To Puzzle "Enemy's" Spies.

In an hour the rain had passed, but the thick weather remained, and as dusk came on a mist crept over the surface of the water. It was a dark night. The darkness was just coming on when Admiral Higginson gave the order to his battleships to weigh anchor. So hurriedly had messages been given and so many trips did the dispatch launches make between the shore and the Kearsarge that it was thought the move this time was out to sea. The admiral, however, allowed the squadron to pass but a little to the south; in fact, nearer in shore and within hailing distance of Thatcher's island. The change of anchorage was brought about for two reasons. The admiral wished to keep his ships in varying locations and to puzzle the spies of the white squadron, whom it was firmly believed were strung along the coast. Again the admiral wished to get in touch with the Strait's mouth point life saving station, where was established last night an elaborate system of ricket signalling.

As the night wore on the sky lost little of its blackness, and the fact that a constant stream of messages from the north to the south showed clearly enough that the defending squadron feared the approach of Commander Pillsbury.

Miller In Trouble Again.

SETTLEMENT OF THE STRIKE.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 22.—T. W. Hart, chairman of the Public Alliance of Wilkesbarre, issued an address to the press and public last night, in which he urges that every influence be used to bring about a settlement of the coal strike by arbitration. He says the situation is now becoming acute and threatens every business in the region.

The Warnke washery at Duryea prepared considerable coal for the market yesterday. The washery is still under heavy guard, but the strikers have made no attempt to interfere with the employes.

Doubt is expressed at strike headquarters that J. P. Morgan will use his influence with the presidents of the coal-carrying roads to bring the strike to a close, and the sub-district officers of the United Mine Workers are of the same opinion as their chief officer, John Mitchell, that the battle will have to be fought to a finish.

Lansford, Pa., Aug. 22.—The funeral of Strike Leader Patrick Sharp, who was shot and killed at Nesquehoning on Monday night, took place from his home here yesterday. The funeral was probably the largest ever witnessed in the coal region. Over 6,000 people, among whom were 1,000 women, participated in the two-mile march to St. Joseph's church, at Summit Hill, where services were held, and afterward followed the remains to the Catholic cemetery. No disturbance occurred.

Birthday Surprise.

About 30 friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Wyman, of Sixth street, surprised that gentleman at his home last night, reminding Mr. Wyman that he was 58 years of age that day, and that they were there to help him celebrate. Music and games were the principal amusements and refreshments were served at a late hour.

Don't Need the Money, But Don't Need the Goods.

What's the use of telling you the same thing over and over, about our Men's $15, $18 and $20 Suits that are selling now for $11.00? And about the 50c Underwear selling for 25c, or thereabouts?

It's just like this: The Fall goods are coming in—will be coming in every day now, and the Spring and Summer goods are in the way. It may not look reasonable to you that we should be willing to take 50c on the dollar for the balance of our Spring and Summer goods, but it is so, nevertheless, and it's good policy to do so. Losses, to be sure, but a business career is not all profits—not all sunshine. Men's and Boys' Clothing, Furnishings, etc., all at about half price. Are you interested?

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Rechabites' Social—Liberty tent, No. 29, Rechabites, held a very enjoyable social in their hall on Fifth street last night. The affair was largely attended, many who are not members of the order being present. A neat sum was netted, which will go into the treasury of the organization.

Coming Wedding—Invitations are out for the wedding of William Campbell and Miss Blanche Munsey, to take place at the home of the bride on Third street September 3. The contracting parties are very well known in the city, and the ceremony will be witnessed by a large number of their friends.

Repairs Nearly Finished—The repairs on the First Presbyterian church have progressed so well that the lecture room and primary room can be used. Sunday school will be held as usual next Sunday. The carpet will be down in the auditorium and regular services resumed by the first of next month.

Entertained Their Friends—Mr. and Mrs. George Frazier, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Deidrick, entertained last evening in honor of Miss Mabel and Mrs. Clarence Frazier, of Sharon, Pa. Dancing, games and music were indulged in till a late hour, when refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Frazier returned home this morning.
